even a bell—ringing and bringing chaos
 are all the face of KHS.
 They are the first glimpse.
 They are its silhouette,
 its package wrappings.
 Beyond these things is the real story.

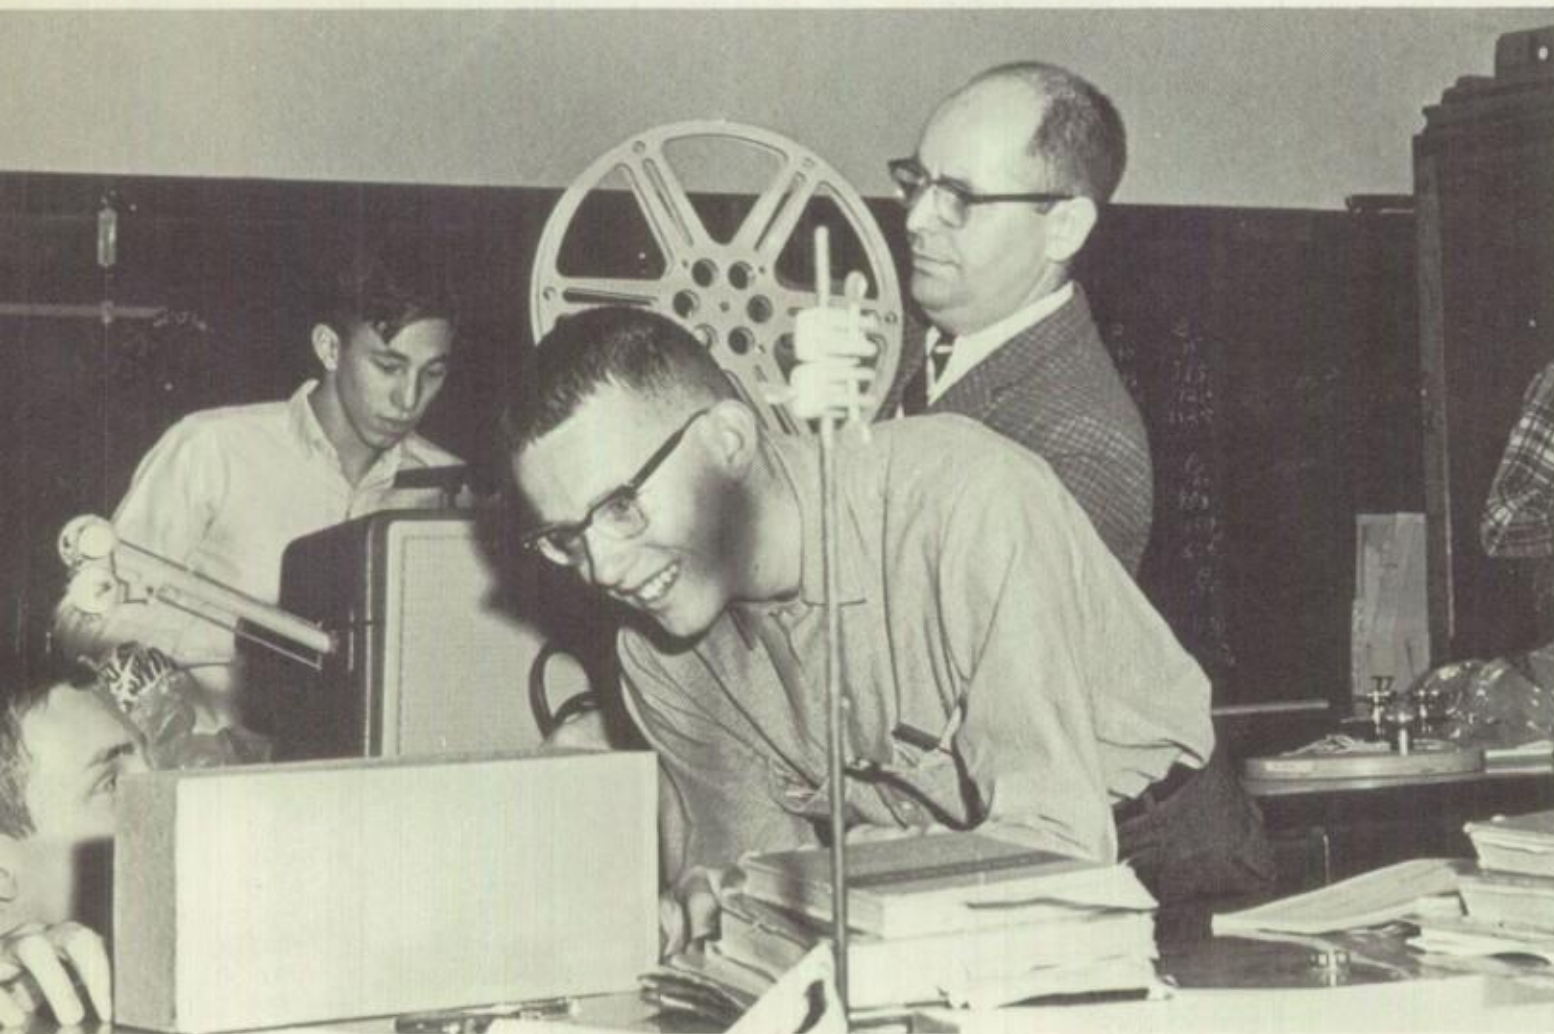

During this year of change at KHS, veteran teachers often discuss the numerous innovations in their daily routines.

On weekends the night lights of the junior citizen shine brightest near centers of music, refreshment, and merriment.

The P.S.S.C. Physics labs demand logic and clear thinking as students become increasingly aware of the natural forces around them.

The Profiles of 1965 are three dimensional,
not flat pictures of a three-year school.
They capture the relationships of 115 teachers
2700 students

over a period of 180 days.

Homecoming manifests ingenuity and enthusiasm as Grads and students boost the Kats to victory.

Downtown Kokomo is surged with visitors during the noon hours.

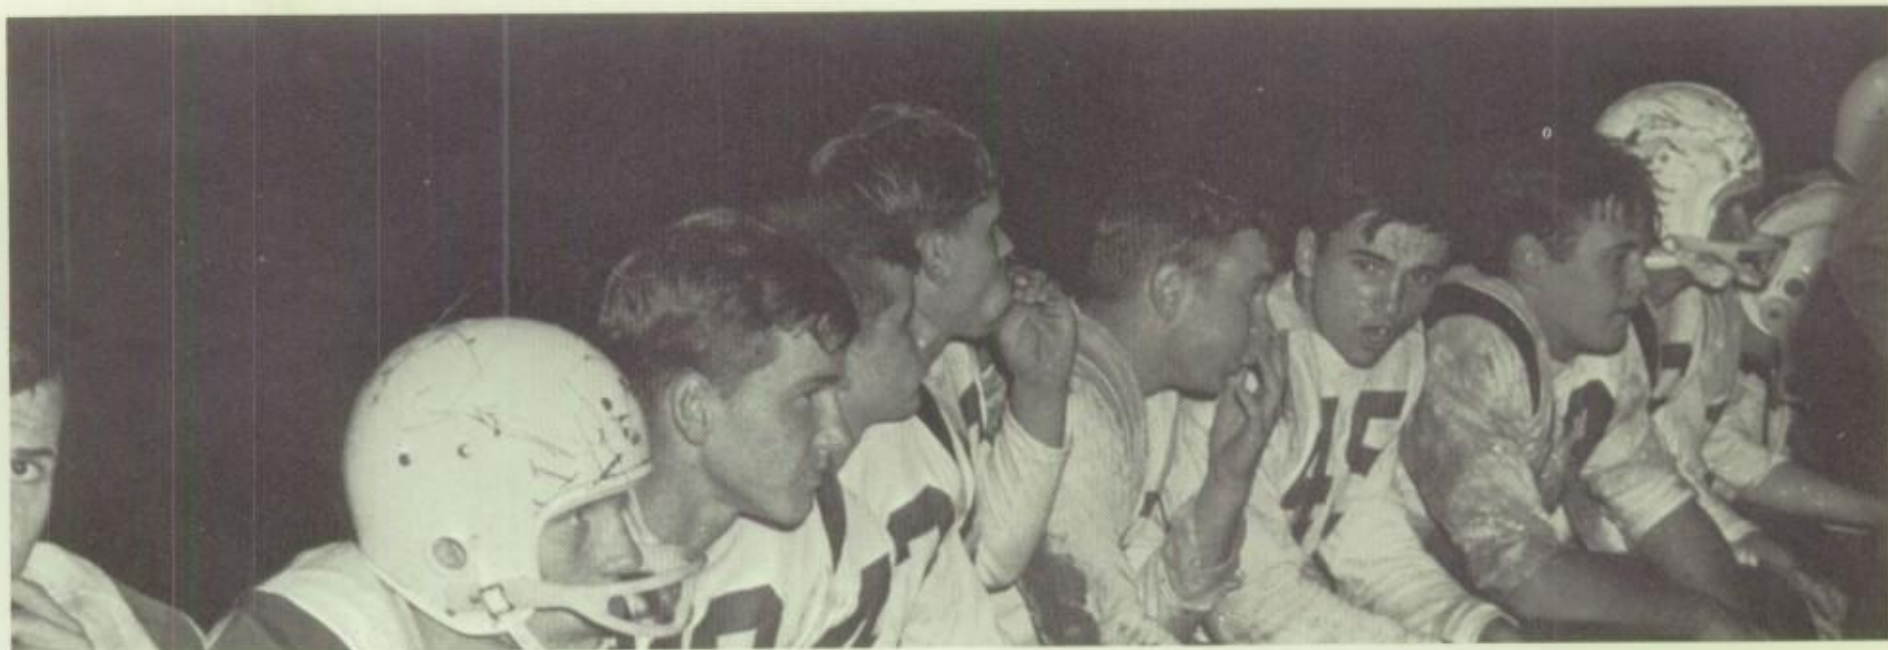

Awakening shrills and shrieks of support from the fans, cheerleaders push the Wildcat teams toward victory.

Hunger for knowledge,
 eagerness for friendship,
 unending energy,
 spirited competition
 keep this relationship alive.
 The sophomore becoming a junior,
 the junior becoming a senior,
 and the senior approaching a turning point in his life—all sustaining a whirlwind of vigorous activity.

Grave, expressive faces mirror the progress of the game as the defensive string awaits their cue on the sidelines.

A game of cards, some chatter, and a dip in the pool make a day of fun for vacationing students.

Hoosiers flock to the state fair upon arrival of the British "mopheads," The Beatles.

Occasional showers cannot halt the six-minute dash between campus buildings.

To improve their publication, two Red and Blue staffers consult with their editor.

During an evening of study at the city library, a friendship is extended, a greater understanding is achieved.

THE KNOWLEDGEABLE

Searching minds skilled hands
the flowering of young talent—characterize noble effort

Experience, often considered the best teacher, is invaluable in vocational training.

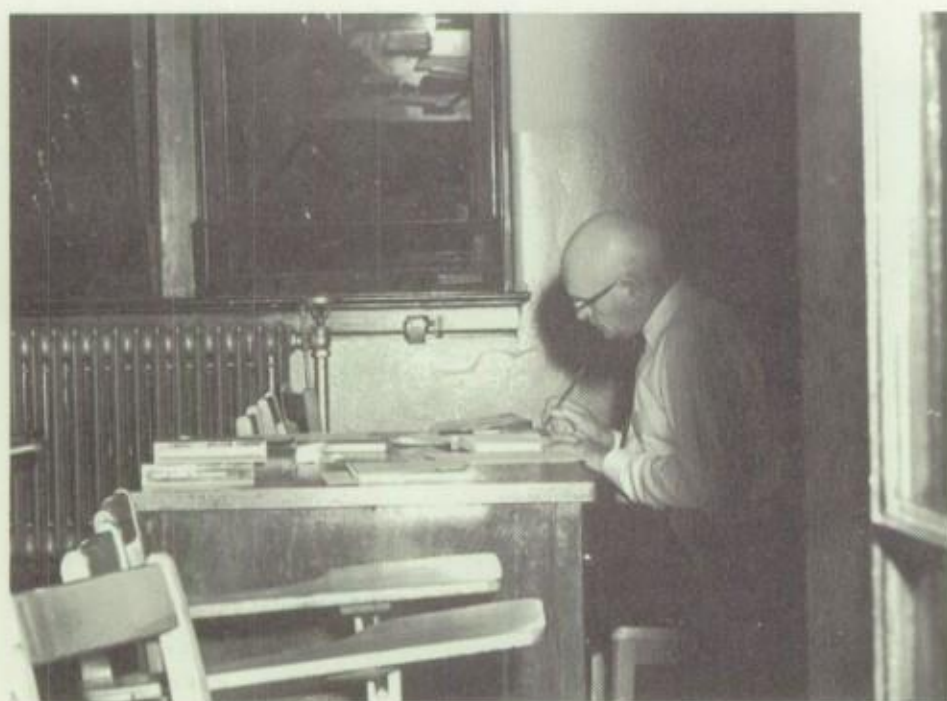

Development of high reading efficiency is a major asset to success in any realm of education.

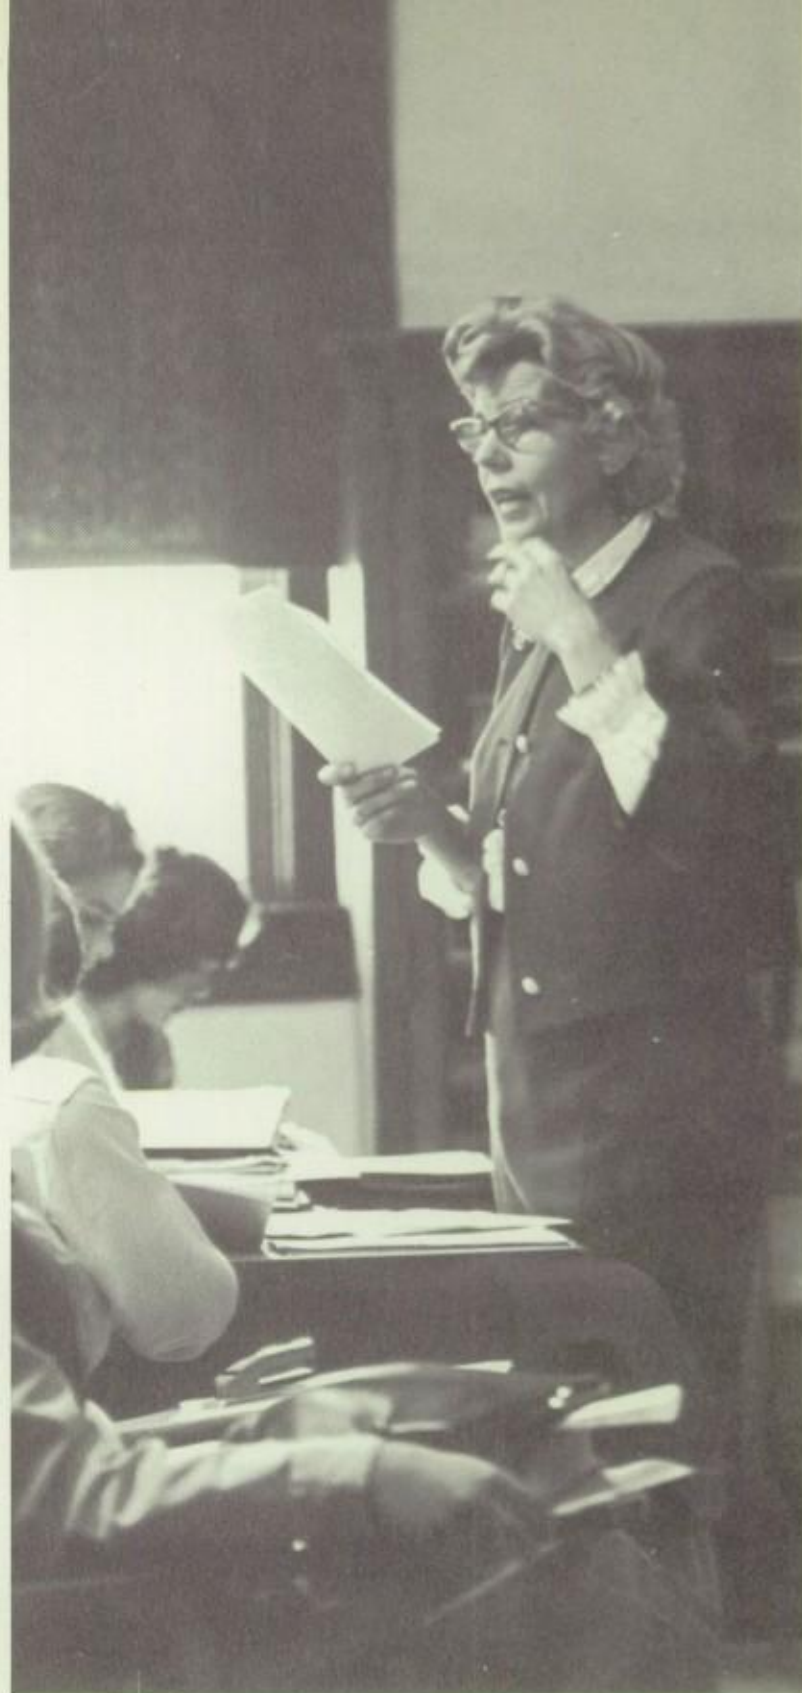

An almost unnoticed yawn betrays a sleepy scholar.

Inquiring eyes, a serious countenance, rousing questions, a conference, reports, answers, conclusions—all reaching forward to transform doubt and ignorance into facts—good judgement—wisdom.

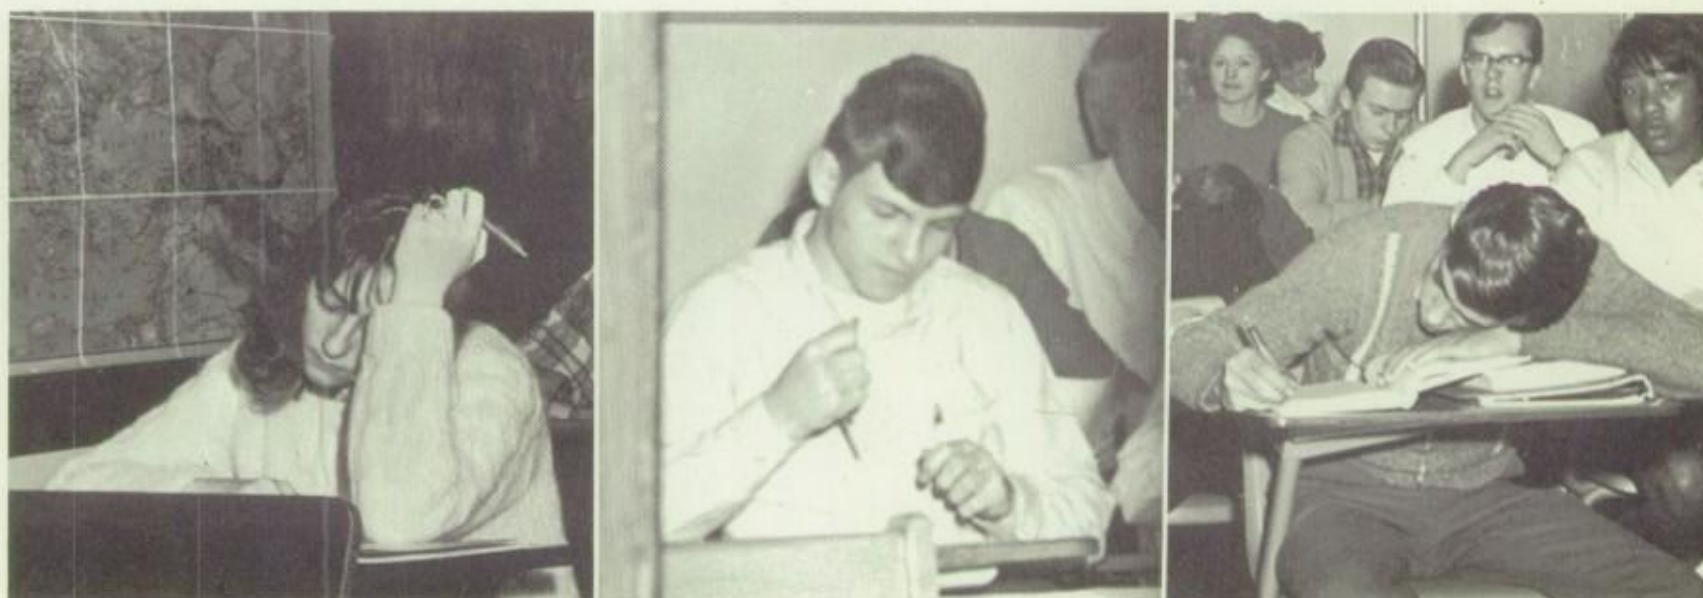

A few minutes of solitude lead to preparation.

An instructor strives hourly to bring greater understanding to her class.

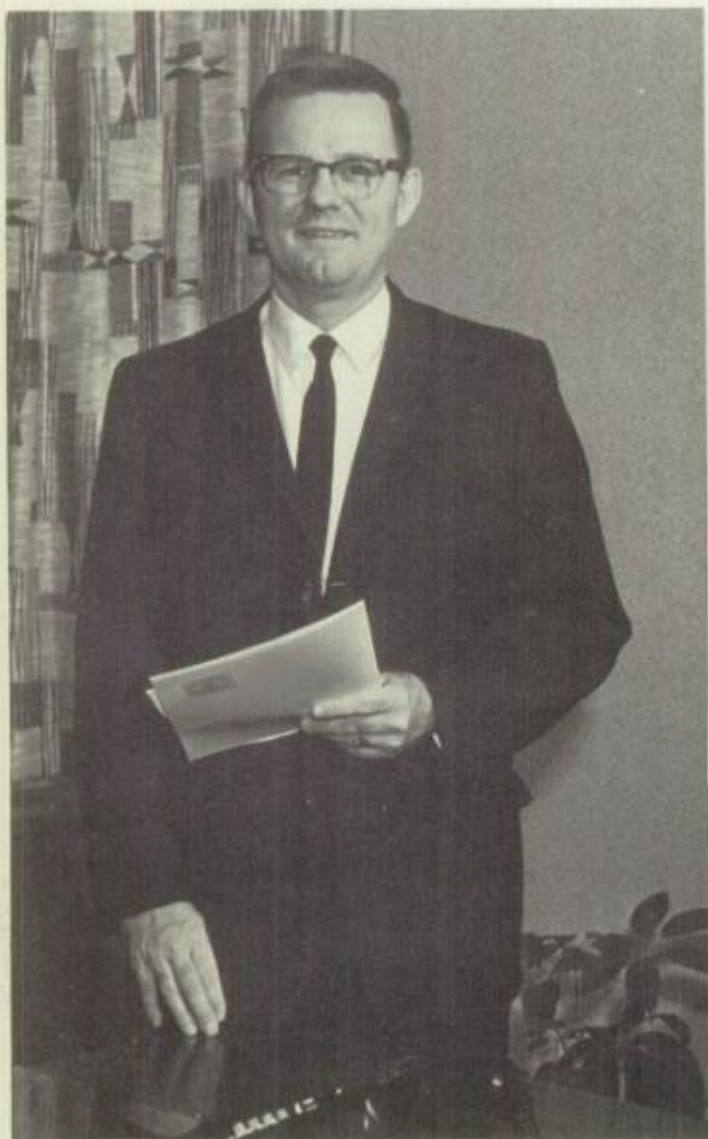

Learning, an interesting process, is manifested in unusual forms.

Contemporary Administration Building Is Erected

Janitor Teal examines and improves the landscape of the new Administration Building.

Dr. Dalton assists in the selection of new personnel.

Dr. Rose, an eloquent but humorous speaker, often addresses clubs and banquets.

Membership of School Board Undergoes Change

Mr. Cassida President locates the site of a future school.

Mr. Meyers and Mr. Miller oversee Kokomo schools' maintenance.

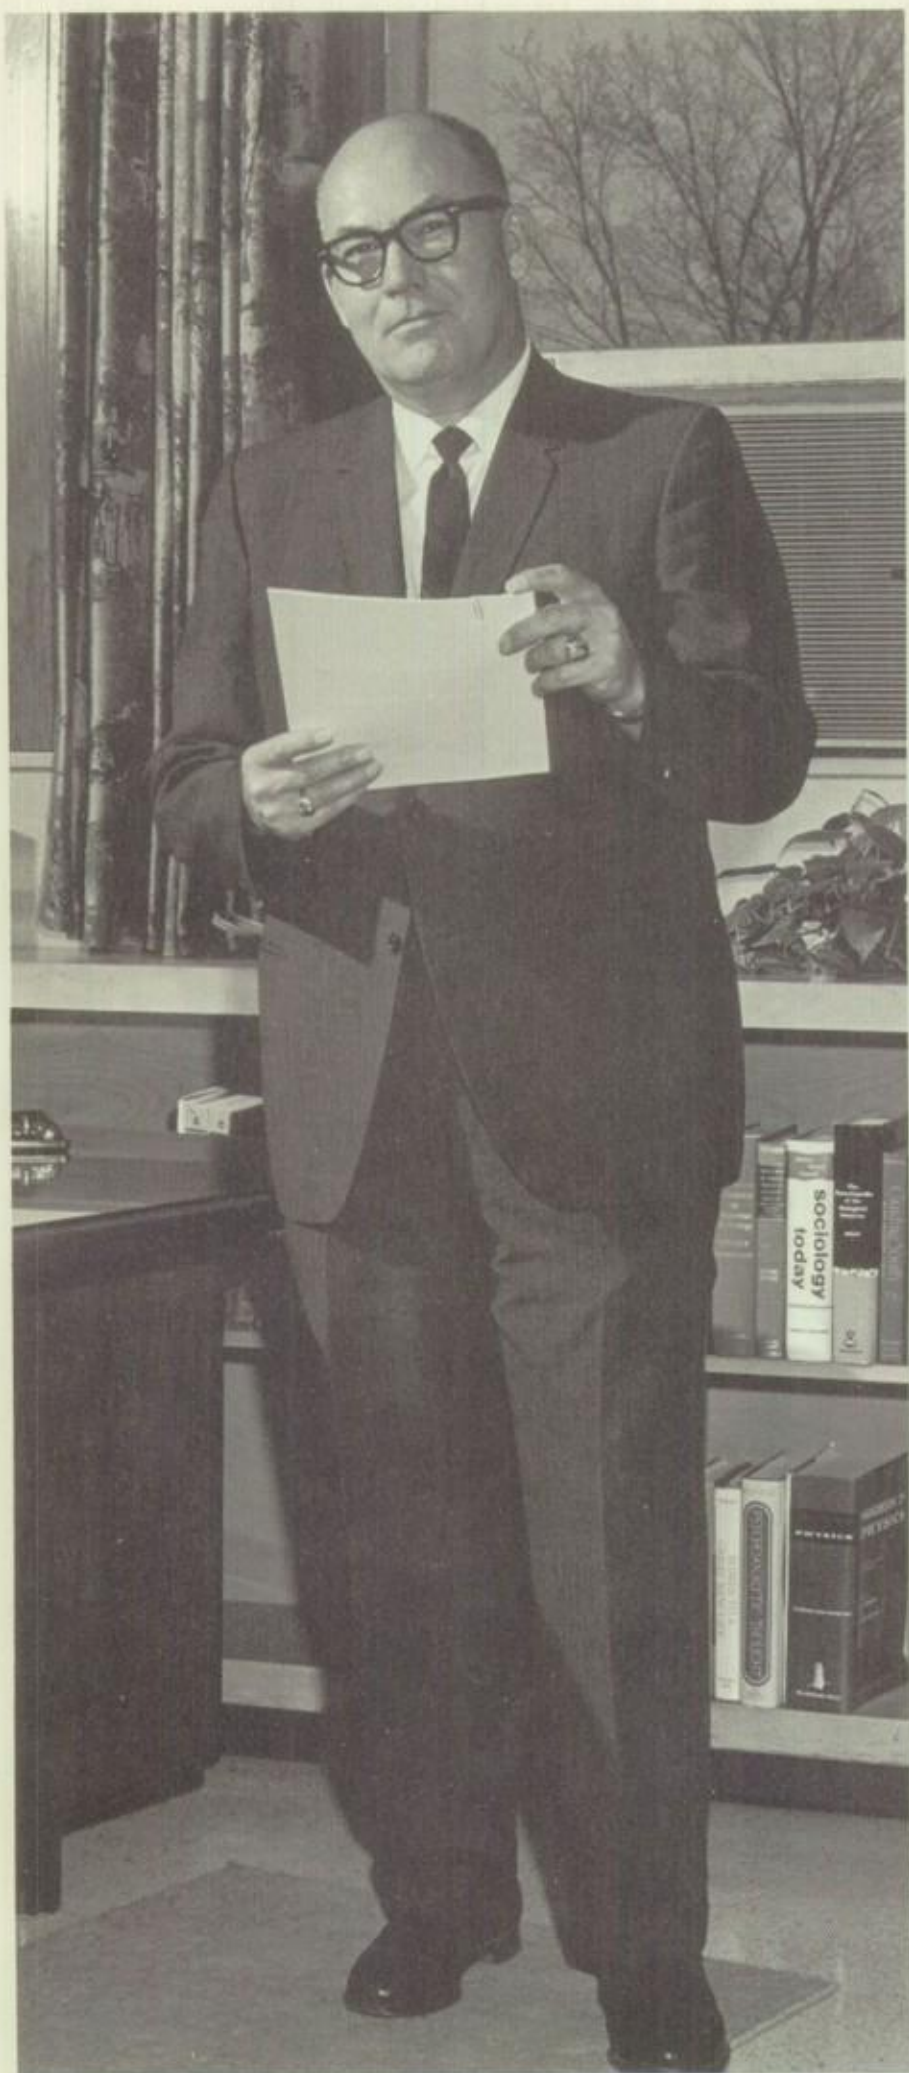

This year the superintendent and his staff moved out of the high school building. Dr. Rose, our new superintendent, his assistant Mr. Dalton, and the rest of the staff made their headquarters in the new administration building near Maple Crest Junior High.

The school board again helped to solve the many complex problems of the Kokomo-Center schools.

SCHOOL BOARD—Mr. Merrill Brunk; Mr. Glen H. Shelton; Mr. Morris J. Boyce, secretary; Mr. Otis Cassida, president; Mr. Charles F. Hathaway, treasurer; Mr. Edward T. Rayl, Mrs. Robert Boyd.

Commencing his first year as principal is Mr. Kenneth Crook.

Change was the keyword at KHS this year as the new school administration moved into its new offices. Mr. Crook and Mr. Mullins shared the offices that formerly belonged to the superintendent. Mr. Frank Moore occupied the office of student affairs, helping individuals and working with Student Council committees.

The Administrative Council, an advisory body of ten members elected by the faculty, helped to coordinate school activities and formulate school policies.

Novel IBM System Is

Assistant principal Mr. Mullins relaxes in his new surroundings.

PRINCIPAL'S SECRETARIES—SEATED: Mrs. Phyllis Harris, Mrs. Ellen Hunsberger, Mrs. Beverly Maddox. STANDING: Mrs. Maxine Soblotne, Mrs. Betty Walker, Mrs. Edith Dixon, Mrs. Mary Alice Cox.

Unable to Substitute for Executive Leadership

Mr. Moore, assistant principal, aids students and faculty in correlating activities.

Handling school funds is Mrs. Harris' main duty.

ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL—SEATED: Mr. Joe Mullins, Mr. Kenneth Crook, Miss Lyla Sill, Miss Estella Pearce, Miss Elizabeth McIntosh, Mr. Edward

Phillips. STANDING: Mr. Charles Franklin, Mr. Karl Kiger, Mr. Lee Dixon, Mr. Frank Moore, Mr. Kenneth Craig.

Deans' Responsibilities Expand with Enrollment

As Dean of Boys, Mr. Kenneth Craig gains intangible rewards.

The deans of KHS shared a common outer office in their new locations. Mr. Craig, in his first year as Dean of Boys, guided the Boys' Legion and served as friend and disciplinarian to KHS boys. Girls found the door to Dean Pearce's cheery pink office always open. Advising KHS girls and sponsoring the Girls' League made her schedule a busy one.

Miss Estella Pearce, Dean of Girls, often guides a girl to maturity.

An expert fisher, Dean Pearce draws in her line to cast again.

The expressions of the deans and their assistants Miss Winslow and Mr. Stewart reveal interest and concern.

Exploratories Probe the World of Teaching

Gwen Hahn, Carolyn Sherwood, Clifford Stiner, Linda McCauley.

In the one-semester Exploratory Teaching course, seniors interested in teaching studied the profession through research, analysis, and actual observation of elementary classrooms.

Vivian Wilson encourages a child to read aloud.

Rosemary Criste and Judy Crawford view their project Romeo and Juliet.

Junior Cindy Stedry cuts identification cards for class murals depicting Shakespearean works.

Shakespeare's 400th Birthday Is Commemorated

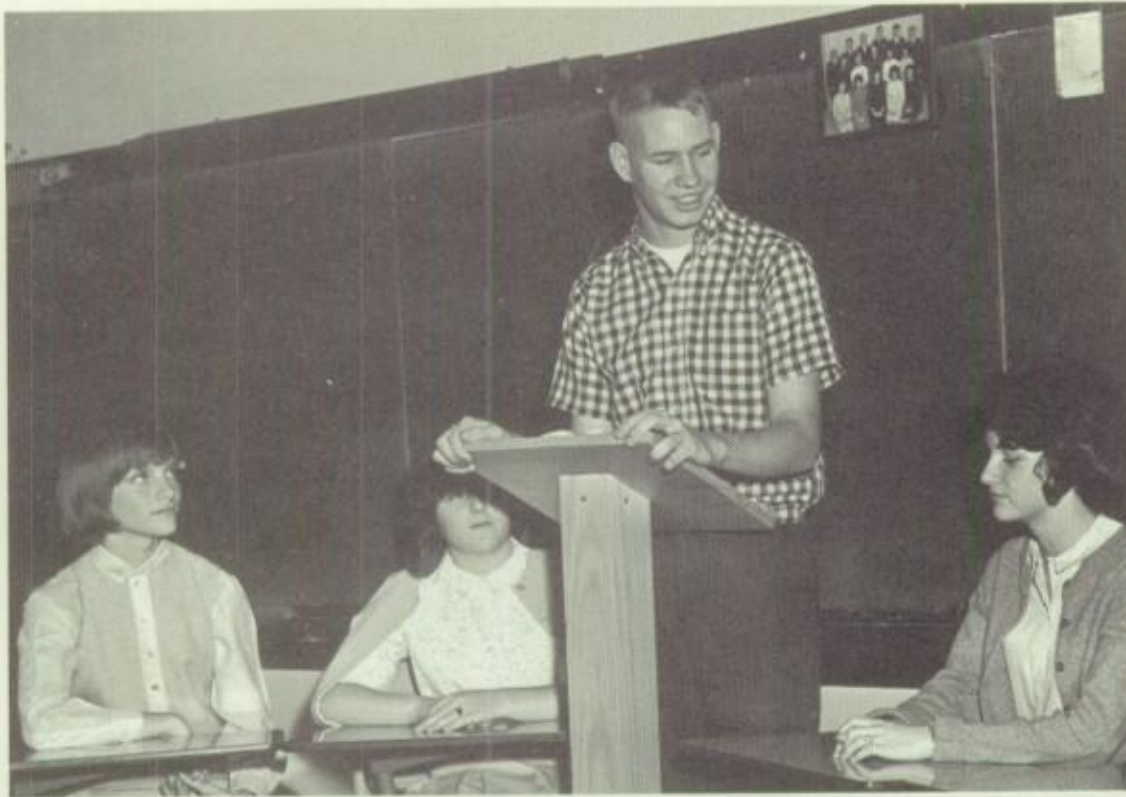

Typing a final draft of her term paper concerning marijuana is Nancy Gundersen.

Ron Whitsett speaks on the art of making pizzas.

The English Department established a new elective course this year for the benefit of seniors not taking Composition. This class, designated Senior English, helped students to prepare for the necessities of business and everyday life by strengthening basic skills in the writing and use of our language.

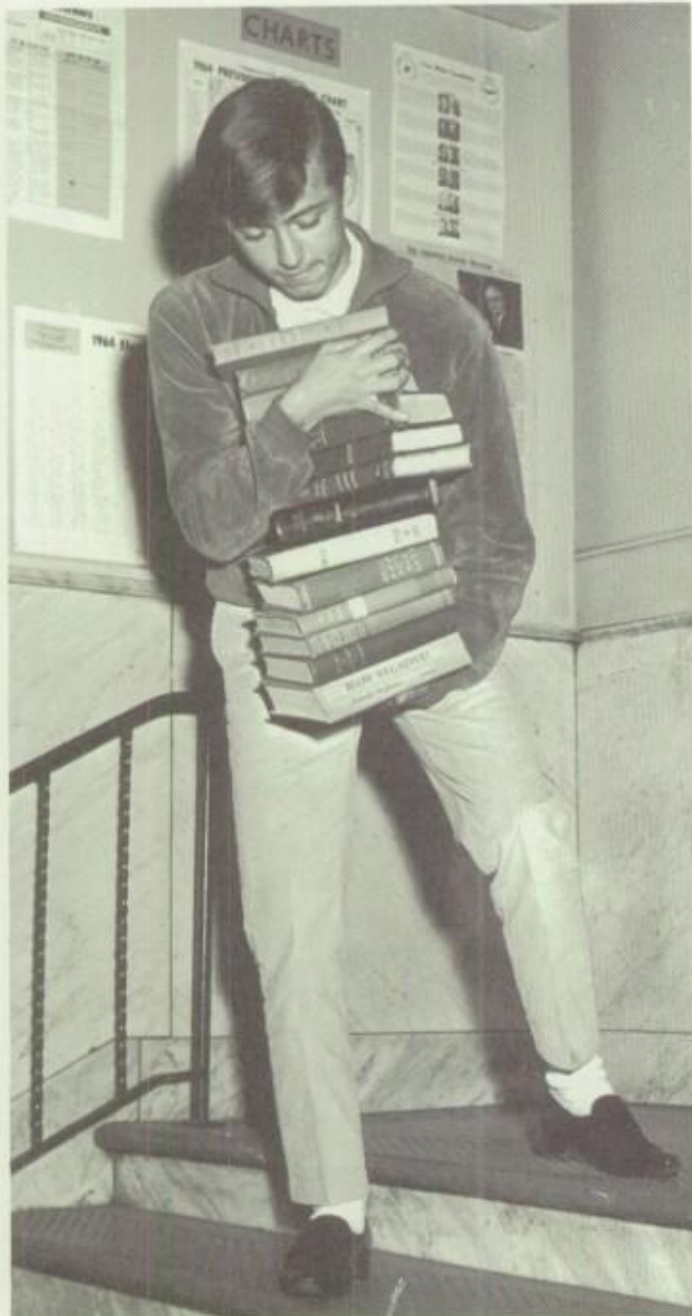

Jeff Harvey questions Susie Hahn, Marsha Morgan, and Lana Shirar in a discussion on the contributions of the Victorian Age to English literature.

A "thing of beauty," La Guillotine of Dicken's Tale of Two Cities is studied by Janice Russell.

by Projects and Discussions in English Classes

Bob Reecer finds extra reading can be hazardous.

The Bible's influence upon world literature lacks interest for sleeping Gary Phillips.

KHS offers a variety of English courses including books, books, and more books.

Modern Languages Open Doors to the Intrigue,

Arranging the pendulum on her bulletin board, which displays Latin terms of time, is Becky Copely.

Terry Sokol studies Latin with concentration.

Working on the theory that conversation and active class participation are the best techniques for learning a foreign language, the language classes of KHS supplemented text books with equipment and ingenuity. German and French classes used the language lab. Students in Latin classes participated in a Latin newspaper exchange, while Spanish students, besides using the language lab, read and discussed newspapers received directly from Spain. Slides, tapes, projects, and reports aided all language students.

Cathy Sandy, Gay Warren, and Larry Vitatoc mold a relief map.

Santa's toy shop is the wrong place for these French students.

Culture, and Traditions of Foreign Countries

A French building, constructed by Ann Duncan, rests on a mirror.

This committee quickly reaches agreement concerning a Spanish party.

Attentiveness in German Class proves necessary for complete understanding.

Ken Bergman translates a German ad.

Biology and Physiology Explain Life's Basic Laws

Steve Kollmar, using reference books, corrects the mistakes he has made in identifying specimens in his leaf and insect collections.

To study the effects of freezing temperatures on microscopic bacteria, Jim Johnson chops a hole in the ice to remove water samples.

Working in the greenhouse, Denna Henry regulates the moisture content of the plants by watering when necessary.

Karen Hudson inspects the chickens she will inject with hormones.

Claudia McLochlin and Gregory Hardimon prepare substances for their lab work.

Upon close examination it was found that KHS had no Dr. Jekyll-and-Mr. Hyde. Only a few minor oddities such as mysterious smoke clouds, black boxes, and slippery zoological specimens gave the laboratories that occult scientific air. To science students these curiosities meant open doors into the intriguing worlds of chemistry, physics, biology, and physical science.

In biology the examination of living plants in the greenhouse and the dissection of pickled specimens during lab period helped students to understand the biological sciences. For a deeper study of the subject, a second year class was offered to interested biologists.

The sights, smells, and theory of first and second year chemistry provided valuable knowledge of the nature and reactions of matter. Meanwhile, students in regular and PSSC physics struggled to comprehend mechanics, electromagnetics, and other phenomena.

Studying the heart, Jeanene Capshaw checks its primary functions.

"Charlie's" skeletal framework is explained by Jim Wyant.

Larry Beard lectures his science class with the aid of model universe.

As Students Reap Benefits of $35,000 Chemistry

Sodium hydroxide and sulfuric acid don't mix as Ken Humphrey and Terri Chapman discover.

A sophomore Brian Hufford checks his conclusions of ammonia titration.

Glass-bending is Stephanie Pennycoff's first assignment.

Lab, Plans Are Created for New Physics Lab

Phil Huffman checks his depth perception by manipulating the cords of a physics project.

Dan Vogt and Steve Rayl resonate sound waves.

The oscilloscope, which Ron Moffitt observes, shows a range of sound frequencies.

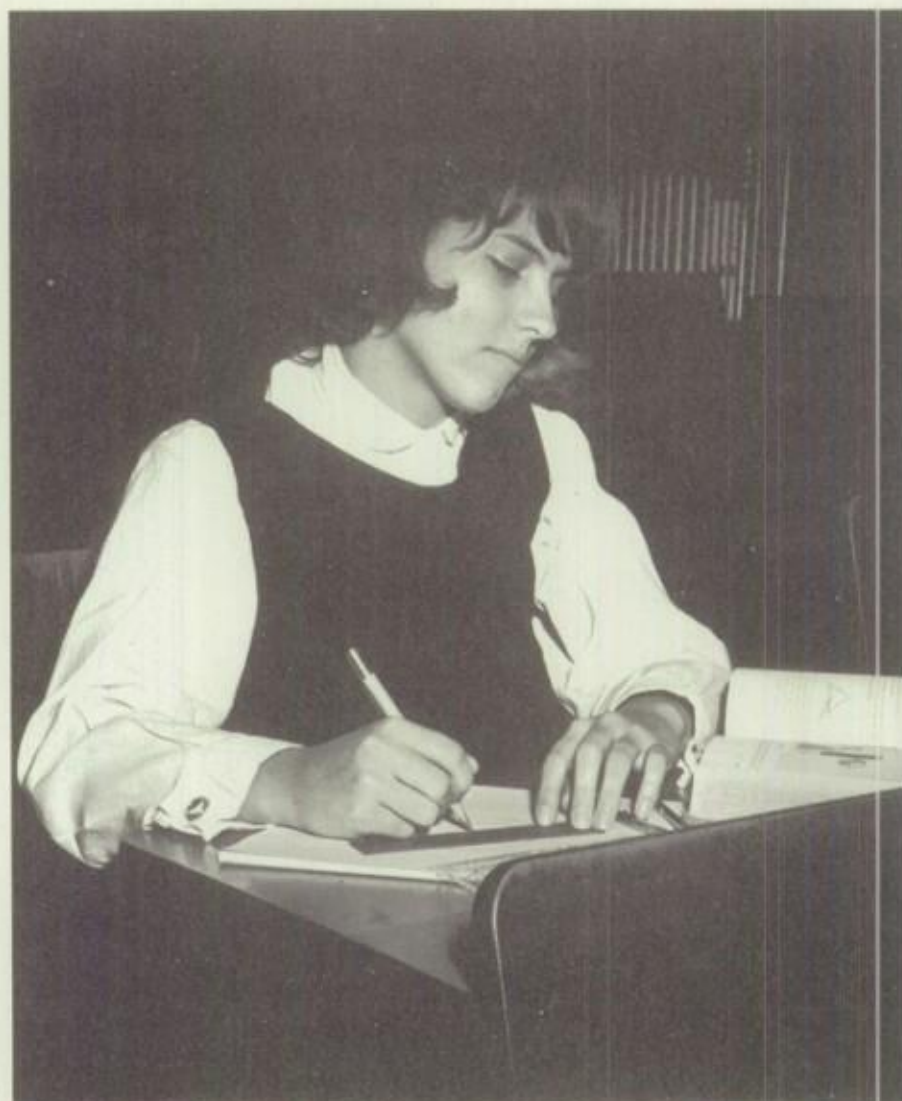

In a biological experiment David Wolf anesthetizes a frog before he operates.

Students Discover a Challenging Opportunity in Individual preparation is in evidence as Gale Perry completes an equation.

This year students in two KHS geometry classes found themselves using an unusual amount of algebra to prove theorems. They were in SMSG geometry, a new experimental math course which helped students to understand the interrelationships of the various branches of mathematics.

Susie Stedry discovers that geometry calls for the use of these tools.

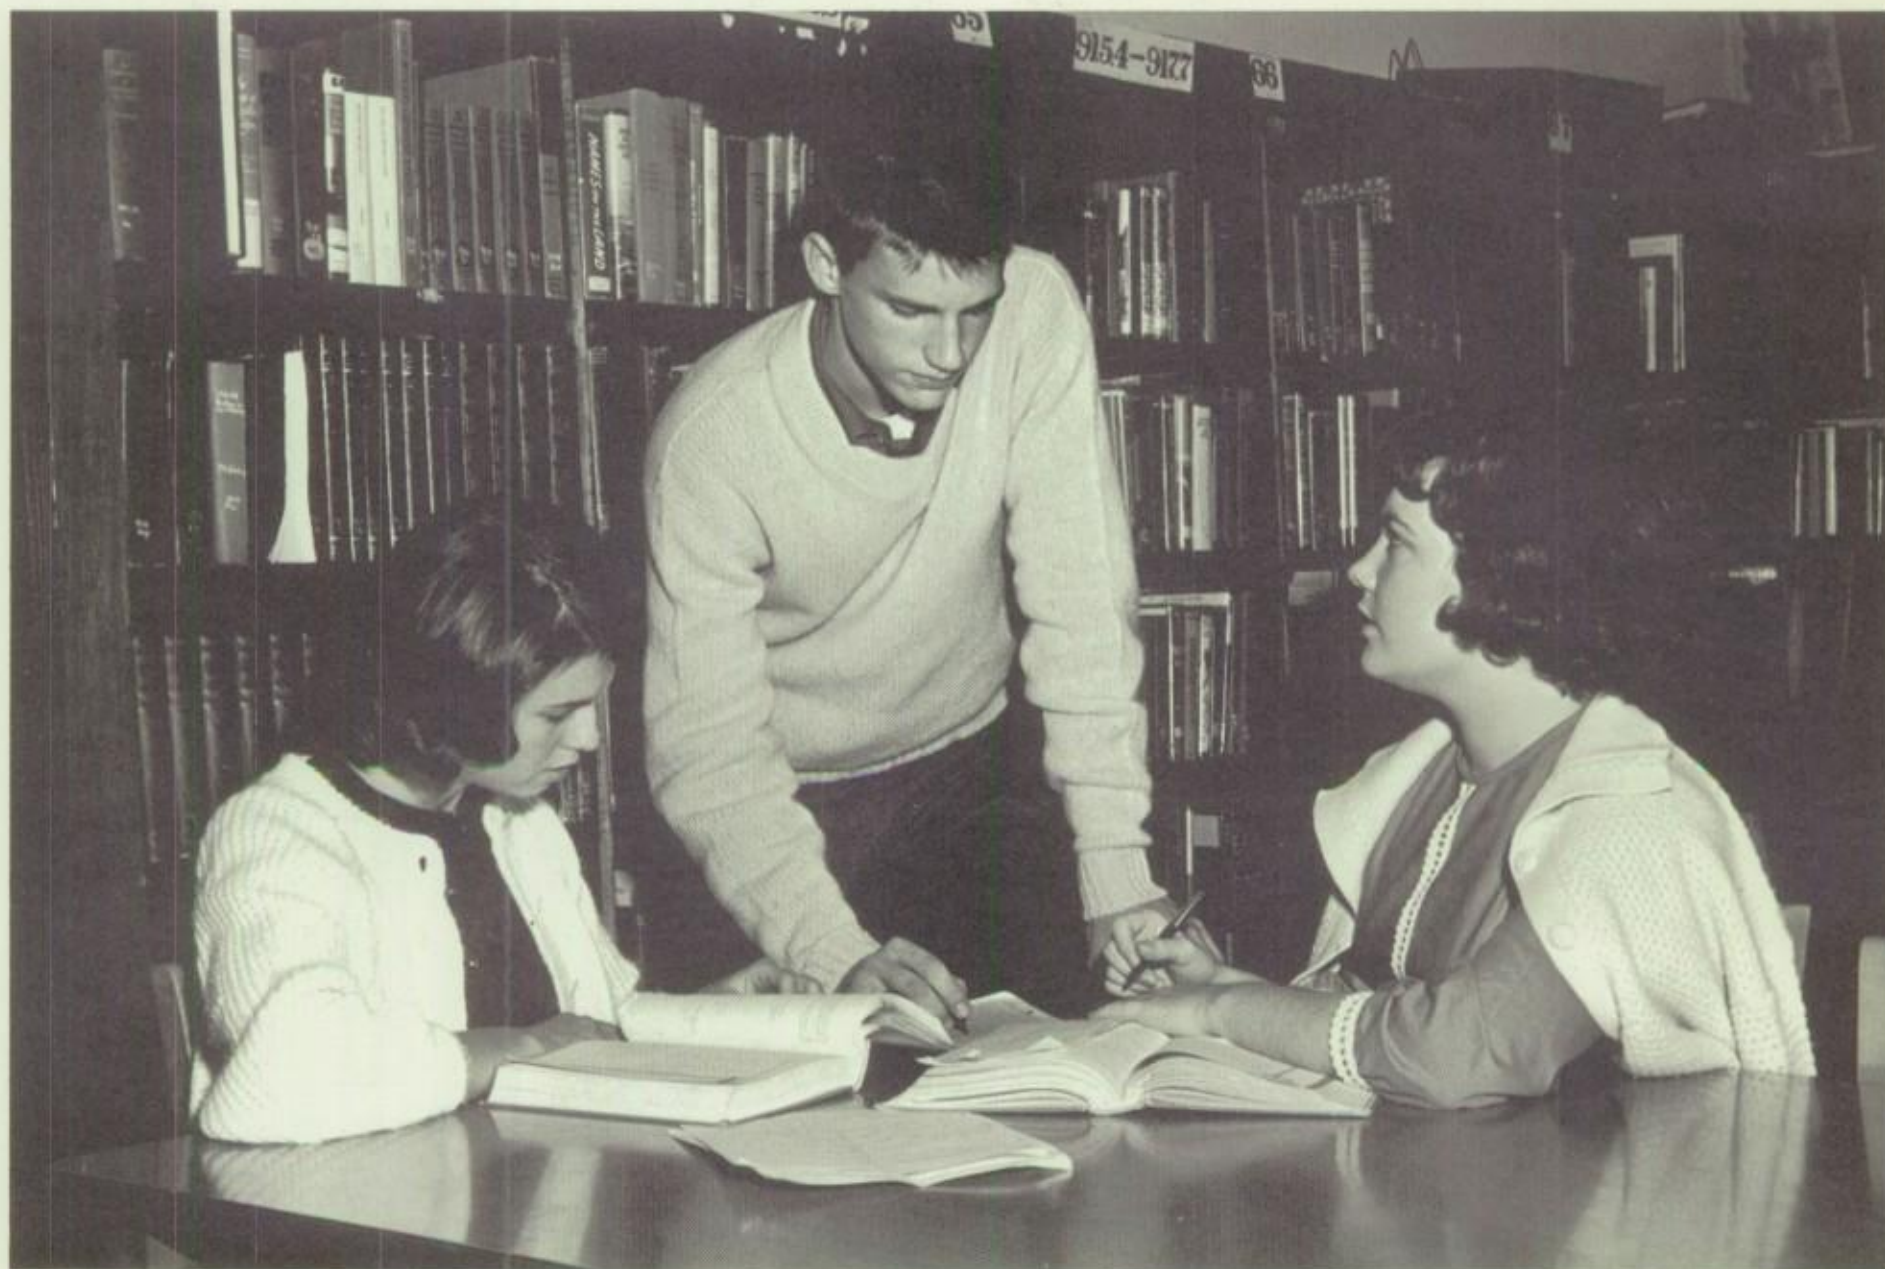

Susie Frazier explains the slide rule.

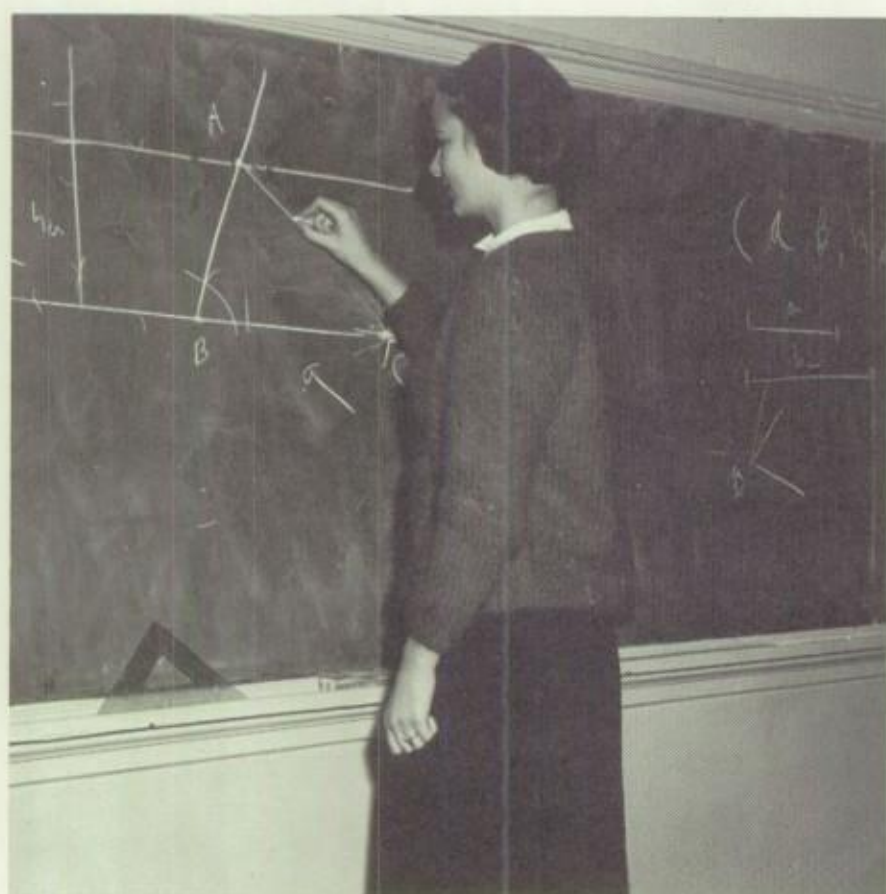

Senior David Wolf is reminded of the need for perseverance in solving tedious trig problems.

the World of Slide Rules, Logs, and Equations

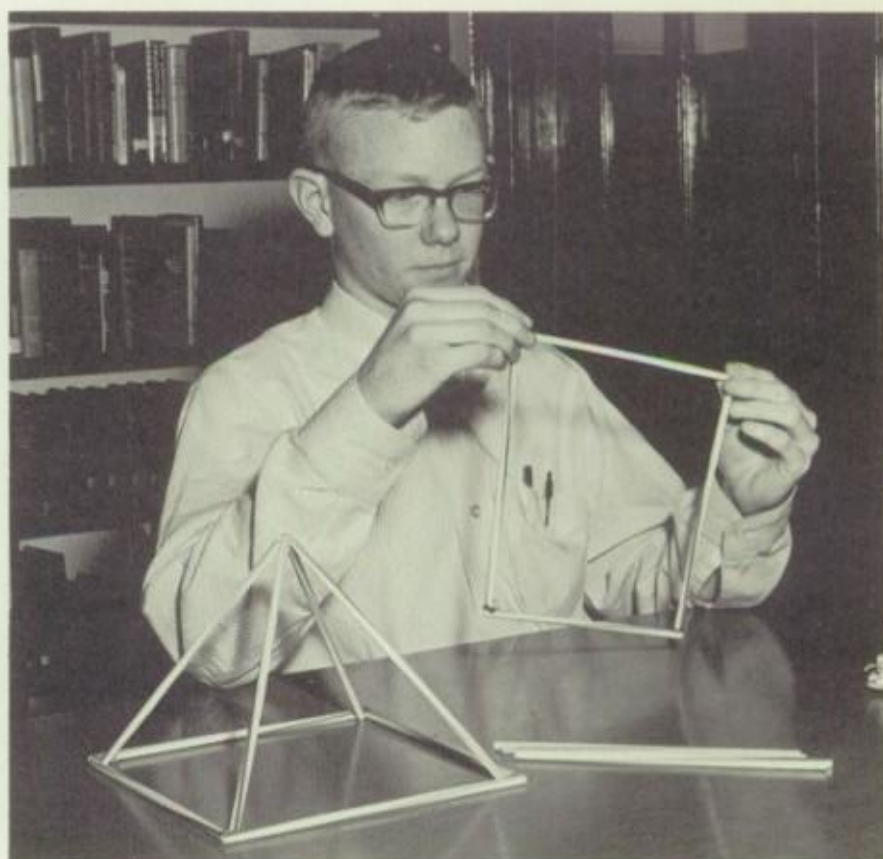

Team work is necessary in solving problems, as Brenda Brantley, Paul Martelli, and Deidre Cowne realize.

Demonstrating the fundamentals of geometric construction is Pat Carter.

After one semester of geometry, soda-straw figures take on a new identity for Gary Budd.

Social Studies Classes Discuss Vietnamese

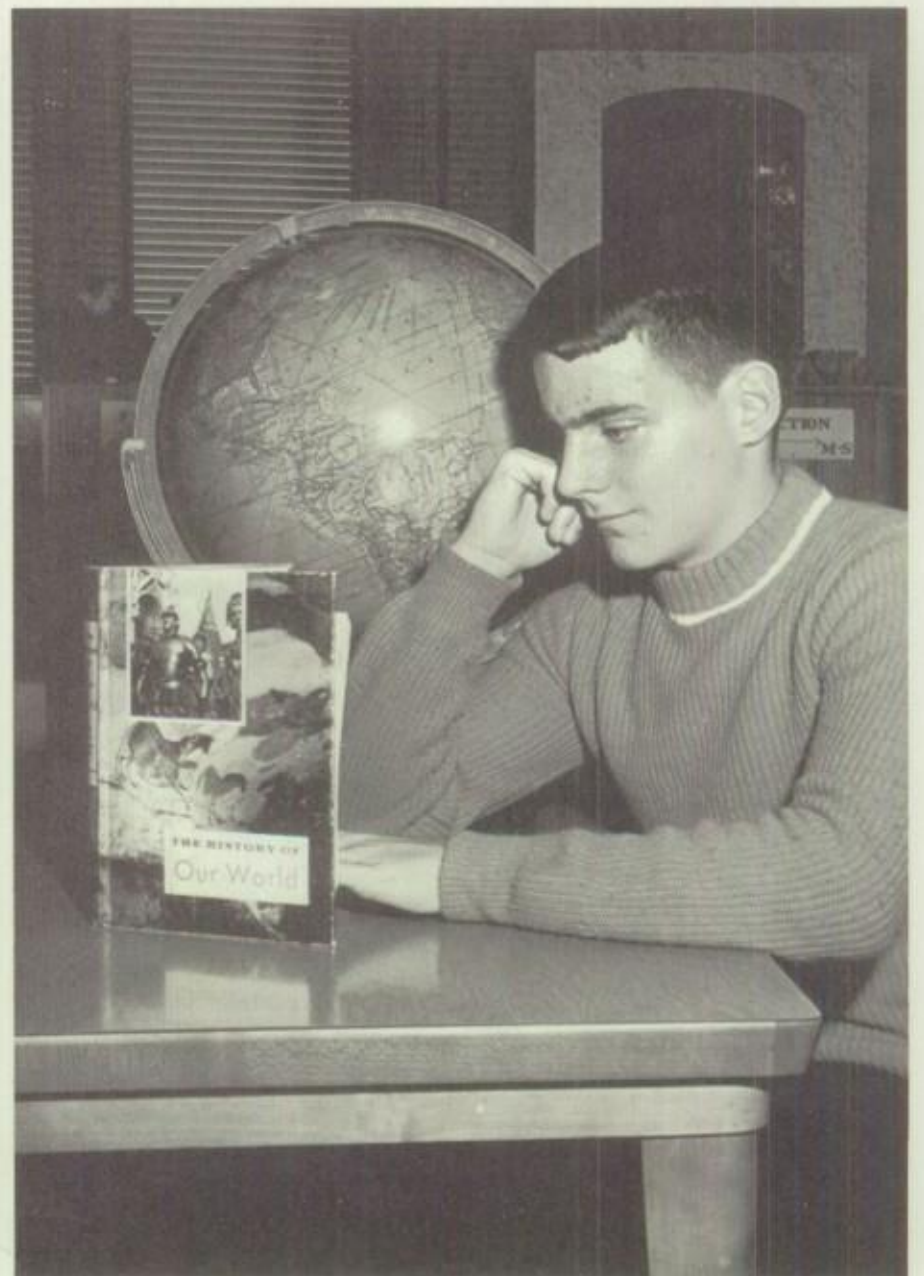

Government pupils Cathy Carey, Rick Reedy, Melodie Grant, and Pat Huston execute a mock trial.

The KHS Social Studies Department stressed history not only as it was written, but also as it was made. While Cicero and state legislatures retained their respected spots in the curriculum, current events such as the presidential campaigns, the Civil Rights Bill, Khrushchev's "resignation," and the war in Viet Nam became major parts of class discussion. By studying these events, students gained a wider scope of understanding of the past, present, and future of our world.

As Joe Hoban and David Davis prepare to vote, Sherry Pennington and Suzanne Berry handle registration in the classroom election.

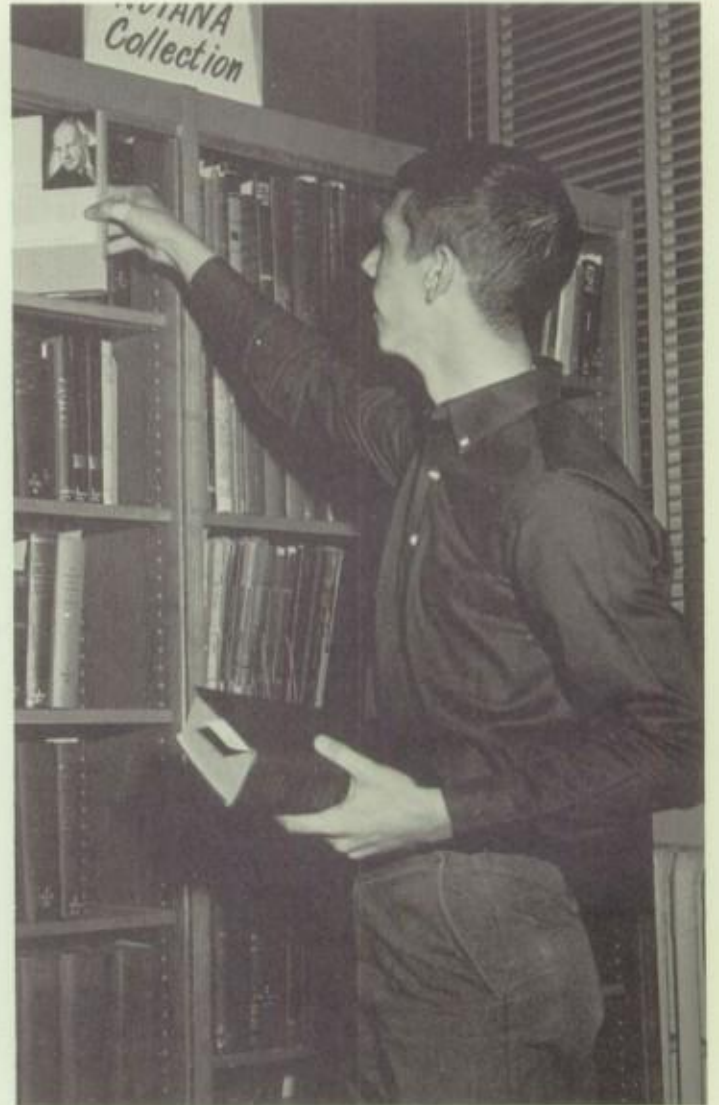

World history helps Kevin Comer understand the merchantile theory.

Crisis, Presidential Campaign, and World Trade

A postal clerk, Mr. Nay, explains to Janet Lear and Hank Aldridge how the distributor sorts.

Dan Hillman supplements his Indiana history.

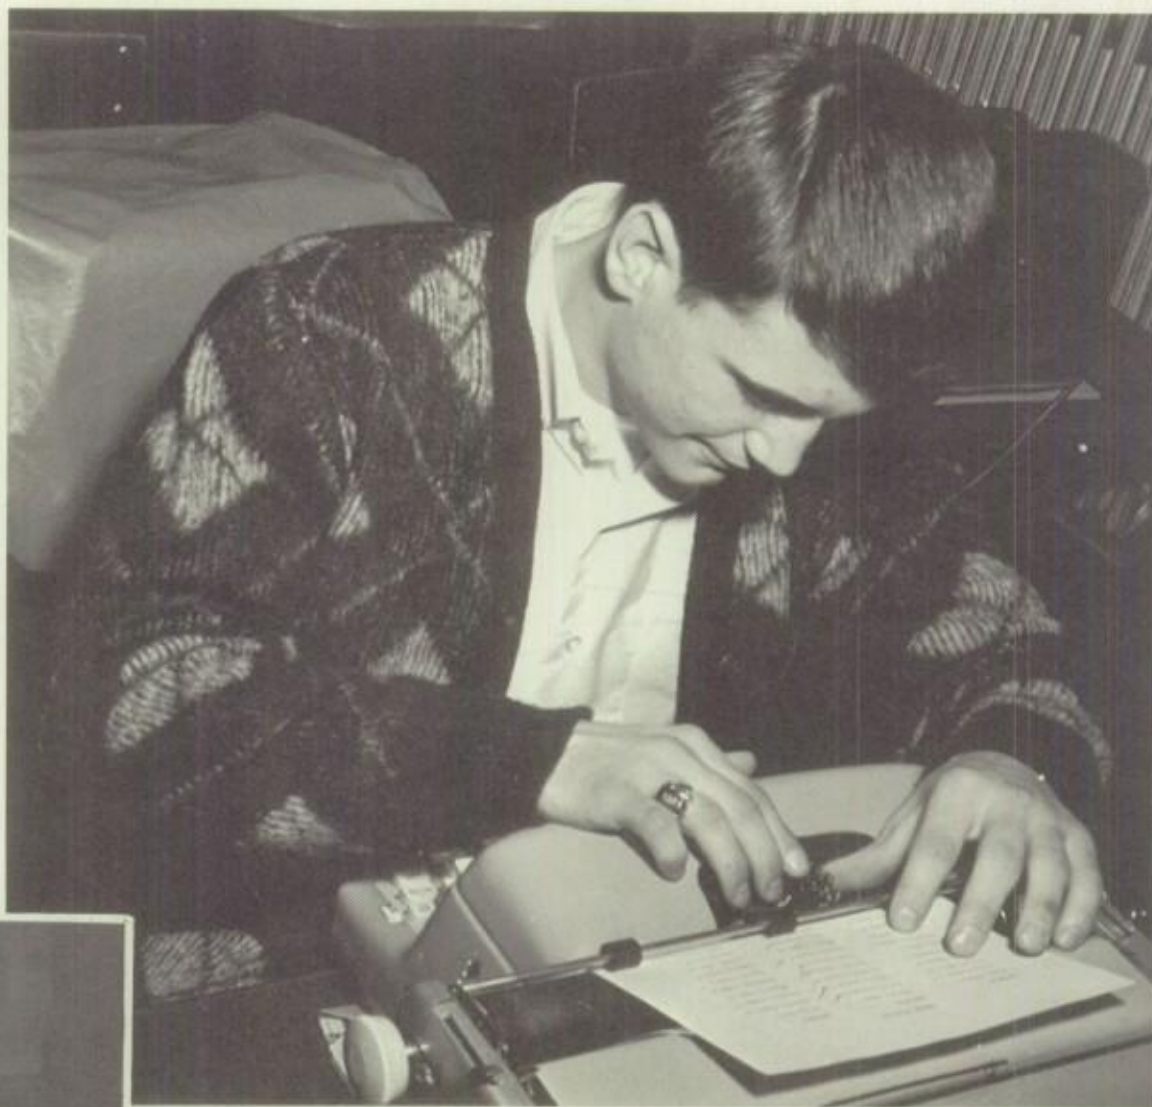

Seen through his breakfast table is Paul Yeoman who checks November 4th's election returns.

Automation Requires Extensive Business Education

A rapid typist Lynn Currens employs a dictating machine to transcribe recorded information.

Unjamming an electric typewriter's keys is a chore for Gary Weir.

Janet Bratton tires of solving dilemmas in a bookkeeping assignment.

The widely diversified courses of the Business Education Department offered both vocational and personal benefits to students. Classes in professional training prepared future business leaders. Attaining both curriculum goals, typing courses built a background for preparing letters and school work, while Business English taught the concise and courteous expression thought vital in business communications.

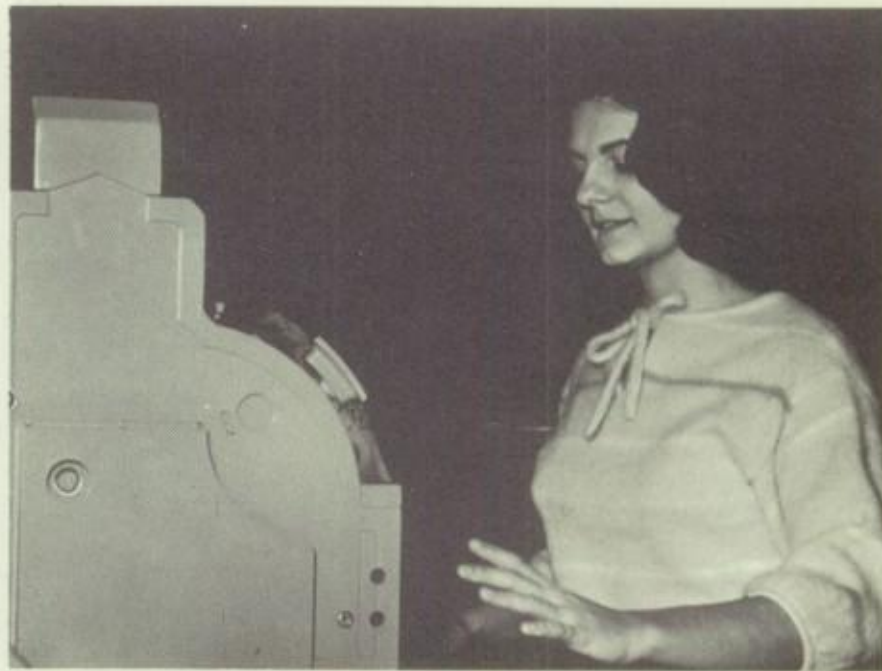

Although teachers suggest that students turn off their radios to study, Cheryl Zilligen breaks the rule as she listens and takes shorthand.

In DE, Seniors Acquire Skills of Salesmanship

With his employer, Bill Davenport inspects the motor of a used car.

Colleen Patterson completes another sale by registering the cash.

To learn, earn money, and prepare for the future were the goals of participants in the Distributive Education program. In the classroom these students studied business and discussed problems encountered at work. Then they put their knowledge to use by working afternoons in local businesses.

Marking prices on the shoe boxes is one job of DE student John Kellar.

In a local women's clothing store, Sheila Henderson, whose main objective is to please her customer, removes a mannequin's fur from the store's front window for an interested buyer.

Glen Brunk practices Exodus for a band concert.

The KHS band had a busy schedule this year, livening school and community functions with marching and music. At football halftimes the band members executed complex marching formations to lively musical arrangements. Their performances also sparked enthusiasm at basketball games and brightened holiday parades. As a concert band the group performed more sophisticated pieces for students and public.

Still playing, Brenda Haynes and Faith Hulet change field positions.

Choral Presentations at KHS Set Every Holiday

A trio, consisting of Cherie Stiner, Vicki Blackwell, and Angela Gordon, performs for several school and community occasions.

The choir entertains with diverse songs and hand motions.

Good singing, as always, was the specialty of the choir; and its members presented a beautiful, almost unlimited supply. The quality of its performances gave the choir a reputation for excellence which grew throughout the year. On all occasions, especially Christmas, the singers used just the right combination of reflection and gaiety for their fine programs.

Season To Tune with Songs of Varying Moods

After being subjected to a strenuous choir initiation, Rick Thomas, Dave Butcher and John Candlish find their reward—food!

Continuing a tradition at KHS, the mixed choir sings Christmas carols in the halls the day before vacation.

Clever Motions Complement Feminine Voices

One of the most popular and talented choral groups of KHS was the Girls' Concert Choir. This select group consisted of girls previously enrolled in chorus classes. Frequently accentuating their singing with unique creative hand motions, these girls gave beautiful performances that enhanced the appreciation of music throughout our community.

Practicing for a holiday program, concert choir members plead with Santa to make it a Merry Christmas.

Suzy Stapleton departs for a Girls' Concert Choir program.

DCE Program Provides Occupational Training

Receptionist Diane Payne searches through files to update stock records.

With great care, Sharon Rust grinds contact lenses.

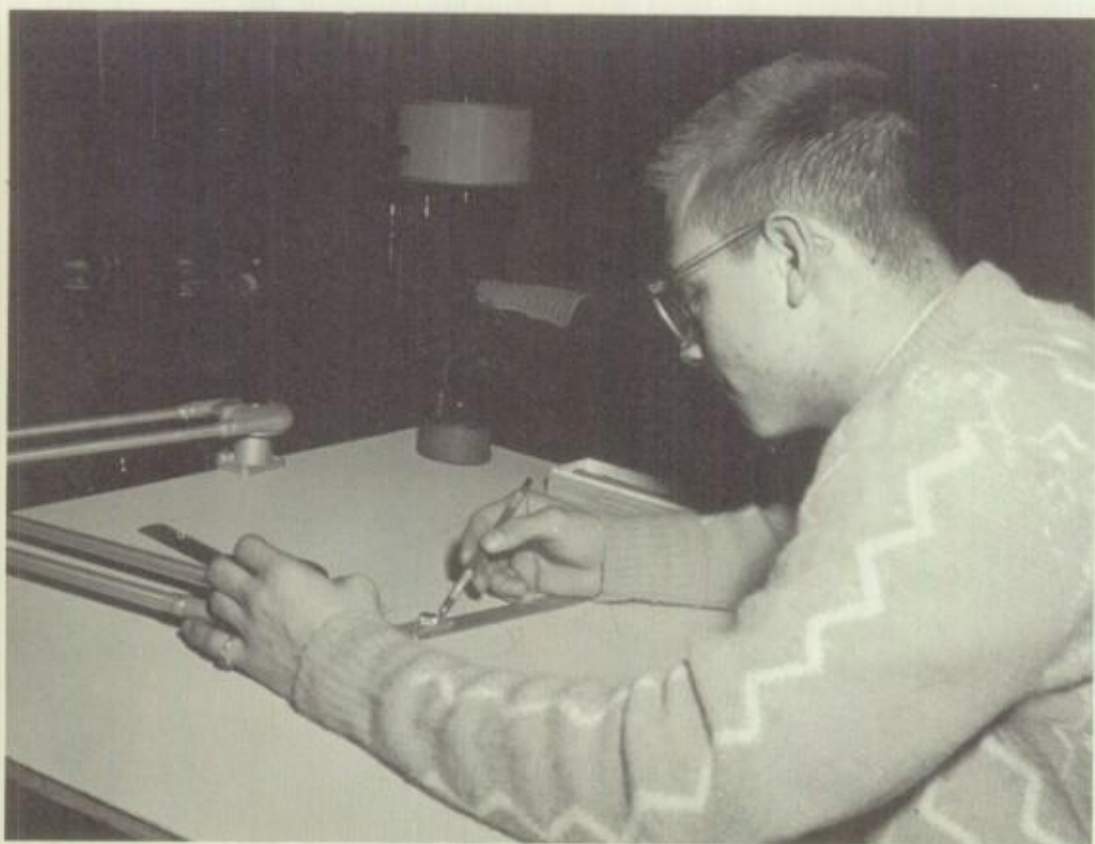

Before slicing round steaks, Chris Dunlap must select the meat.

"On-the-job experience" was an old cliché given a modern interpretation at KHS. Diversified Cooperative Education made use of on-the-job training to prepare students for employment in their chosen fields. Aided by school advisers working with employers, pupils with objectives representing several occupations "learned the ropes" of their vocations.

Pat East adjusts the temperature control on a customer's hair dryer.

A Wide Variety of Vocational Courses Helps To

Don Strebin finds that free time at home may be wisely spent on his drafting projects.

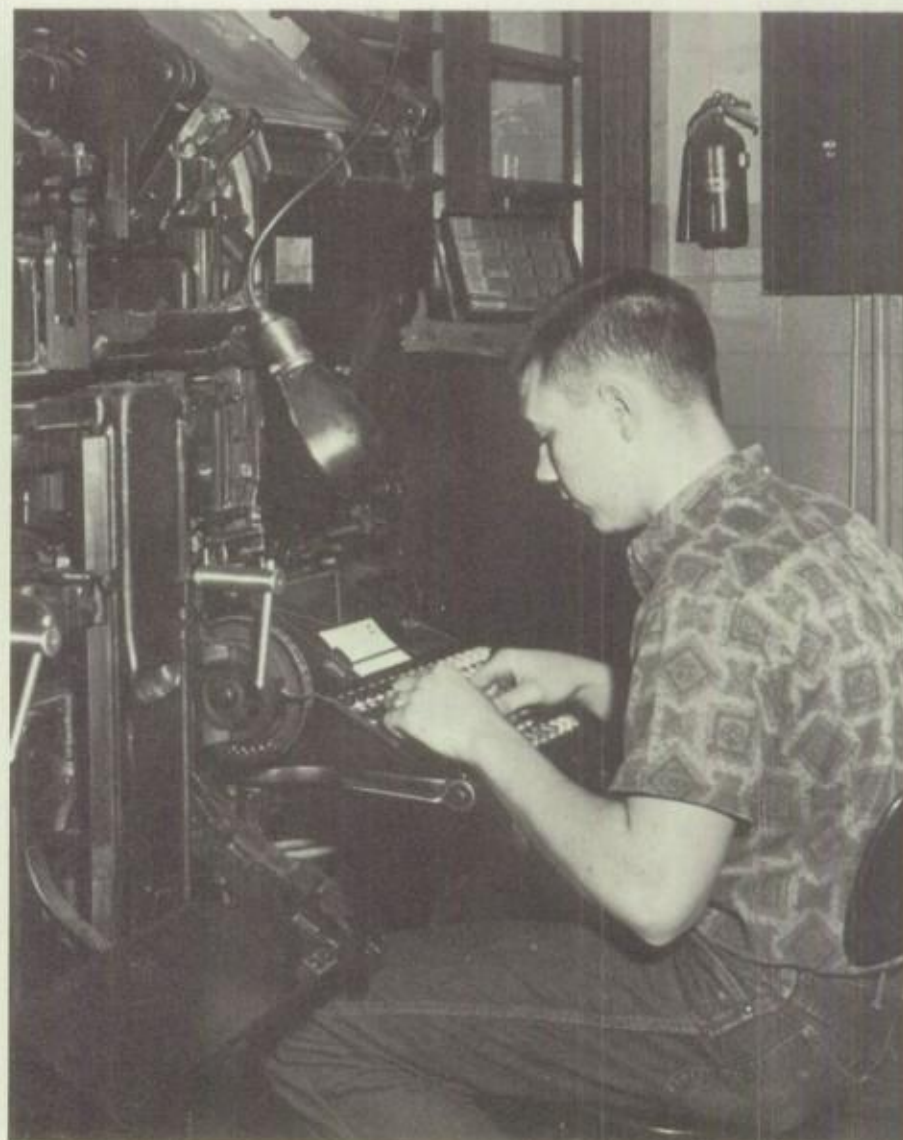

Garry Luttrell uses the circular saw in the preparation of the materials for his woodshop project.

The art of drafting intrigues Fred Morris.

In our mechanized society there is a great need for skilled workers. Realizing this, the KHS Vocational Department helped many students to choose and prepare for future jobs in industry and the trades. In industrial arts classes, students were given a chance to explore various occupations and obtain some basic skills in them, while students enrolled in the vocational curriculum spent three periods each day in vocational classes acquiring specialized skills for specific industrial vocations. Many students in other curriculums entered arts and crafts classes for the enjoyment and for the useful skills which they imparted.

Dave Davis enjoys operating the linotype machine.

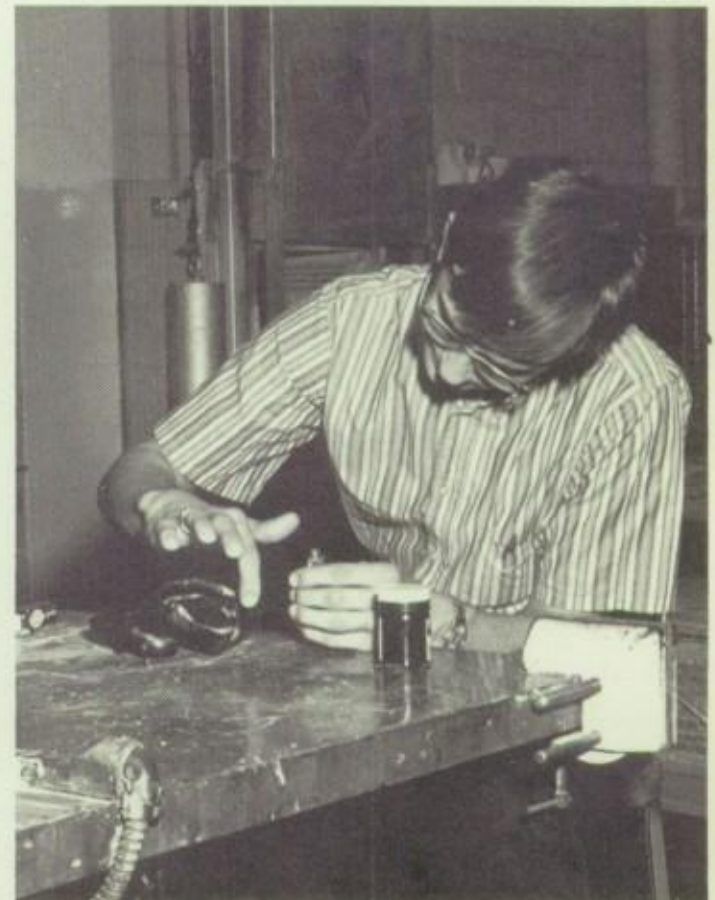

Train KHS Students for Future Jobs in Industry

Learning how to repair a car challenges Fred Whicker and Harold Calhoun.

Patricia Majors uses the jigsaw in the cutting of plastic.

Roger Higginbottom feeds a test signal into a transmitter which Larry Soblotne is adjusting.

Home Magazines, Scraps of Material, and Stacks

Having planned a menu, Barb Stephens sets the table.

Ruth Guy breaks a sewing rule by putting straight pins in her mouth.

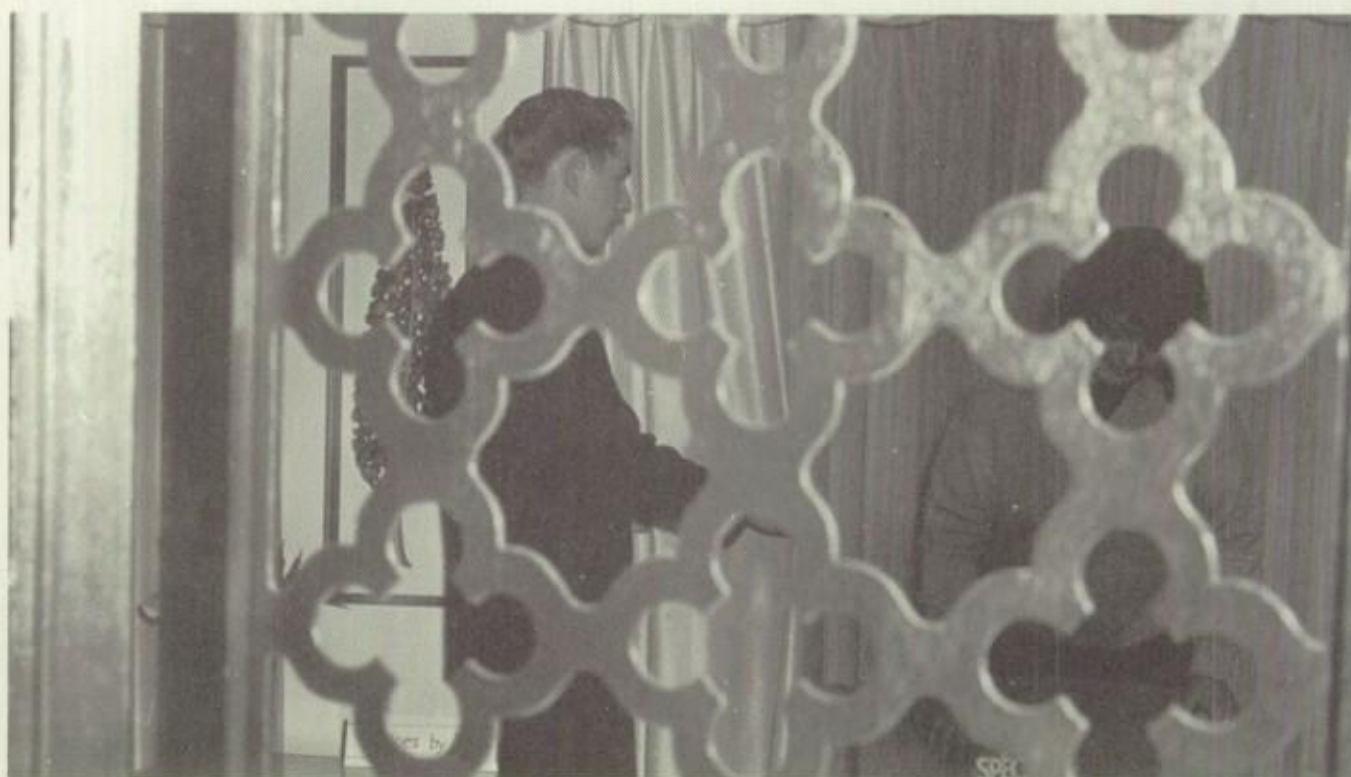

Janice Osborne affirms tasting as an excellent test for food.

Selecting a suitable fabric for her clothing project is vital to Elizabeth Ashburn.

Dreams that may someday become realities formed a part of the home economics curriculum. As a home management project several girls made floor plans and selected furnishings for their dream homes of the future. The lovely home living area, recently redecorated, was the scene of several parties as foods students practiced their social graces. Clothing students learned to tailor, purchase, and care for wardrobes.

In home nursing and consumer buying classes, students also prepared for homes of the future by learning methods of child care and rules for buying.

In consumer buying Richard Morrow and Lana Shirar learn to buy fine products at low costs.

of Dishes Evidence Home Ec Students' Work

Veronica Damitz finds in her refrigerator the food needed to prepare a meal.

A scrapbook of furnishings is required in Becky Hibler's home management class.

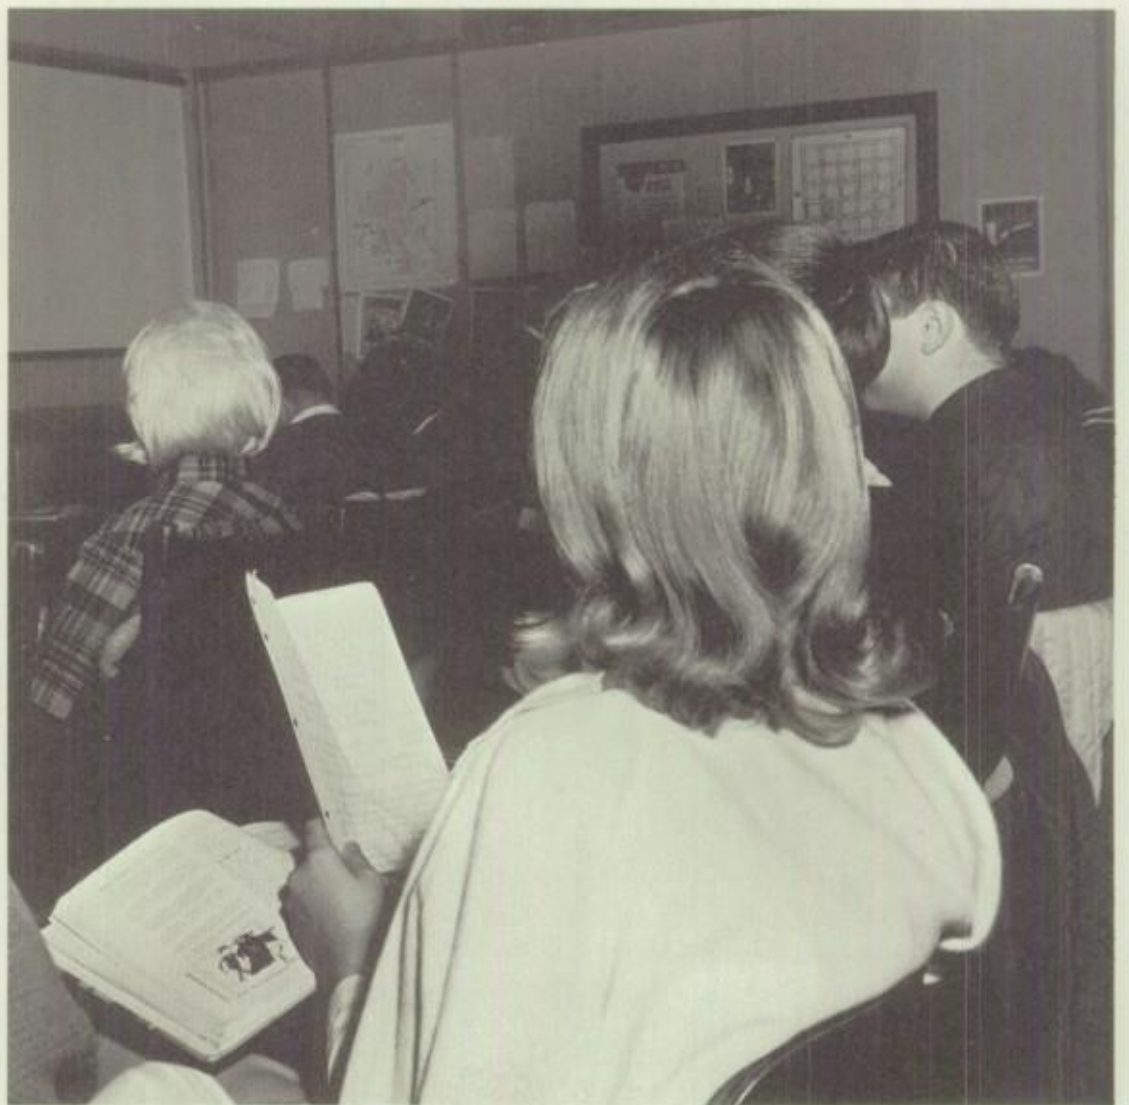

Liz Siefers adds final touches to the dress for a choir program.

A mirror reflects Kathryn Esslinger in a self-made dress.

Prospective Drivers Practice Highway Safety.

"Stay on the right side of the street! Now turn the wheel slowly and steadily. Use your brakes!" Steady nerves and good advice were the mainstays of the Driver Education Department. Driving classes, as always, were very popular among KHS students, and the knowledge gained made our highways safer.

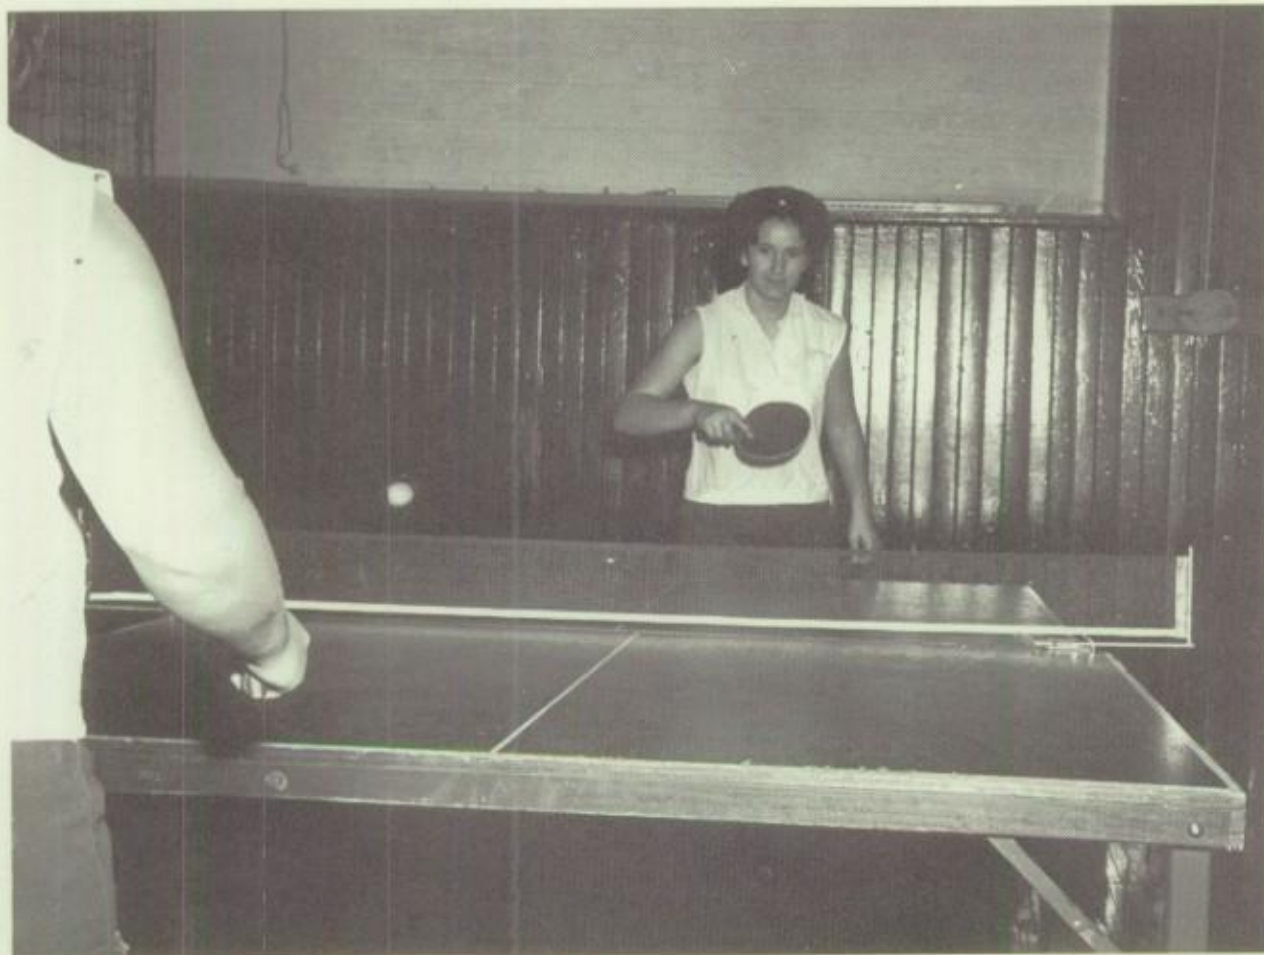

Students acquire insight of the technical aspects of good driving while in the classroom.

Though summer school entails work, Nancy Waggaman finds studying a pleasant job.

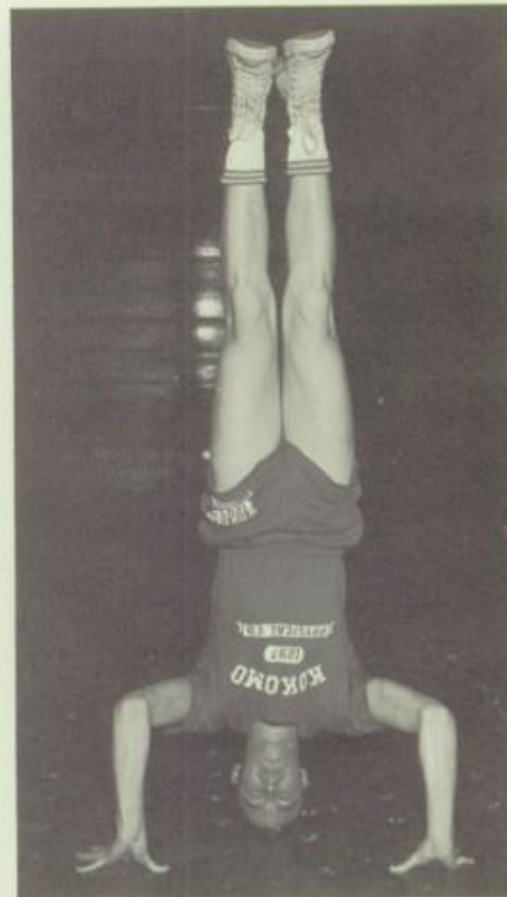

Practicing his skills behind the wheel, Jan Jenkins gains valuable experience.

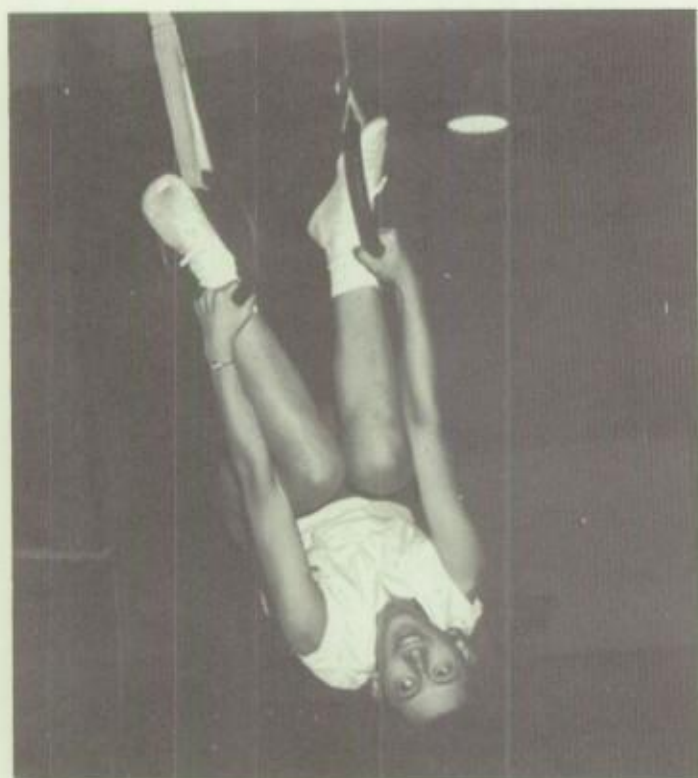

Fitness Is the Goal of Energetic Students

Concentration shows in the face of Becky Lovegrove as she watches the ball.

Red-faced Bill Kaler keeps perfect balance.

A wide-eyed Linda Luttrell wonders what to do next.

A lap around the gym or a lap of the pool, exercise came dry or wet according to the tastes of KHS students. Gym classes offered many activities to improve physical condition, while swimming classes taught everything from elementary to advanced techniques.

Jim Lipkey stretches his arms to meet the fast-approaching ground.

Potential Artists Begin to Refine Their Talents

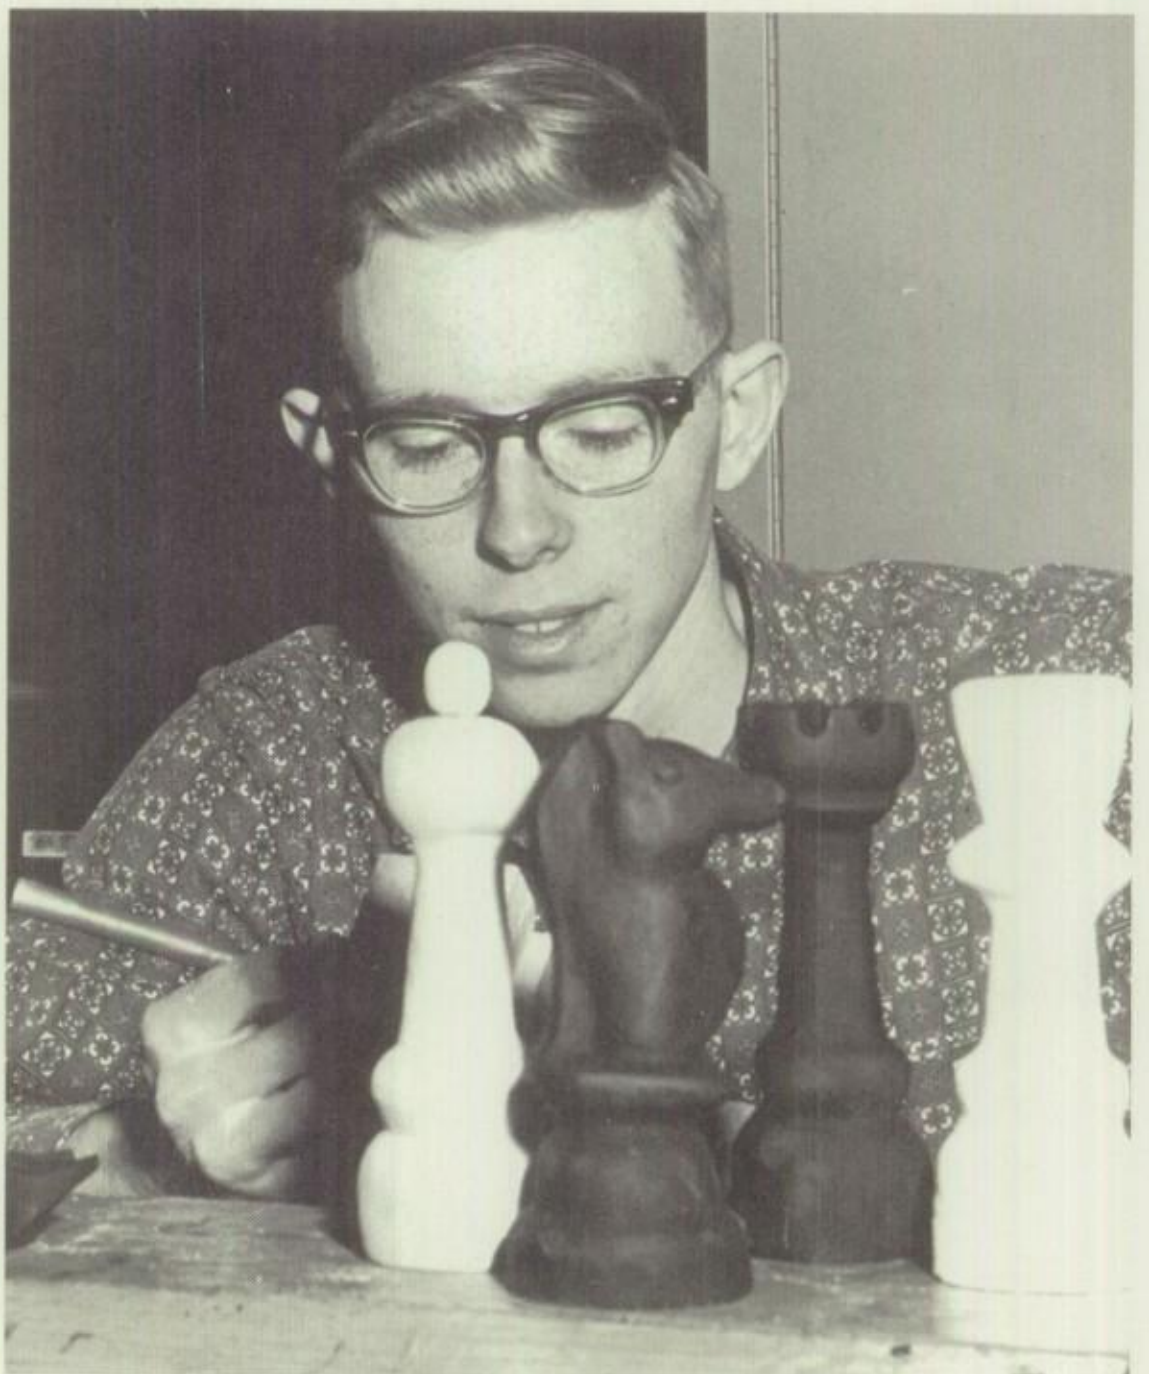

Sandy Keirn finishes a sign alerting any unknowing person of his location.

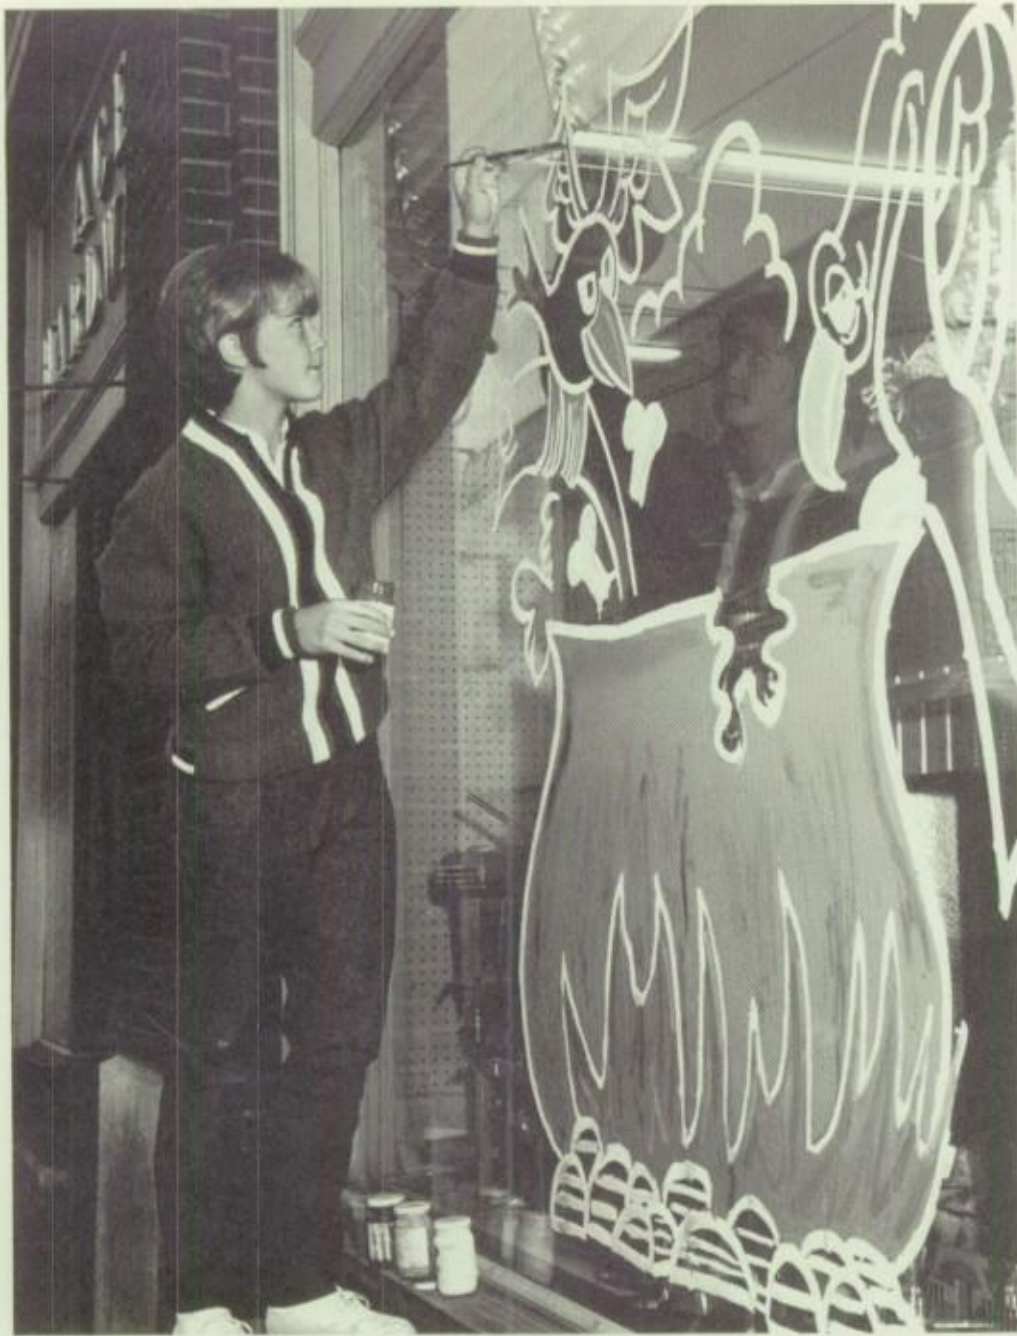

Ron Hall's sculpture portrays man's physique.

Skill and appreciation were the chief products of the art department. In art courses students mastered the basic fundamentals of form and color and then proceeded to develop their talents in painting, sketching, and such advanced techniques as silk screening. They also learned to analyze the beauty of art in its many variations and to benefit from the analysis. Through this work students gained a skill and a deeper appreciation of their world.

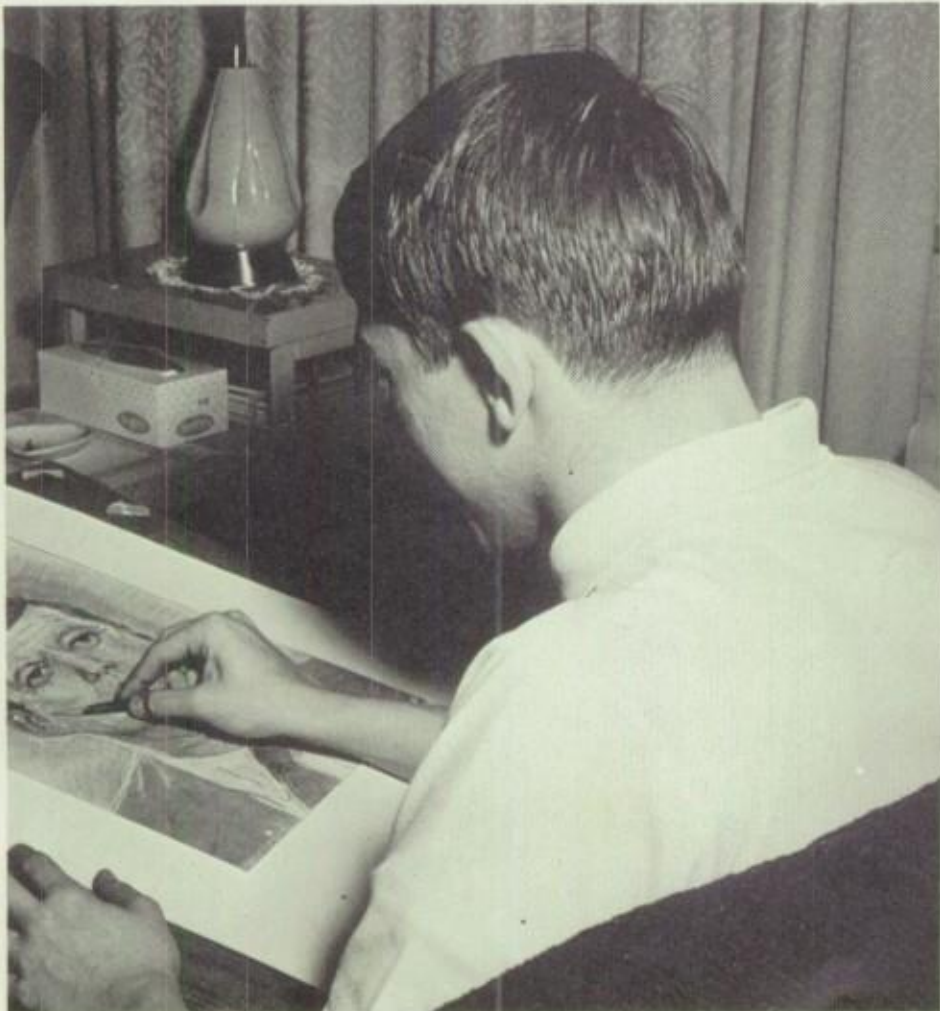

Paul Drake, who excels in wood carving, goes in for chess in a big way.

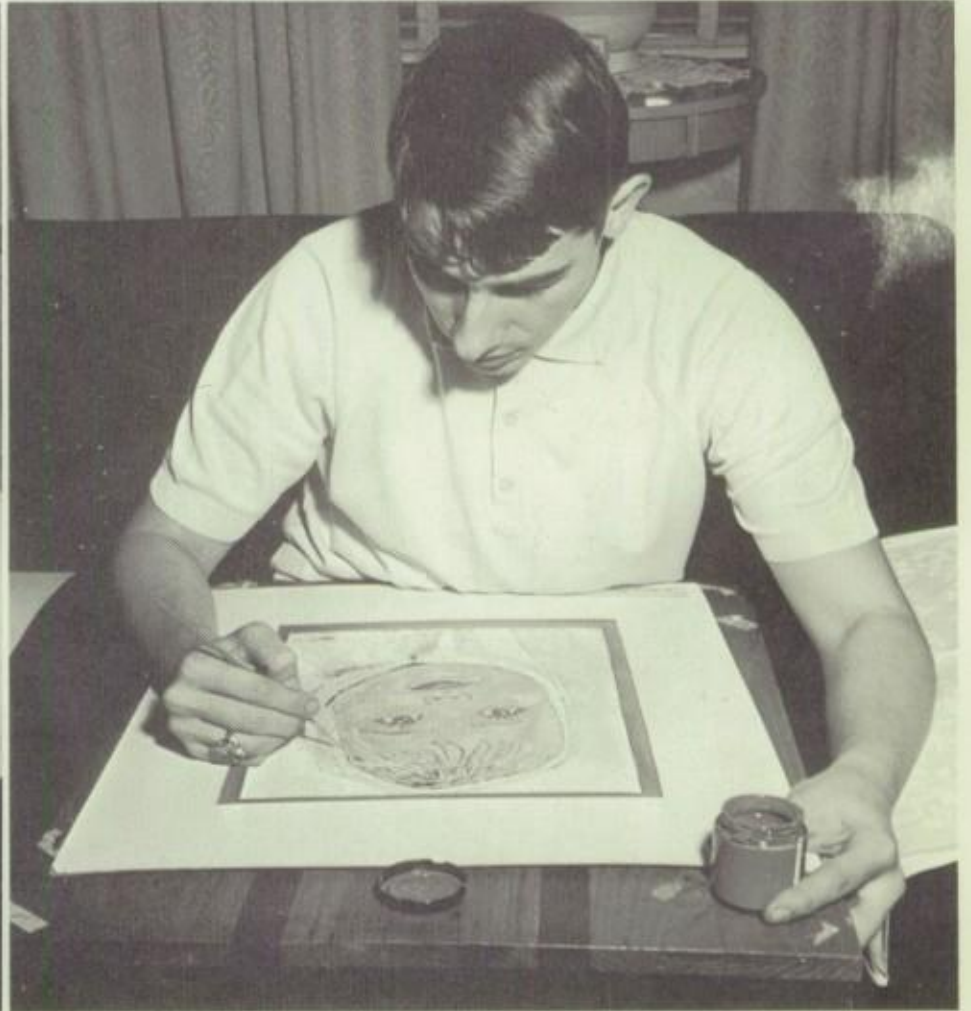

Connie Ford skillfully depicts Halloween characters on store windows.

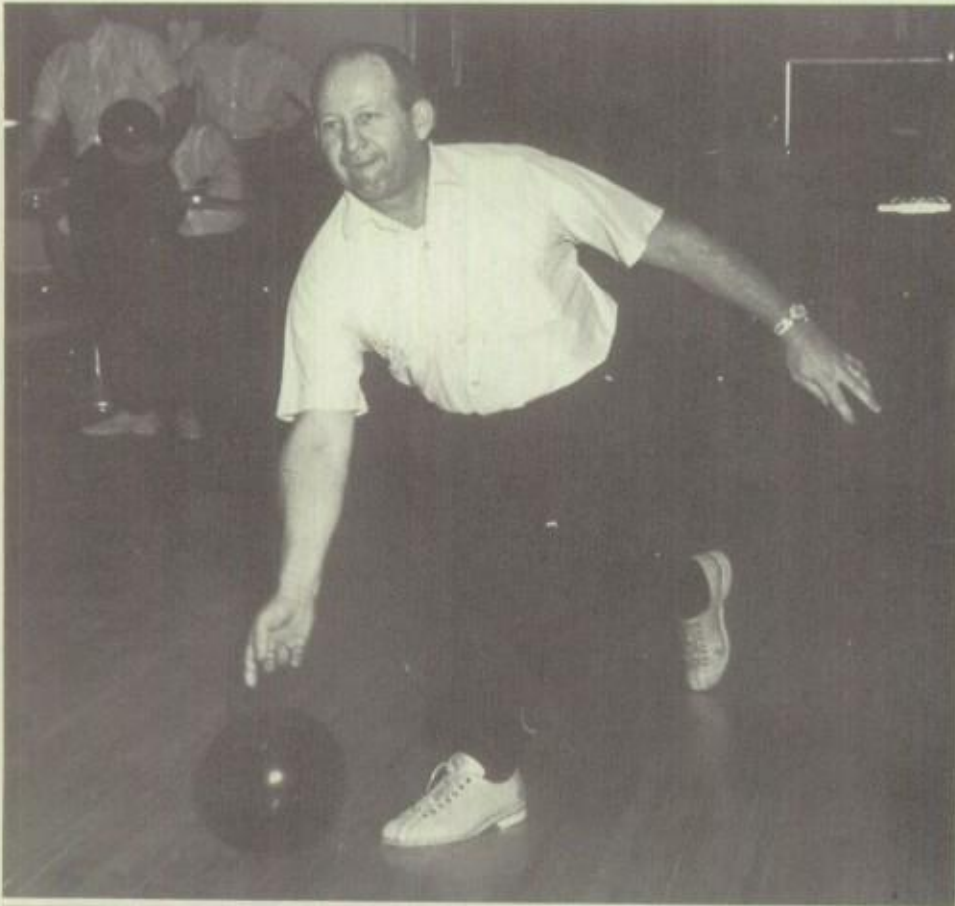

Kathy Davidson keeps her brushes flexible by cleaning.

Expressing himself on canvas, Lanny Haynes employs pencil and paint in his artistry.

Hobbies Are Popular Among KHS Faculty

Thursday finds Mr. Donovan active in the Teachers' Bowling League. Nature has inspired Mr. Robert Mann to grow his own specimens.

Absence of a pointer forces Mr. Franklin to use his glasses. Part-time disc jockey Mr. Belgh prepares to "spin a platter".

What was a standard "fixture" in every KHS classroom and the most widely sought-after aid for a student's difficulties? A teacher, of course!

The students of Kokomo High were very fortunate to have a dedicated and progressive legion of teachers to guide them through English grammar, complicated math, or involved mechanics. They were always ready to give assistance when called upon, even when it meant staying after school, preparing extra tests, or missing a meeting. Their help did not terminate with school work. Many a student's problem was discussed and settled over the desk of an understanding teacher.

Our teachers' talents, however, went far beyond the classroom. Although various extracurricular committees and club sponsorships required much of their time, many maintained hobbies. The variety of interests ranged anywhere from making Christmas decorations to collecting rocks to radio announcing. Their skills were also beneficial to community and church activities. The faculty of KHS proved that "Teachers are human."

Incessant Growth of KHS Requires Time, Energy,

COOKS—Pauline Rogers, Eileen Varnadore, Julia Meritt, Mary Lou Harrell, Opal Pavey.

There were many people without whose services KHS could not have functioned. The custodians and matrons worked faithfully to keep the campus clean and efficient, and they also found time to give cheer-imparting smiles to harried students. In the cafeteria the cooks produced balanced, attractive noon meals for the student body, while the personnel of the bookstore supplied the essential tools of education. The Audio-Visual Department utilized its facilities to clarify work.

The Student Council, benefiting the community and smoothing student-faculty relationships, had an extremely busy and worthwhile year. Each officer and representative devoted time, energy, and ideas to help complete the Council's projects and generally improve our school. Many served in the four standing committees—extra-curricular, student welfare, student relations, and public relations—which kept Council meetings running smoothly.

Activities which the Council sponsored included Parents' Night, the TB patch test, and pep sessions. Other tasks delegated to the representatives were the decoration of the Christmas tree, the Junior Red Cross Program, and the preparation of two publications, Lens and the Kat Kaller.

Climbing to new heights, Steve Mayes risks his neck on a ladder to take a picture.

Like its namesake the Sargasso Sea, our yearbook was a collector. It gathered in ideas, events, faces, emotions, and memories in order that they might not be forgotten. The staffs worked many hours to produce a book surpassing the high ratings of past Sargassos.

Business staff members, under the direction of Mrs. Philapy, labored to complete sales, to help with underclassmen pictures, and to solve technical problems.

The editorial staff, with more pages than ever, fought to meet deadlines and complete pages. With Mr. Bond's aid and advice the editors employed creative photography and new journalistic methods to produce what they hoped would be the finest Sargasso ever.

Mr. Bond is delighted with a gag gift given to him as Peggy Conley and the staff enjoy his reactions.

Jane Lewis forms an important part of the staff as a typist.

With its new offset printing process and a different texture of paper, the Red and Blue took on a new look this year. The editors used more and better pictures to illustrate their stories, but their concerns were still the opinions and interests of KHS students. While regular issues covered day-to-day news, several special issues highlighted events of the year.

Festive Activities Brighten Homecoming Victory

Suzanne Berry, Kathy Goldsmith, and Debbie Maddox, the royal candidates, are brought to the football field to begin the Homecoming celebration.

KHS students and fans warm themselves by the huge pre-game bonfire while awaiting the arrival of the victorious Wildcats.

Receiving the prize-winning trophies are Sherrie Donoghue, Pam Smith, and Teresa Sottong.

Despite near-freezing temperatures, the crowds for this year's Homecoming were caught up in a spirit of festivity. The pre-game activities included the customary bonfire and a poster-and-float parade conducted by members of KHS roll rooms and organizations. Roll room 436 received first prize for its creation and Palette Club second. The crowning of the homecoming queen, the recognizing of 1955 graduates, and the performances of the bands added sparkle to the exciting football victory.

Stella Carter, Sandy Callis, George Campbell, and Denny Camden take part in the third annual Homecoming parade.

The Girls' League kept the atmosphere of KHS full of feminine sunshine with its many activities. Its first project, the Girls' League play, captivated many young hearts, and a little later the Autumn Prom, with its theme of "Rusty Rendezvous," charmed some slightly older ones. "Apple for a Teacher Day," and the Father-Daughter Romp led to the climax of the year, the Mother-Daughter Reception.

Although every boy at KHS was automatically a member of Boys' Legion, only a few had the privilege of being representatives to the Council. Five senior members, the Board of Directors, supervised Legion activities with the aid of three representatives from each class. These officers and representatives were all elected by the male segment of KHS.

Under the leadership of Dean Craig, the Boys' Legion was a particularly active organization this year. Its clean-up of the school campus helped to give KHS a "new look." A popular activity was the Hootenanny, but the main event was the "Stardust," a semi-formal dance.

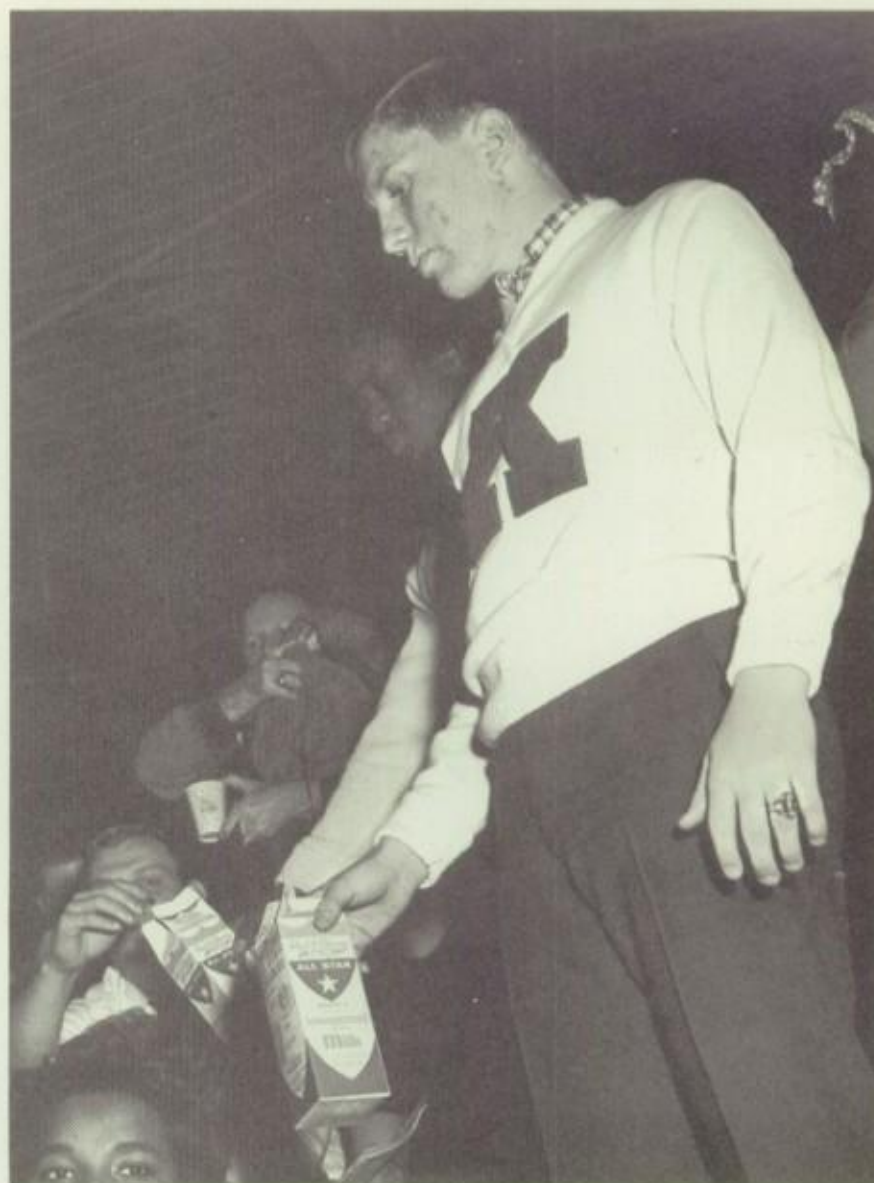

Enjoying an evening of fun, the Boys' Legion and Girls' League council members try their hand at pool.

Held by the junior class to honor the graduating seniors, the Luau was the last major social event of the school year. Senior royalty were chosen by the students of the two classes, and a king and queen were crowned in a ceremony highlighting the evening. Hawaiian food and bright decorations created an atmosphere which combined with casual dress and dance music, produced an evening enjoyable to all.

Scholastic and journalistic achievement was recognized and honored at KHS through two honorary societies. The National Honor Society, with its ideals of scholarship, leadership, service, and character, inducted into its membership those upper-classmen whose academic records and qualities of character were deemed outstanding by the faculty. These new members constituted five per cent of the junior class and ten per cent of the senior class.

The Quill and Scroll Society recognized achievement among the staffs of school publications. Its membership was open to juniors and seniors who ranked in the upper third of their class and who had a sponsor's recommendation.

AFS Foreign Exchange Students Strive to Form

Sachiko Otsuka from Tokyo, Japan.

At IFTA initiation Dorothy Birt, Elaine Simpson, Al Prates, Cheryle Hadley, Sachi Otsuka, and Pam Coyner laugh at the antics of prancing ducks.

Sachi enjoys an American hamburger with Laurice Johnson.

When Sachi tries to ice-skate, she experiences a sensation of falling.

"Humanity lived in harmony. Fear, enemy, and war were forgotten words . . ." Will such a world become fact? The American Field Service is striving to make it so. Since World War II the AFS has exemplified the Sanskrit passage:

"Walk together

Talk together

O ye people of the earth:

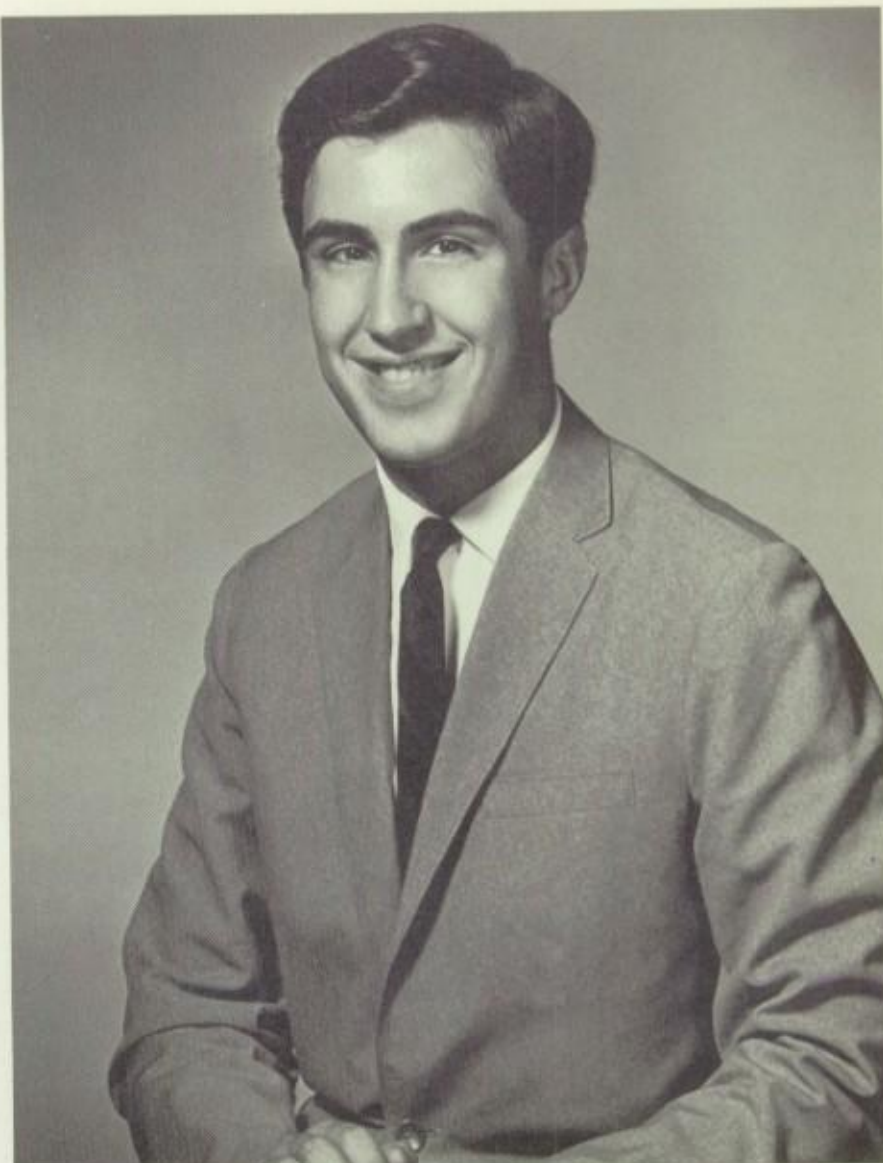

Then and only then shall ye have peace."

Our AFS students, Sachiko Otsuka of Japan, who lived with the family of the Rev. Samuel Johnson; and Alcides Prates of Brazil, who lived with the family of Dr. Carl Ault, helped to pave this road to peace this year at KHS.

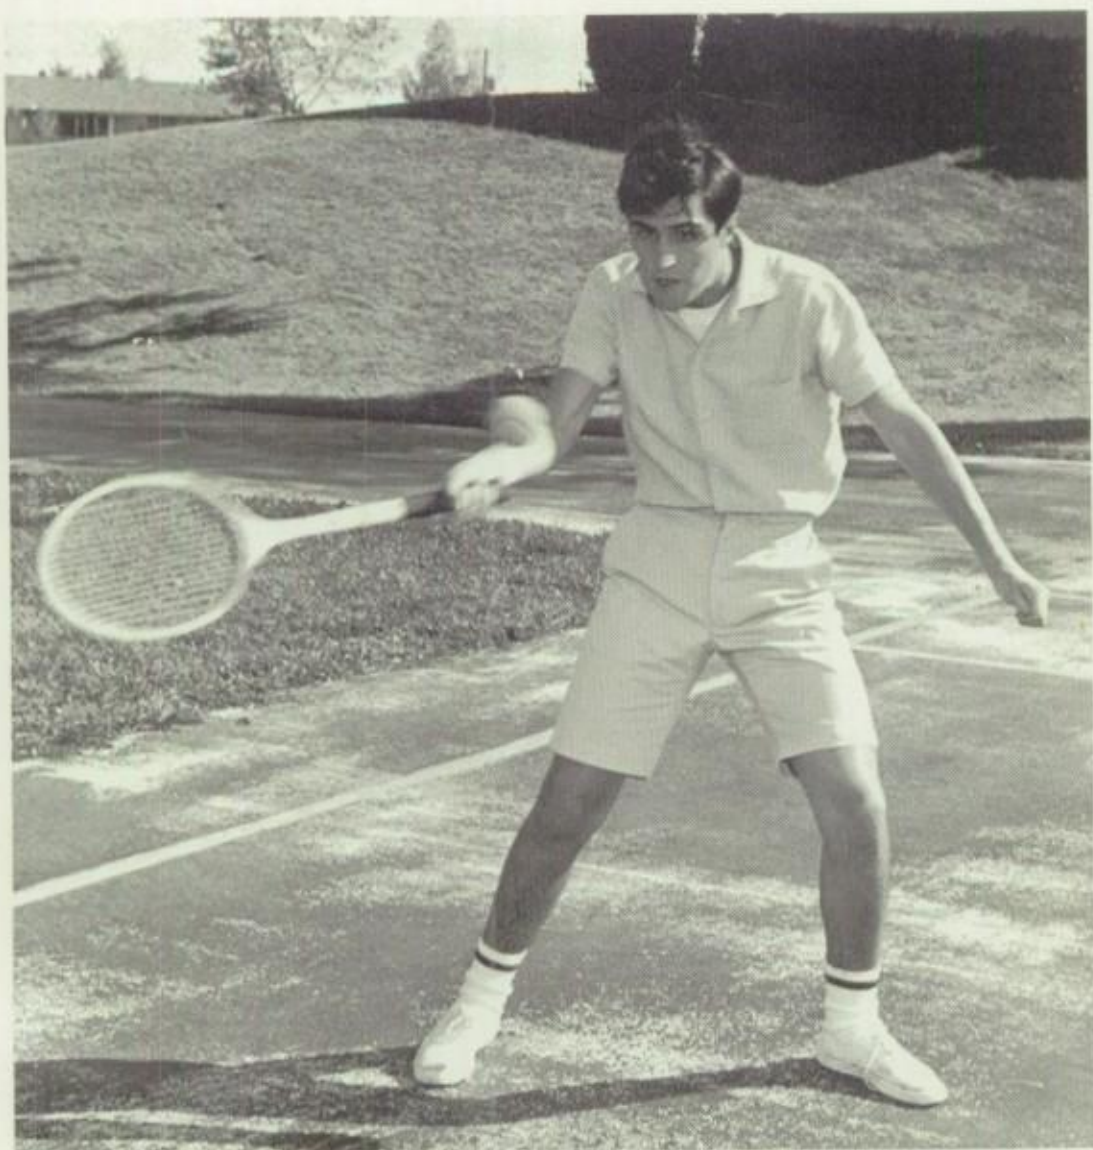

Worldwide Friendships

The study of government stimulates Al to a discussion with Dave Collins.

Alcides Prates of Porto Alegre, Brazil.

At his American parents' home, Al plays a fast game of tennis on their court.

Al joins easily into the art of dating by escorting Sherri Leicht to a local movie.

A band ensemble practices long hours for a fine performance.

Junior Heart members brave cold weather for contributions.

Dramatists audition for Once Upon a Mattress.

Nationwide program provides insight into industry.

Future Teachers chat during convention.

At Christmas, business gives way to amusement.

Communicative Arts Are Displayed in the Dramatic

Sherri Moss, Jacque Hendricks, Peggy Conley. FIFTH ROW: Janice Pumphrey, Mary Ann Armfield, Vicki Wolfcale, Christy Butcher, Cheryl Zilligen, Marianne Gentry, Jane Downey, Susie Freed, Kathy Bell, Gwen Hahn. SIXTH ROW: Jack Seymour, Jeff Hayes, Larry Vitatoe, Al Prates, Marilyn Doversberger, George Hahn, John Nolan, Phil Davenport, John Morr, Gary Dahlquist, Greg Keller. SEVENTH ROW: Don Kuhs, Phil Whitfield, Ken Felt, John Candlish, Walter Ullman, Tony Akemann, Mark Ashburn, Alan Fell, David Butcher, Bill Ferguson, Dave Carson.

By applying make-up to Tony Akemann before the curtain goes up, Judy Collins gives him an ancient look.

Mrs. Water's and Mrs. Whitefield's tempers flare, shocking Susan (Lou Ann Meyer, Pam Dale, Angela Gordon).

"Down in front for criticisms," and "Break a leg!" were the familiar cries of rehearsals and opening nights for the Dramatic Club. Their first production of the year, Tom Jones, proved most successful despite a Friday the 13th performance. Christmas brought drama with a religious spirit as the "Gift of the Magi" and "The Other Wiseman" were presented to the student body and local groups. The club offered its scholarships and special honors at a spring banquet.

Production, "Tom Jones"

Henrietta (Cindy Holtgren) and Sophia (Susan Riggs) console each other on a lonely road, while bandits lurk in the bushes.

While looking for a place to spend the night, Tom (Darwin McVay) comforts a distraught widow (Lou Ann Meyer).

John Morr and Walter Ullman prove to be of help to Phil Whitfield in "The Fourth Wise Man."

"Upon my word, Lady Bellaston, you want Mr. Jones for yourself." (Susan Roache, Cindy Holtgren).

Club Members Communicate with German Friends

Ormsby, Mr. Gale Leiter, sponsor. THIRD ROW: Carolyn Atkinson, Arthur Ormsby, Wesley Jeffries, Robert Eriksen, Nancy Moloch, Mel Hobbs.

Mel Hobbs and Steve Denman record their voices on a tape to send to a school in Germany.

Locating the town in Germany where he will be spending the summer, Randy Burkhart studies a map.

As the earth was said to be growing smaller, the world of KHS German Club members grew larger. These students had more than the AFS to keep them interested in foreign nations. Through them, Helmholtz Gymnasium and KHS exchanged cultures; the Gymnasium, located in Hilden, Germany, and the German Club sent tapes and scrapbooks to each other. This exchange and other activities helped members to understand Germany's people as well as its language.

Spanish Club Studies Cultures of Two Countries

Dreaming of a trip to Mexico, Marlene Hartman looks at a travel brochure.

Cindy Richards and Joe Cantu lead a discussion of plans for their language party.

Working on a Spanish newspaper, Sandy Ford and Amy Martin discuss future articles.

The Spanish Club again opened its membership to all those interested in learning more about "la cultura del espanol." Club members explored the customs, literature, art, and history of Spain through guest speakers, slides, and films. The Spanish Club's major outside activity of the year was a Christmas "fiesta," for which members learned Christmas carols in Spanish and constructed a "pinata."

Need for Information Adds Value to Library Club

THIRD ROW: June Artis, Karyl Laitinen, Janice Moffitt, Diana Stewart, Antoinette Perkins, Susan Rudicel. FOURTH ROW: Stephanie Lynch, Barbara Stoneking, Leann Harrell, Joetta Shaffer, Rebecca Lovegrove, Sherri Oden, Mildred Greene.

Over her head in books, Pat Davis starts at the top and works down.

Sherri Oden and Joetta Shaffer find that Christmas is a time for giving as they make presents for their mothers.

Books, Magazines, and pamphlets were the tools of the trade for members of the Library Club. Every member spent a free hour each day shelving, cataloging, and withdrawing books for the busy readers of our school.

Besides devoting time to book work, the library assistants engaged in other activities. The club schedule included an initiation for new members, a Christmas party for mothers, and a spring farewell party for senior members.

Forensic Activities Help Develop Speaking Skills

Women are not the only ones who like to talk. Proof of this fact was found in the speech organizations of KHS.

The Speech Club covered the major fields of public speaking. Preparing for the many speech contests to which they traveled, club members at meetings often entertained the group with speeches or dramatic interpretations.

Members of the Debate Team spent many hours in research preparing for numerous debates around Indiana. They had to study their subject carefully to be able to debate them before judges.

The eventual goals of many speakers were to gain membership in the National Forensic League and to earn some of the special NFL honors.

Amateur Artistic Abilities Ignited by Palette Club

Martha Clevenger. THIRD ROW: Mary Rocchio, Kathy Frazer, Marsha Clevenger, Carol Meers, Cindy Weaver, Kathy Long, Carol Baughman. FOURTH ROW: Bill Horn, Bob Maudlin, John Monroe, Jim Barber, Paul Gilbert, Wayne Tarr, Mark Daniels.

Another Palette meeting is begun with the minutes by Mary Rocchio.

Paul Gilbert sands his project entitled "Three-Dimensional Man."

A swish, a swab, a dab, and the Palette Club member was practicing his trade. The club's activities included exploration of various mediums of art, a tour of the John Herron Art Institute, and a visit to the art museums of Chicago. The highlight of the year was the Young Artists Present program.

Young Artists Display Creativity in Production

Mr. Shauver instructs the band on rehearsal night procedures for Young Artists Present.

Engrossed in practicing the musical selection, Don Ridenour beats out the blues.

The band combo auditions before an audience of Palette members.

KHS had no Carol Burnett or Caterina Valente, but it did have "Entertainers." When the music and art departments co-operated to produce the second Young Artists Present program, singing groups, dance acts and talented performers materialized from every corner of the school. Their talent and efforts created an enjoyable show for the entire community.

Toni Ferenc and Linda Donoghue paint sets to be used on production night.

Kokettes Strive for Perfection of Routines

Cindy Lewis and Becky Dunn find that following Marcia Davis is an easy way.

The Kokettes, colorfully attired in red and white outfits, added to the excitement and pageantry of KHS athletic events. Under the direction of Mrs. Pat Riebeling, this group spent many hours practicing dance routines for pre-game and half-time performances. The girls also appeared in parades and assisted the yell block with its Christmas program.

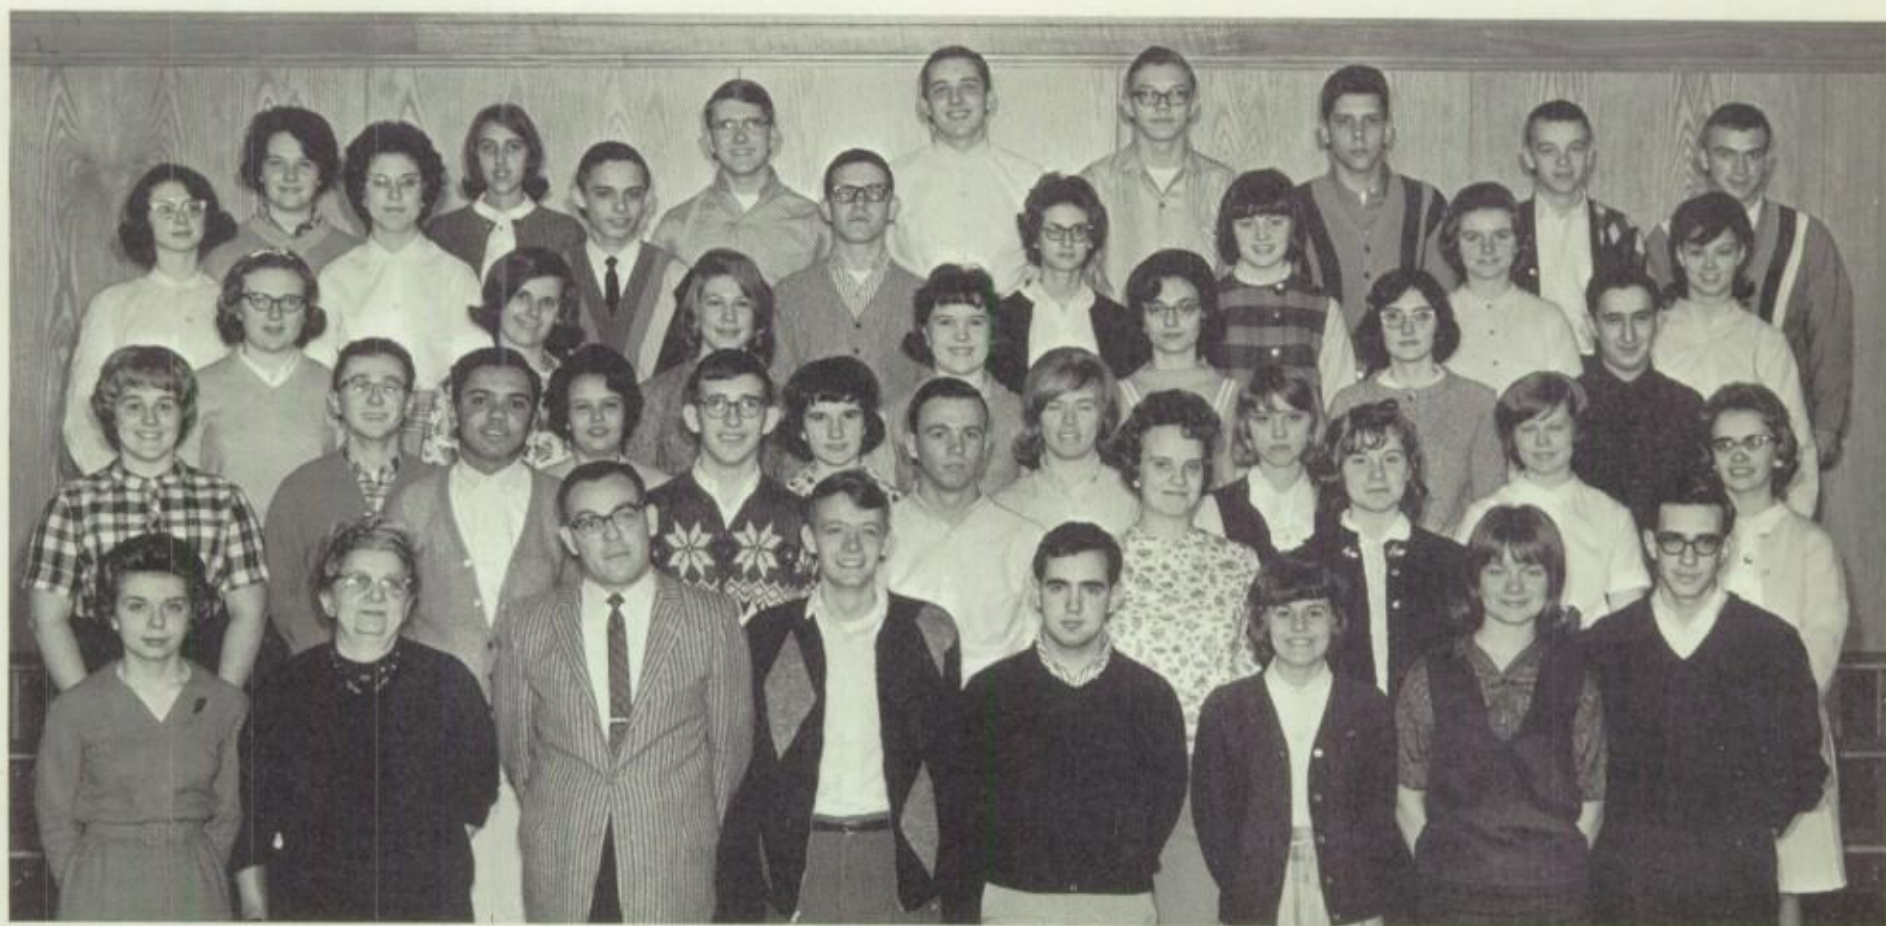

Performing at the games can be cold as Jacque Morgan discovers.

Joyce Poe, Marcia Davis, Barb Bennett, Connie Reed, Connie Ruth.

Recently Organized JCL Probes Roman Culture

Gary Washburn enjoys reading the various articles in the JCL paper.

The Junior Classical League was a large new addition to the list of KHS activities. It had an auspicious beginning, with a total membership of 121 students, mostly from Latin classes. As its name indicates, the primary function of the JCL was to stimulate student interest in the civilization, language, and literature of ancient Greece and Rome.

Dancing was one of the many activities at the JCL party.

Speakers Clarify Business World for Students

The importance of IBM is explained to Future Business Leaders by James McCauley.

KHS added a new member to its long list of activities with the formation of the Future Business Leaders Club. Open to students taking business subjects, this organization employed guest speakers, educational materials, and social functions to develop leadership and encourage interest in business occupations.

Vickie Currens comes into contact with the business world as a cashier.

Clubs Probe the Events of the Past and Present

Tania Robeson, Pat Rocchio, Bill McKoon, Debbie Jones. THIRD ROW: Jerry Gragg, Brock Van Meter, Dave Golightly, Rick Mahoney.

Students interested in social studies had a choice of two clubs this year. While the International Relations club investigated foreign customs and situations, the History Club stressed the appreciation of history on a state and local level.

By looking at magazines, Pat Rocchio studies world events for model U.N. assembly.

Medicine Comes into Focus for Aspiring M.D.'s

The hospital's radiology equipment fascinates Bob Lutz and club members.

By talking to Dr. Golper, Gary Ault explores the medical profession.

Hypnotism, psychology, and dentistry were only a few of the variety of topics investigated by the members of the Future Physicians Club. Due to its student participation and varied activities, this club proved to be one of the most active at KHS. Its members gained valuable knowledge about medicine through trips to the IU Medical Center and to the radiology and therapy departments at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Future Nurses Perceive Difficulties of the Career

Marilyn Gerard winces with pain, as Cindy Jay prepares her arm with alcohol for the time test.

In keeping with the ideals of the nursing profession, members of the Future Nurses of America spent an active year learning and serving others. Guest speakers and field trips kept members informed about recent advances in nursing, and the sale of TB bangles gave them a chance to serve the community.

IFTA and Teachers of Tomorrow Explore the

Pam Owsley and J. W. Hanawalt sing the IFTA song.

Upperclassmen considering the teaching profession pursued their interest in the Indiana Future Teachers of America. The club's first activity this year was the IFTA Fall Area meeting held at KHS. Members made favors for nursing homes at Thanksgiving and honored the faculty during National Education Week and Christmas.

Vast Field of Education That Lies Before Them

Club members singing carols at their party for underprivileged children.

The Teachers of Tomorrow combined education and service in their club schedule. At meetings members learned about their chosen profession through related experiences of guest speakers. One of the club's projects was the re-outfitting of dolls to be presented to the Salvation Army, and another was its Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Steve Coble, Dave Jenkins, Dick Brown, Steve Patterson, Dave McPike. THIRD ROW: David Bennett, Todd Broadlick, High Nixon, David Vance, Bob McKee, Dan Hillman, Richard Russell, John Bromley, Mike Kilmer, Gary James, Bill Madary, Ken Conklin, David Wolf. FOURTH ROW: John Bruegge, Mike Geary, P. A. Yeoman, Dan Dwyer, Steve Jones, Bill Norris, Brock Van Meter, Philip Stover, Dan Gentry, Robert Knisely, Bob Ingle.

Sno-ball queen, Rena Reynolds is caught up in the spirit of the music.

Dan Gentry and Bob Knisely recite the traditional Hi-Y purpose.

The Hi-Y clubs strived to promote service and citizenship in the youth of our community. Each club competed with the others for points from community service projects, and the club which earned the most points during the year received an award. The Hi-Y also sponsored the annual Sno-Ball dance.

Tri Hi-Y Emphasizes High Ideals and Character

Tri-Hi-Y was a service club for junior girls sponsored by the YMCA. Among its projects were work in the hospitals, help to the Salvation Army, aid for the Hi-Y Christmas tree sale, and sponsorship of two after-game dances.

The Y-Teens was a group of girls sponsored by the YWCA. They held a Christmas party for underprivileged children and sold candy for a spring trip to Washington.

Susie Stevenson works hard collecting donations for the Salvation Army.

Energetic Y-Teens Stimulate Community Service

In anticipation of the Washington trip, Phyllis Ruemler packs.

Pleased with the profits of their candy-selling project, Terry Delancy and Donna Rhyne reward themselves with samples.

Junior Achievement Brings About Knowledge and

Finishing a doormat for final approval and sale are Kathy Roswog and Gary Budd.

Pat Sears and Phil Stein work on completion of their product, trash burner covers.

All members of a Junior Achievement company, KOWOPKO, gather for a meeting to discuss profit.

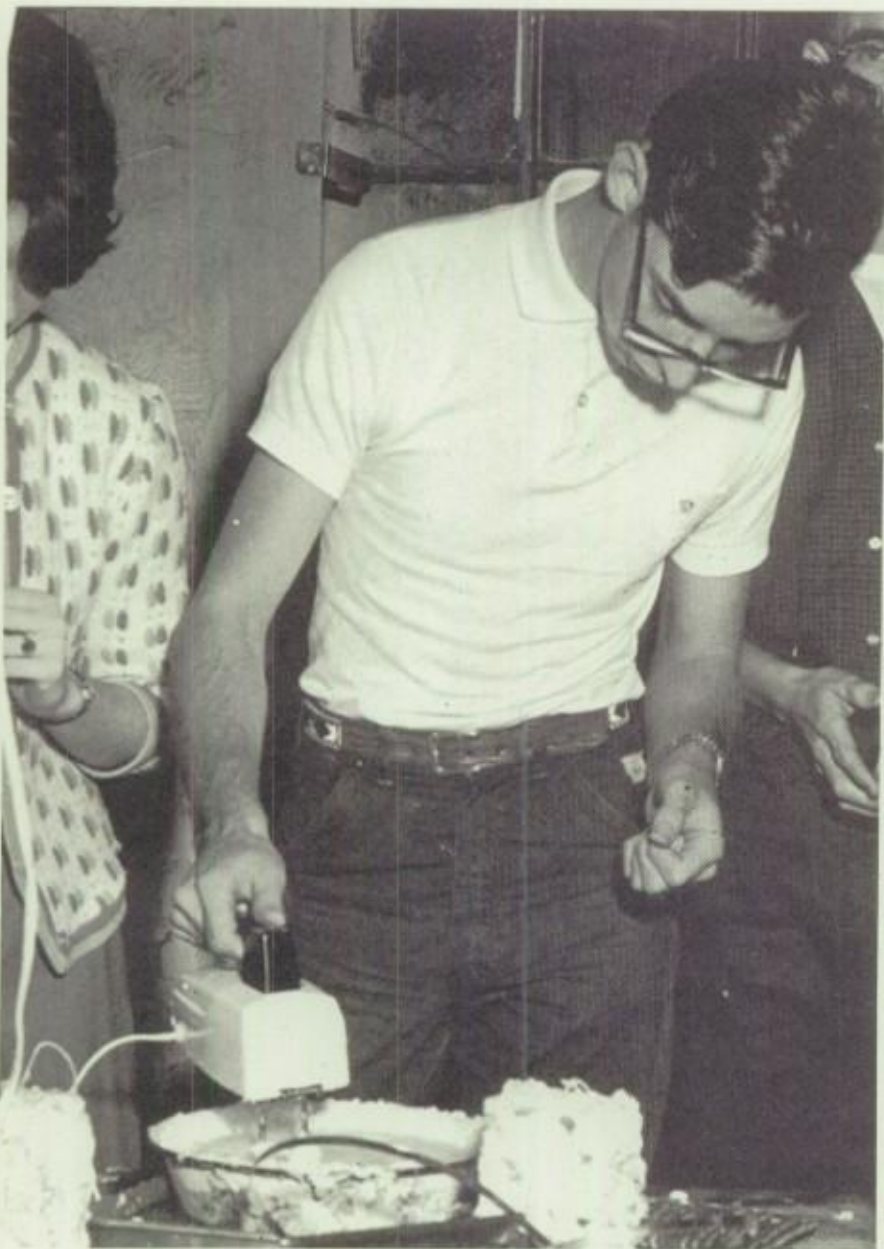

Understanding of the Complex Business World

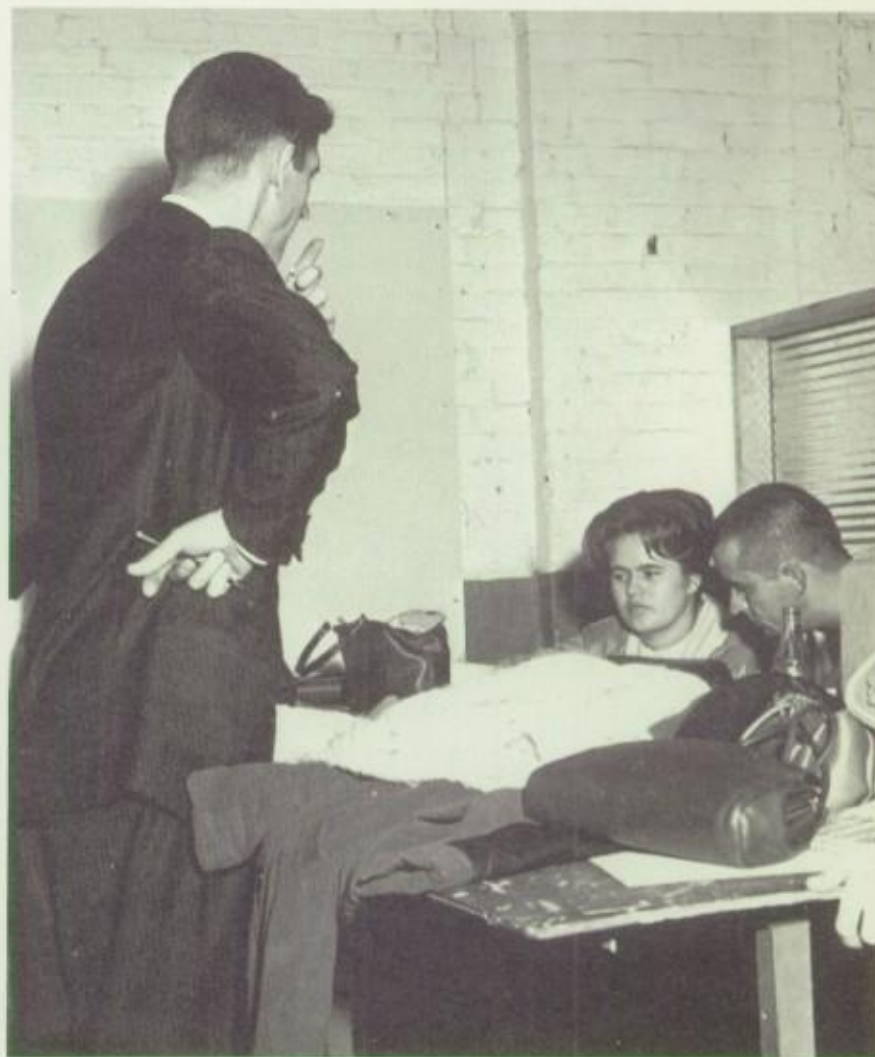

Bob Caine, Mark Geary, and Tom Clark explain a man's job to inexperienced girls.

To start a project Bill Snow and Steve Farrington cut wire mesh.

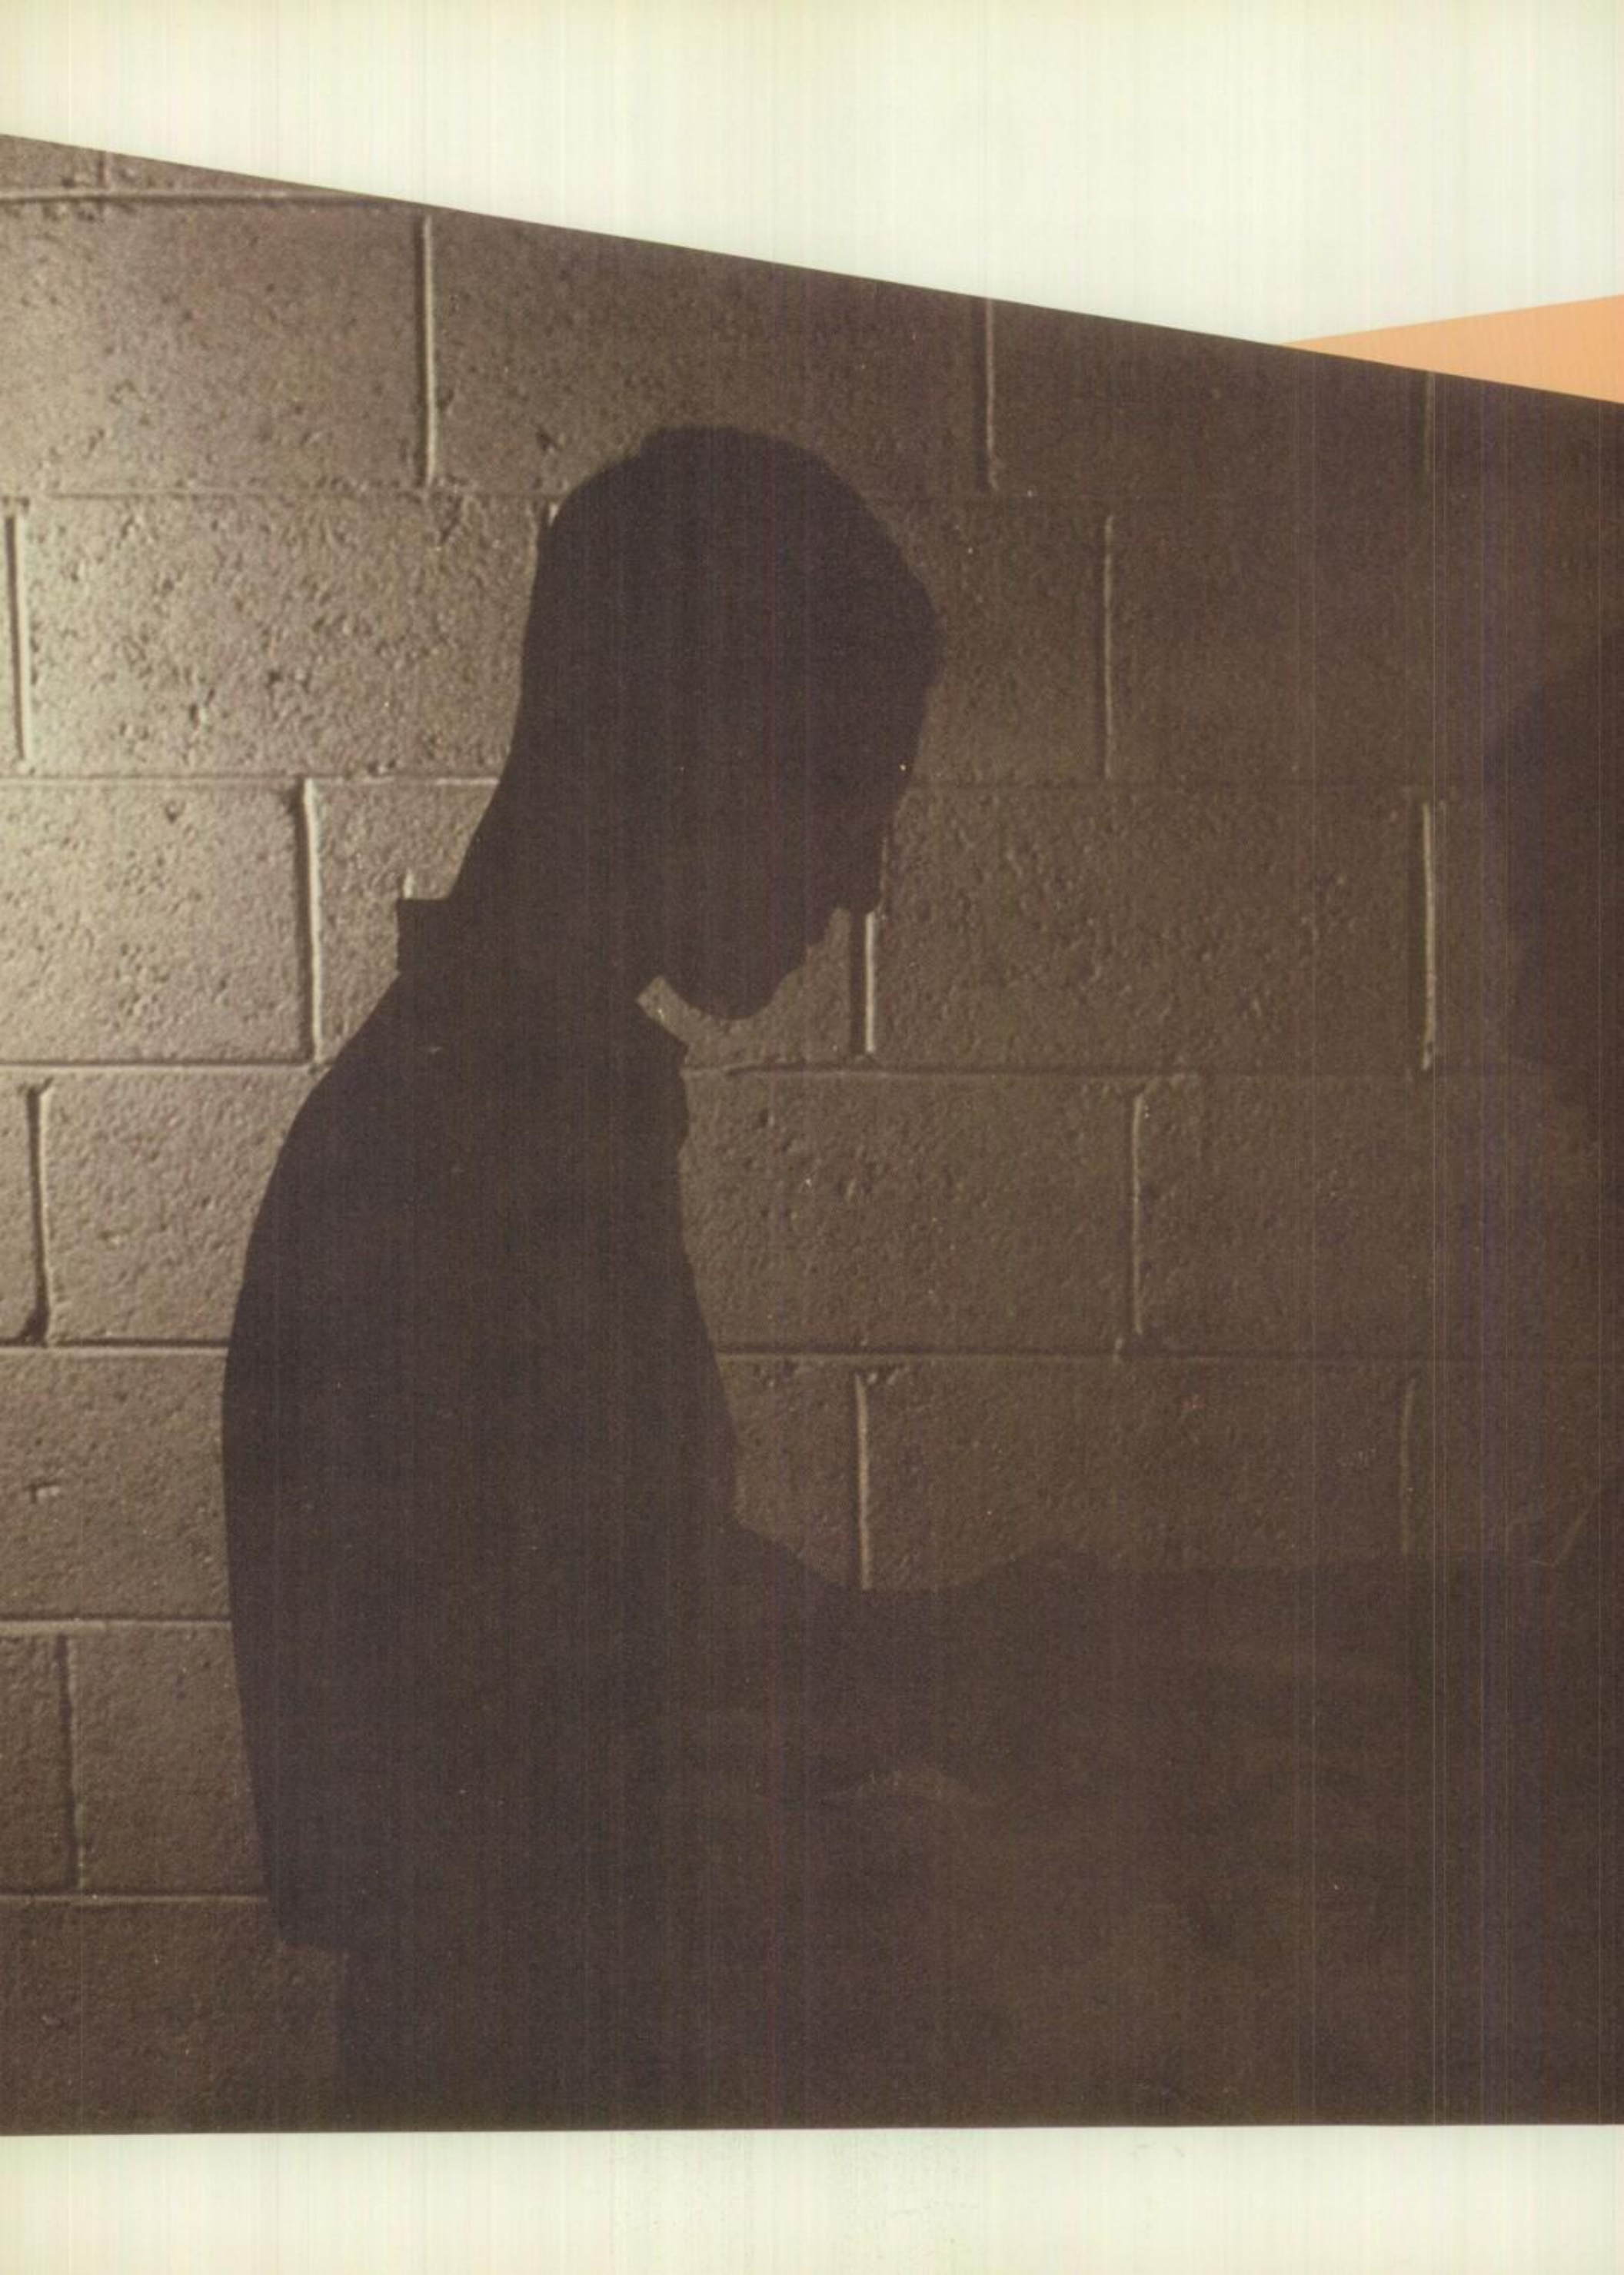

Mixing wax for the outside of candles is Fred Gunnell.

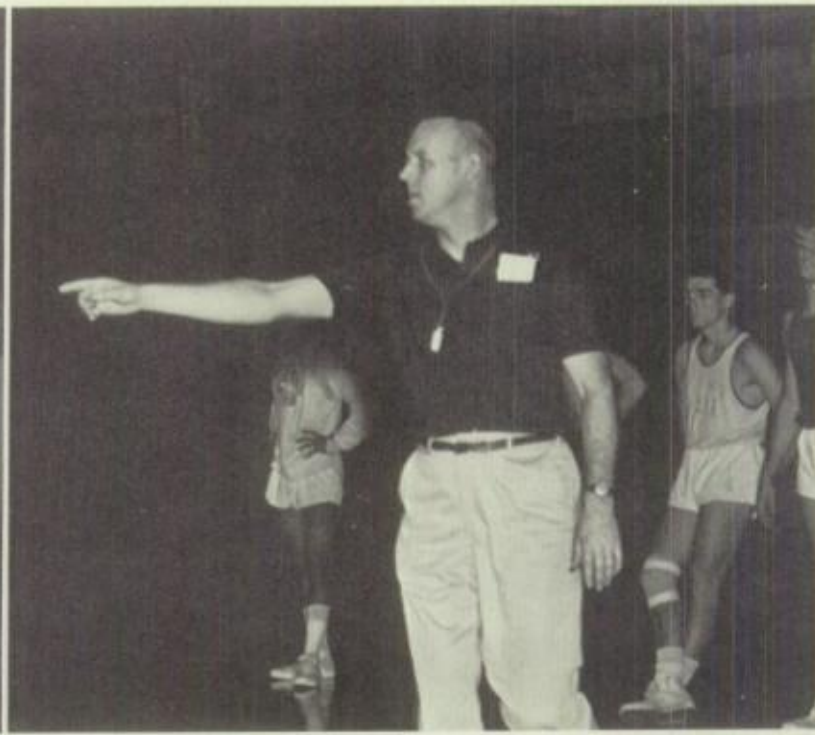

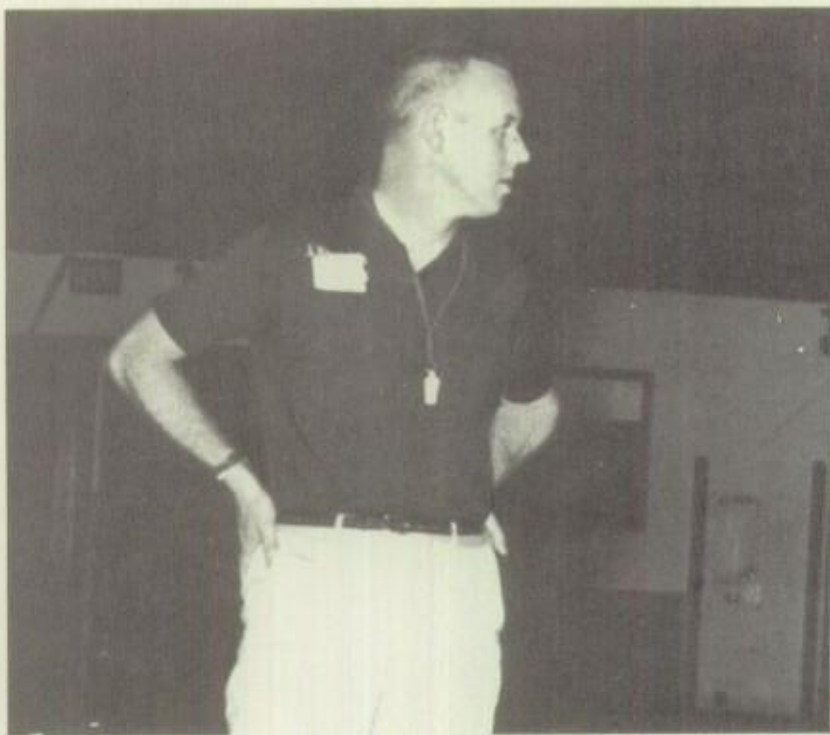

The Junior Achievement advisers prove to be an asset to Nancy Brown.

Under the leadership of experienced businessmen, members of the Junior Achievement of Howard County joined the lively competition of the world of supply and demand. Students from KHS and other area high schools were divided into eight companies, each of which originated, constructed, and sold its own products. Examples of this year's products were stamp moisteners, desk organizers, and door mats.

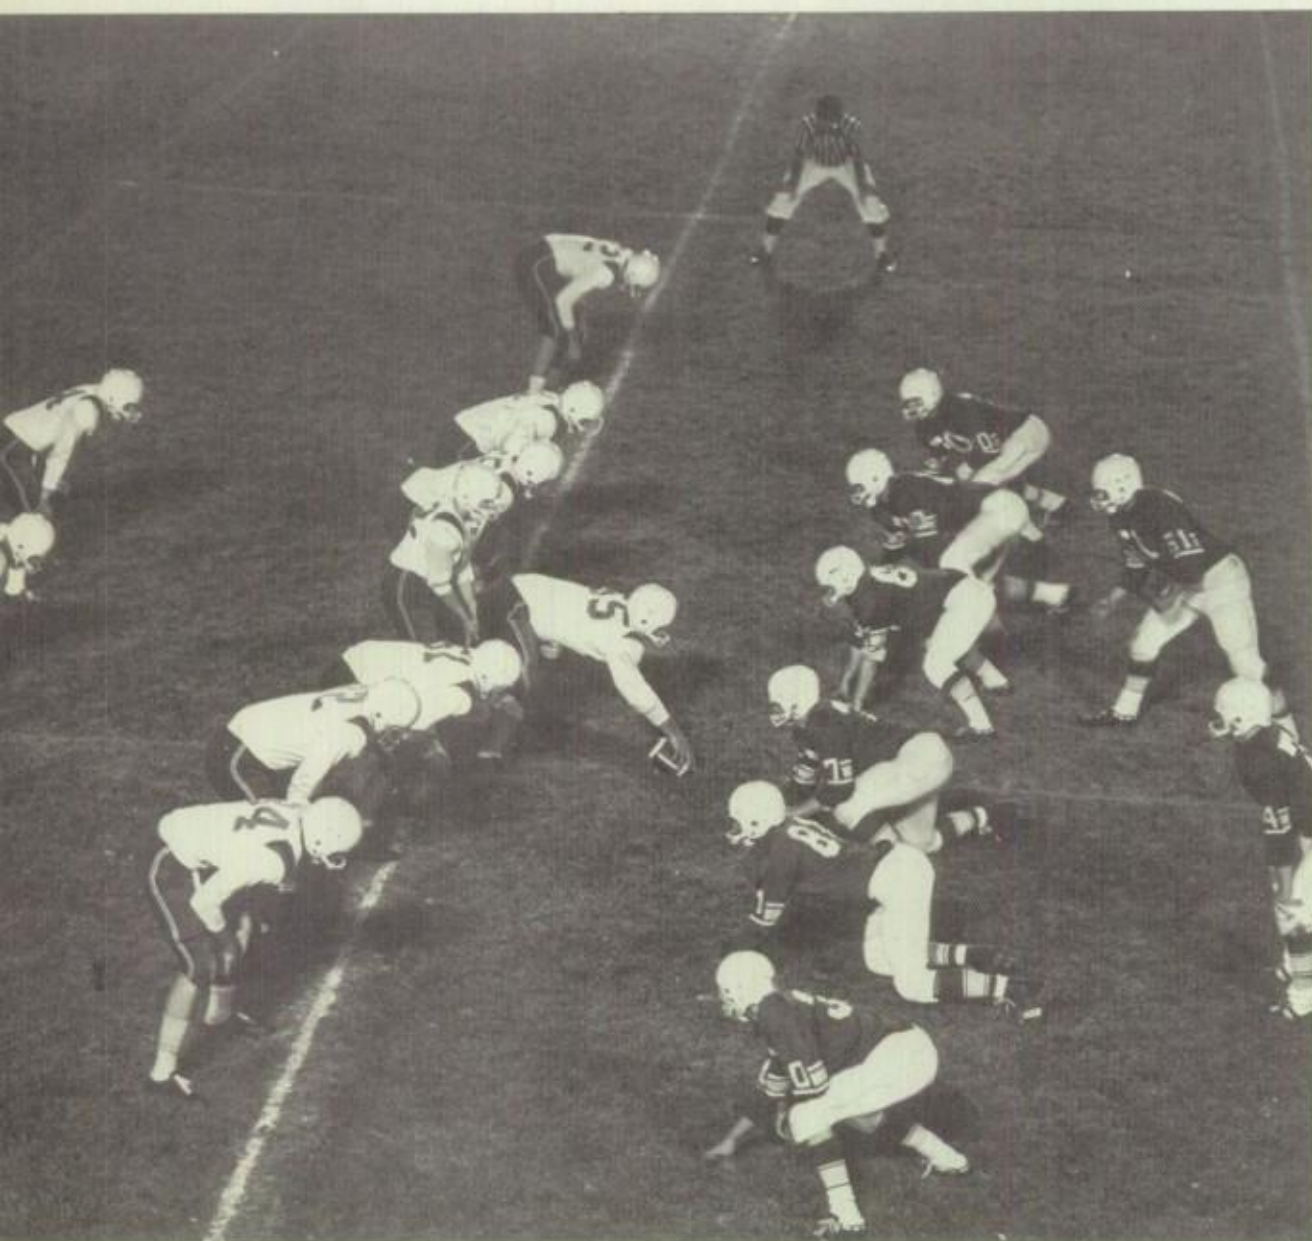

THE LAUDABLE

The seven o'clock scholar, a rugged schedule
—perseverance;
a loud, boosting cheer and a winning season
—ultimately bringing the crown of glory.

Unseen, unsung, the coach refines the skills of the rugged set.

The crowd is hushed as a champion team snaps the ball toward victory.

The face of an athlete tells a story of determination.

A forgotten ticket, a traffic jam, a snowstorm—none dwindle the massive support;
A loss—disappointment—renewed spirit;
The exuberance—carrying the team through all.

Encouragement is vital for superior performance.

Feminine swimmers meet on dry land as Kips initiates earn their membership.

The senior cheerleaders seem to draw the spirit from the fans.

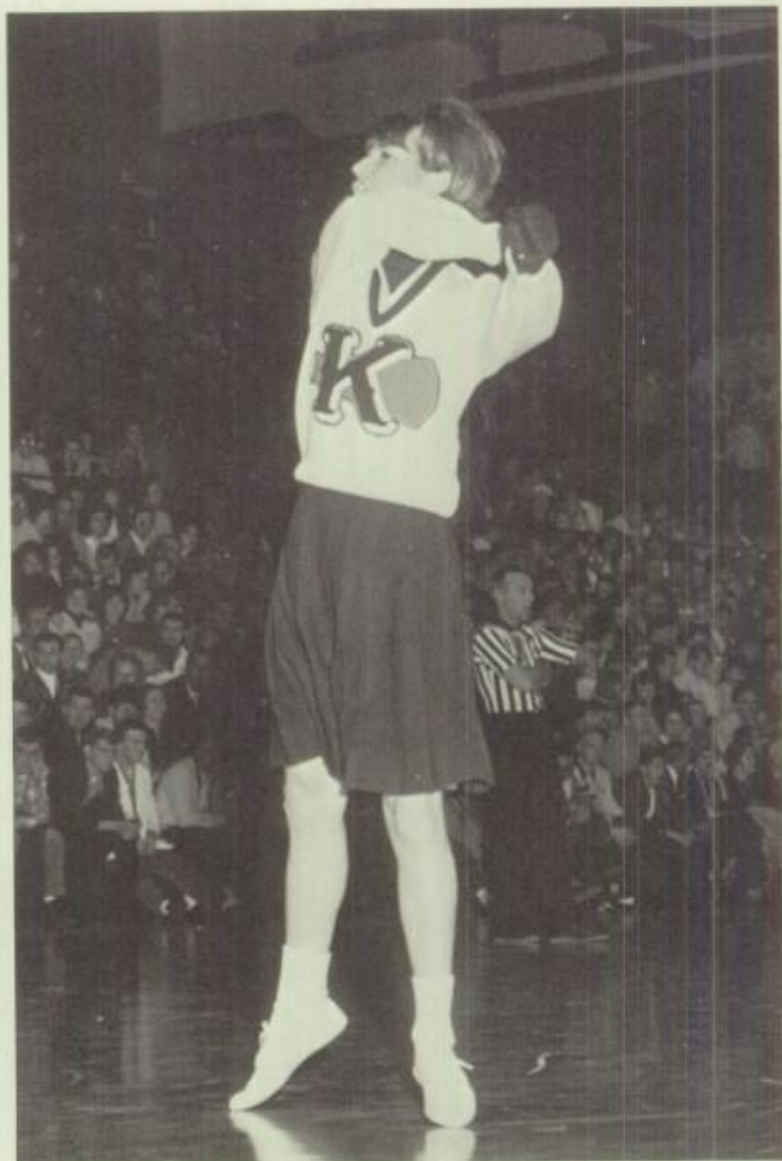

Marria Knight leaps to show the spirit in each yell.

The two juniors, Linda Johnston and Jane Harrold, show that they have learned quickly.

Rena Reynolds proves that, "Through rain, snow, sleet, and football games," the cheerleaders must go on.

Working hard to get a yell from the girls is captain Kathy Nick.

K-Block Adds Spirit and Support to Ball Games

"Go! Fight! Win!" were the spirited words that the Kat cheerleaders lived by. They worked throughout the football and basketball seasons to create school spirit and arouse enthusiasm in both the teams and the spectators. Their hours of practice and planning, alone and with the yellblock, were rewarded at the games by the sportsmanship of the student body, the cheers of the fans, and the victories of our athletic teams.

Our roving photographer catches the varsity cheerleaders in practice.

Fans with Programs

Cheerleaders and block members exchange friendly conversation throughout the evening.

Dismissal often begins in chaos as over-anxious girls pour from their section.

"Coomala, coomala, coomala vesta. Oh! no, no, no, not the vesta!" It could be a distress call from a Martian off course, or it could be the yell of 489 girls struck by "Hoosier Madness." The crowds that attended the KHS basketball games could testify to the enthusiasm of our yell block, the largest in the state, whose members, decked out in bright red and blue, used hand motions, songs, and spirited yells to cheer our Wildcats on to victory.

The excellent synchronization of nearly 1000 gesturing hands amazes spectators.

Under the expert guidance of coach Walter Cross, our Wildcat cross country team had another successful season. Led by the record-breaking pace of David Wright, the Kats gave fine performances throughout the campaign. Against Muncie South, Wright set a Kokomo course record of 10:06, and later he ran to individual championships in the NCC and sectional meets. Wright's main backers around the two-mile track were seniors Ricke Stucker and Joe Cantu, sophomore David Frayer, and junior David Killingbeck.

Our magnificent Wildcat grid team made football history, compiling a perfect 10-0-0 slate, the best record among major-ranked schools. Guards Tom Gaddy and Mike Smith, ends Paul Grant and Tom Hilligoss, tackle Harold Canaday, and halfback Rick Hutchins were placed on the All-State teams.

The Kats opened their season with an impressive showing at the Anderson Jamboree, racking up thirty-one points and surrendering only one touchdown. They then scored decisive victories against LaPorte and Lafayette Jeff.

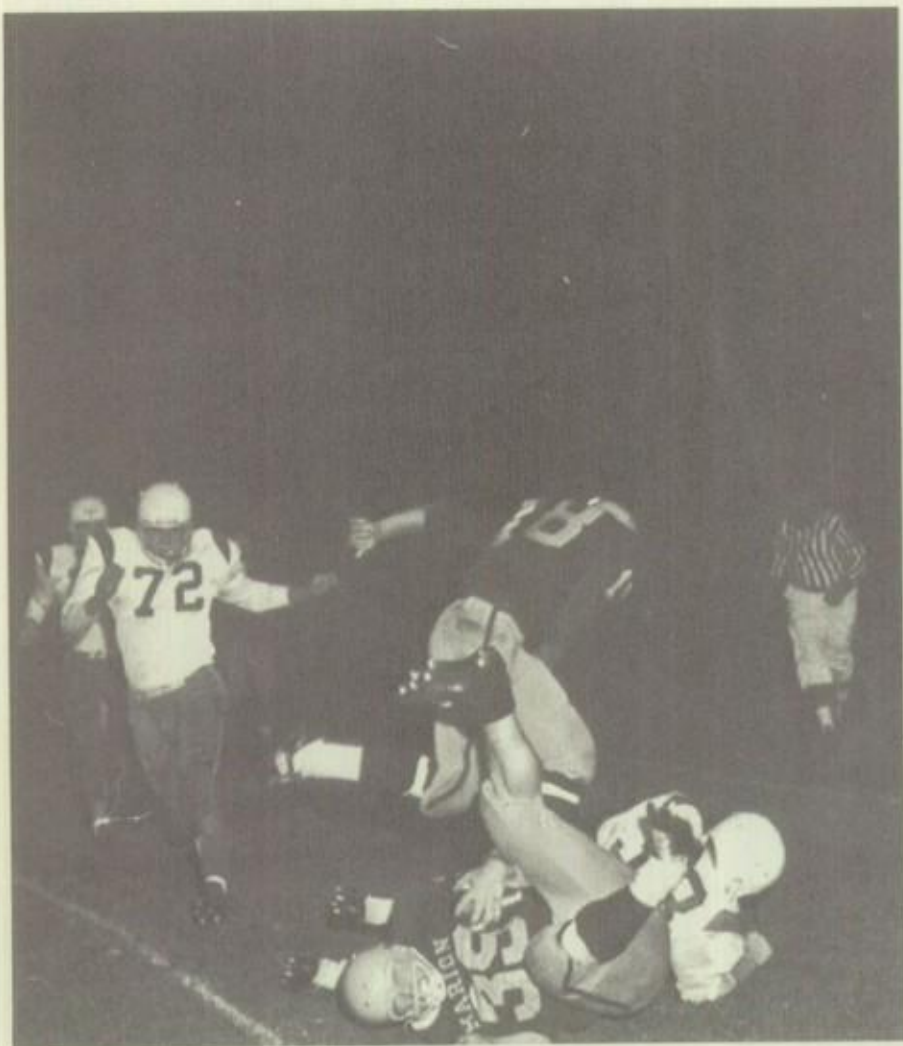

Kokomo's home debut was a rugged defensive victory over East Chicago Washington. The gridmen then defeated Frankfort with Hutchins and Patchett combining to grind out over 280 yards. Logansport put up a battle, but the Kats conquered the Berries with the help of Artie Branch's 80-yard touchdown jaunt. Marion was next to fall as the passing of Steve Jones and the charging of Rick Hutchins paced the attack.

Tech had the Kats tied going into the fourth quarter, but the passing of Willard Rice sealed the victory. Then Raleigh Grady and Branch helped over-power New Haven.

New Castle appeared stubborn in the first half, but K-town bagged the victory. The Kats closed their season with an impressive triumph over rugged northern foe Hobart.

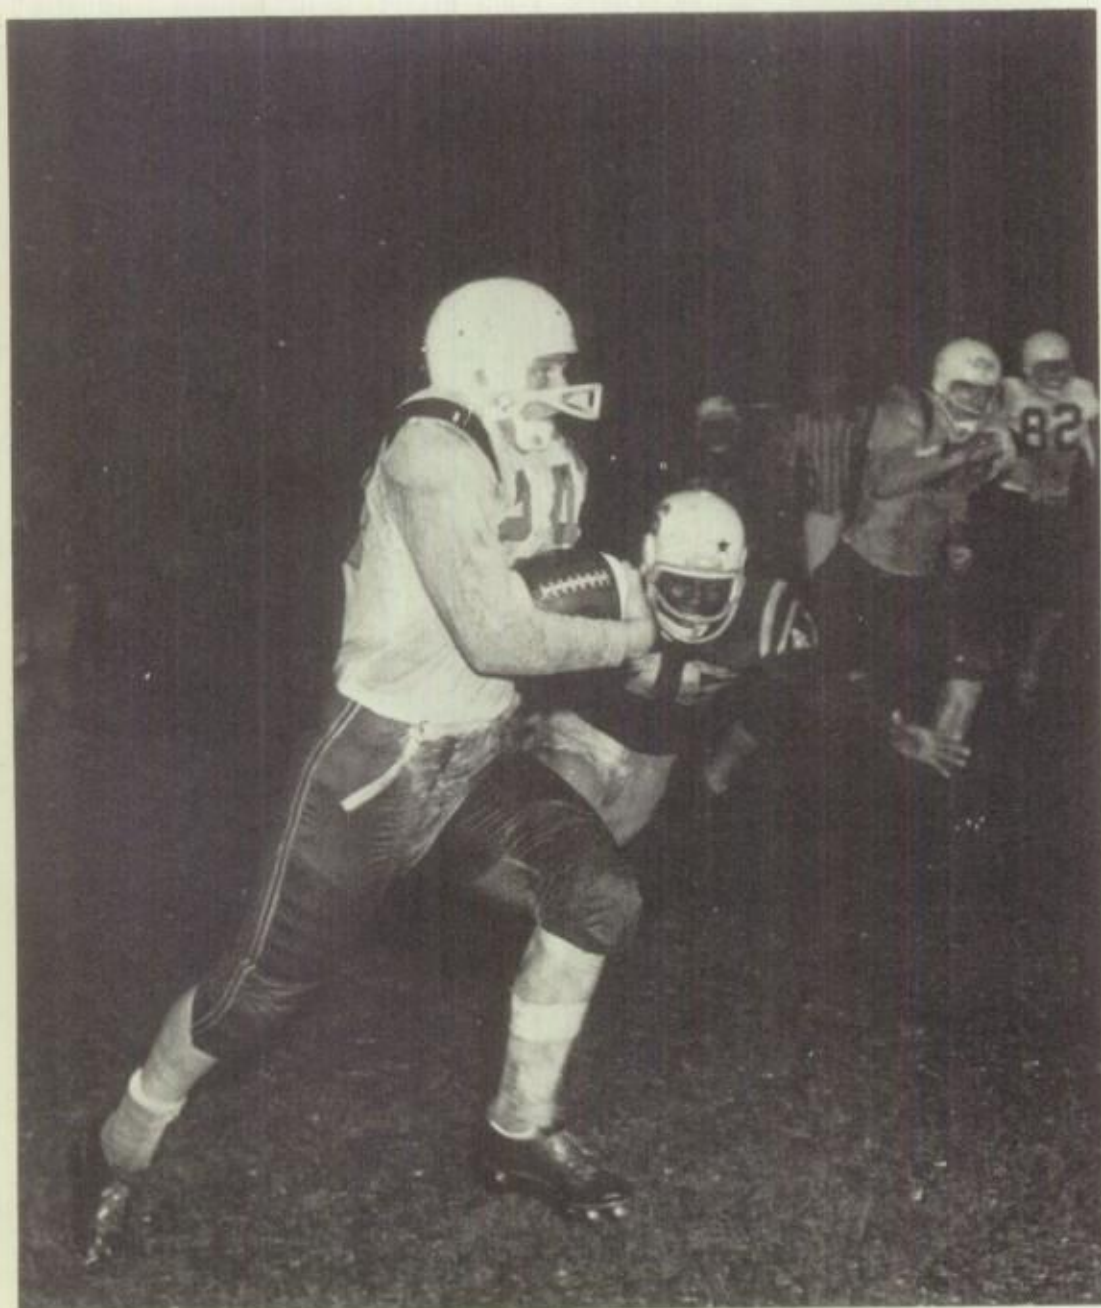

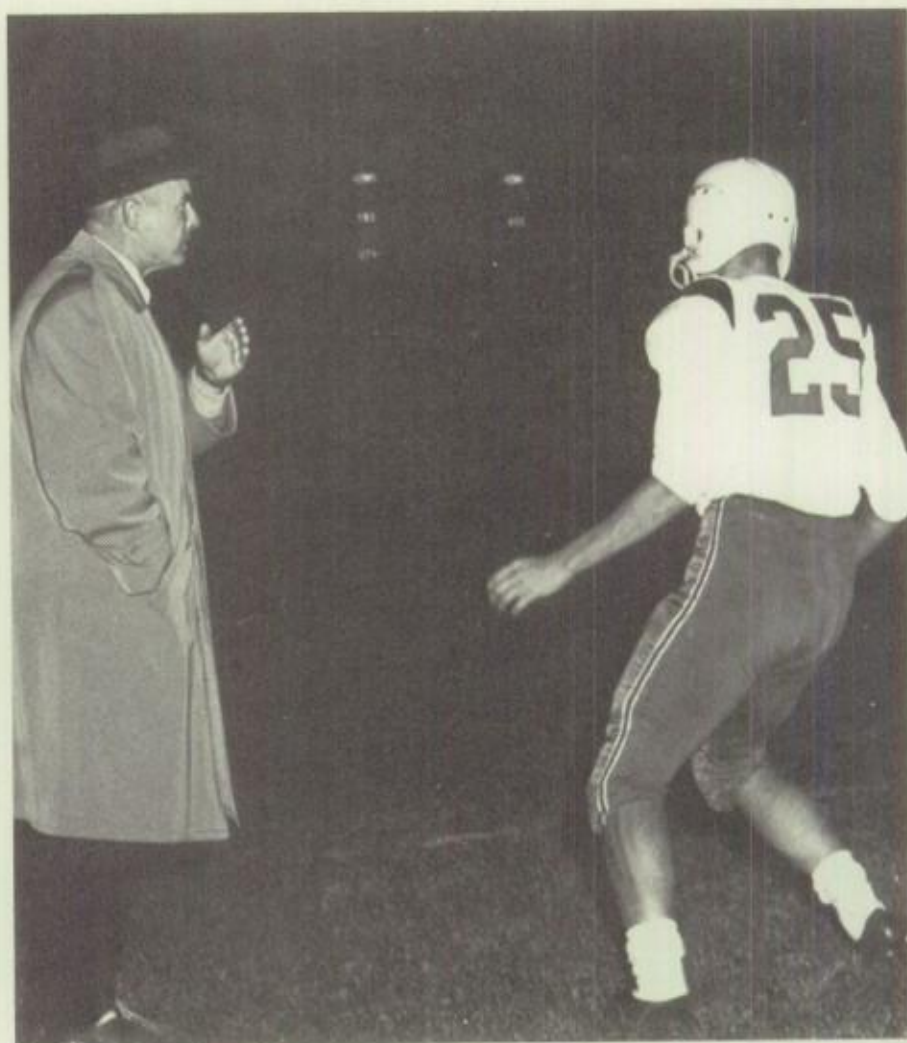

Tom Gaddy leads Artie Branch through the New Haven defense.

An attempted gain is halted by Greg Bailey, defensive halfback.

Gridders Struggle Through Rugged Season

In contrast to the sparkling varsity season, the Wildcat reserve football team suffered one of its worst years. The final season record showed two wins and four losses. The Kub Kats had the spirit on the gridiron, but an overall lack of size seemed to provide the fatal difference. Although the 2-4 record was a disappointment, there were sporadic bright spots throughout the season.

The Marion Giant reserves, twice belted by Kokomo, proved to be the Kats' favorite opponents. On the other hand, the Kubs received two shellackings from a fine, undefeated Lafayette Jeff team.

The reserves started the season rolling with a strong passing attack led by sophomore star Willard Rice. With his potential, Rice soon moved up to varsity, and Fred Meyers took over at the helm to employ a running, ball control offense.

Speedster Roger Tudor led the reserve team in scoring and ground-gaining, closely followed by Bill Hect. The Kubs displayed diversity and spirit on the field, with some stalwarts, notably Jim Crable, Gary Lietz, Jim Campbell, and Jeff Loop playing both offense and defense. The year of training prepared the boys for varsity.

The 1964-65 reserve basketball squaa compiled a fine record despite their lack of height. Showing potential on the boards, the varsity hopefuls opened their season with five consecutive victories. After defeating Sheridan, Maconoquah, Ross-ville, and Lafayette Jeff, the reserves took North Central in a nip-and-tuck, one-point affair. In their next two encounters the Kub Kats had their record scratched by the reserve teams of Marion and South Bend Central. Bouncing back, the Kubs claimed victory in a lively showing against Fort Wayne North, then went on to finish another successful season.

The KHS cagers traveled a rocky road in the '64-'65 season, but they began and ended the journey in victory.

Off and running in the first weeks of the season, the Kats racked up a seven-game winning streak culminating in victories over the rugged Giants of Marion and the Bears of South Bend Central. Then, however, the team fell into a devastating mid-season slump. Fort Wayne North, Anderson, and Elkhart profited as the hapless Kats lost three toughies in a row.

Victories over NCC foes Logansport and Frankfort fired some of the old enthusiasm back into the Wildcats, but they still remained in a slump. The Senators of East Chicago Washington spoiled Kokomo's come-back dreams with a resounding victory over our netters.

Still not playing their best ball, the Wildcats defeated Richmond and Peru but lost to Anderson, Muncie Central, and Indianapolis Tech. Coach Les Ray seemed to find the right combination in the second half of the Tech game, and the Kats began to climb back to the path of victory. Their effort and enthusiasm grew as Kokomo soundly defeated Southport and tough New Castle to end the season with a good record of thirteen wins and seven losses.

The referee signals a pin for Harry McKinstry, undefeated in the 1965 season.

Under the close supervision of Coach Bob Hamilton, Kokomo's mighty wrestling team completed an outstanding season of seven wins and two losses.

After placing second in the four-team tourney and taking losses from Southport and North Central, the matmen rebounded, taking their last three matches by convincing margins.

KHS won the NCC in wrestling for the first time and had four individual winners in Chuck Cone, who remained undefeated after three years; Harry McKinstry; and Sylvester Rowan and Gary Weir, who both had undefeated senior years.

Three-year State champ Chuck Cone pins his 61st consecutive opponent.

Splashing and diving into the water, this group of female swimmers looked like any other, until they began a routine of synchronized swimming! Then, with grace and deceiving ease, the Kips created a beautiful ballet in water.

A Kip neophyte might have had dreams of "water, water, everywhere" after practicing to gain membership. Through several workshops she had learned what stunts were required. These stunts—the front dive, surface dive, back dolphin, back and front tuck somersaults, and several swimming strokes—then were performed before judges. Those who qualified eventually got to perform in the Kips water show.

Kokomo High School's hard-working swim team proved that intensive training pays off. The Kats' season was highlighted by sparkling performances in the big meets and an impressive string of thirty-four dual-meet victories. The Kats copped top honors in the Columbus Relays, North Central Conference Meet, Burris Invitational, and sectional, and grabbed the runner-up spot in the state meet.

The tankers were paced by many outstanding individual swimmers and two polished relay teams. Junior speedster Pat Kubly led the Kat competition in the state meet where he captured both the 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard backstroke in record-breaking times.

Mr. Turner, coach; Bob Maudlin, mgr.; Chuck Cline, Steve Healy, Frank Bellamy, Ron Mullen, Dave Dowden, Bill Conaway.

Sporting a new head coach, Mr. Gene Turner, the baseballers of KHS again came up with a winning season, showing a record of nine wins and eight losses. A veteran infield was the mainstay of the Kats' defense, while many "big sticks" returned to score in support of the offense.

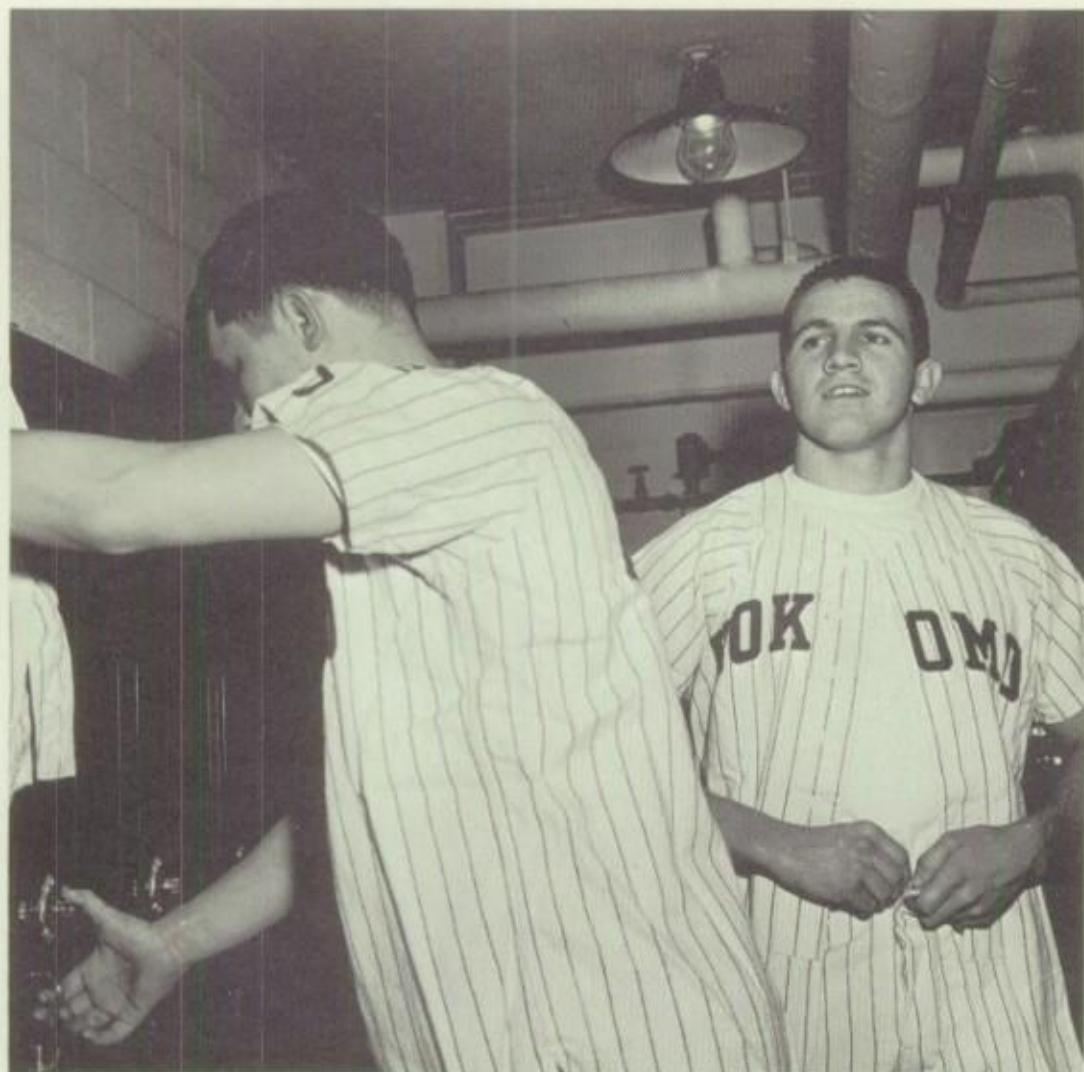

With Stan Kucholic, Larry Schleeter, Dave Gregory, and Greg Lucas playing the infield, the Kats were tough to stop. They were not lacking on the mound either, though Bill Conaway carried the biggest load, pitching a no-hitter in the Logansport tournament and a one-hitter during the regular season. Steve Healy caught for the Kats, receiving help from Mike Smith and Ron Mullen.

At the plate the Kats had many who could get the big hit. An outstanding player in this field was Greg Lucas, who hit over .400 for the season. Mike Smith, Dwayne Richmond, and Ron Mullen also helped to boost the season's scores by batting home runs.

The Kats won their first two contests over Carmel and Noblesville, but in the following series lost two conference games to Logansport and Anderson. Of three games with Lafayette Catholic the club won only one, but took important conference wins over Lafayette Jeff, North Central, Marion, and tough Richmond. Counting a final win over Frankfort, the Kats finished third in the Conference.

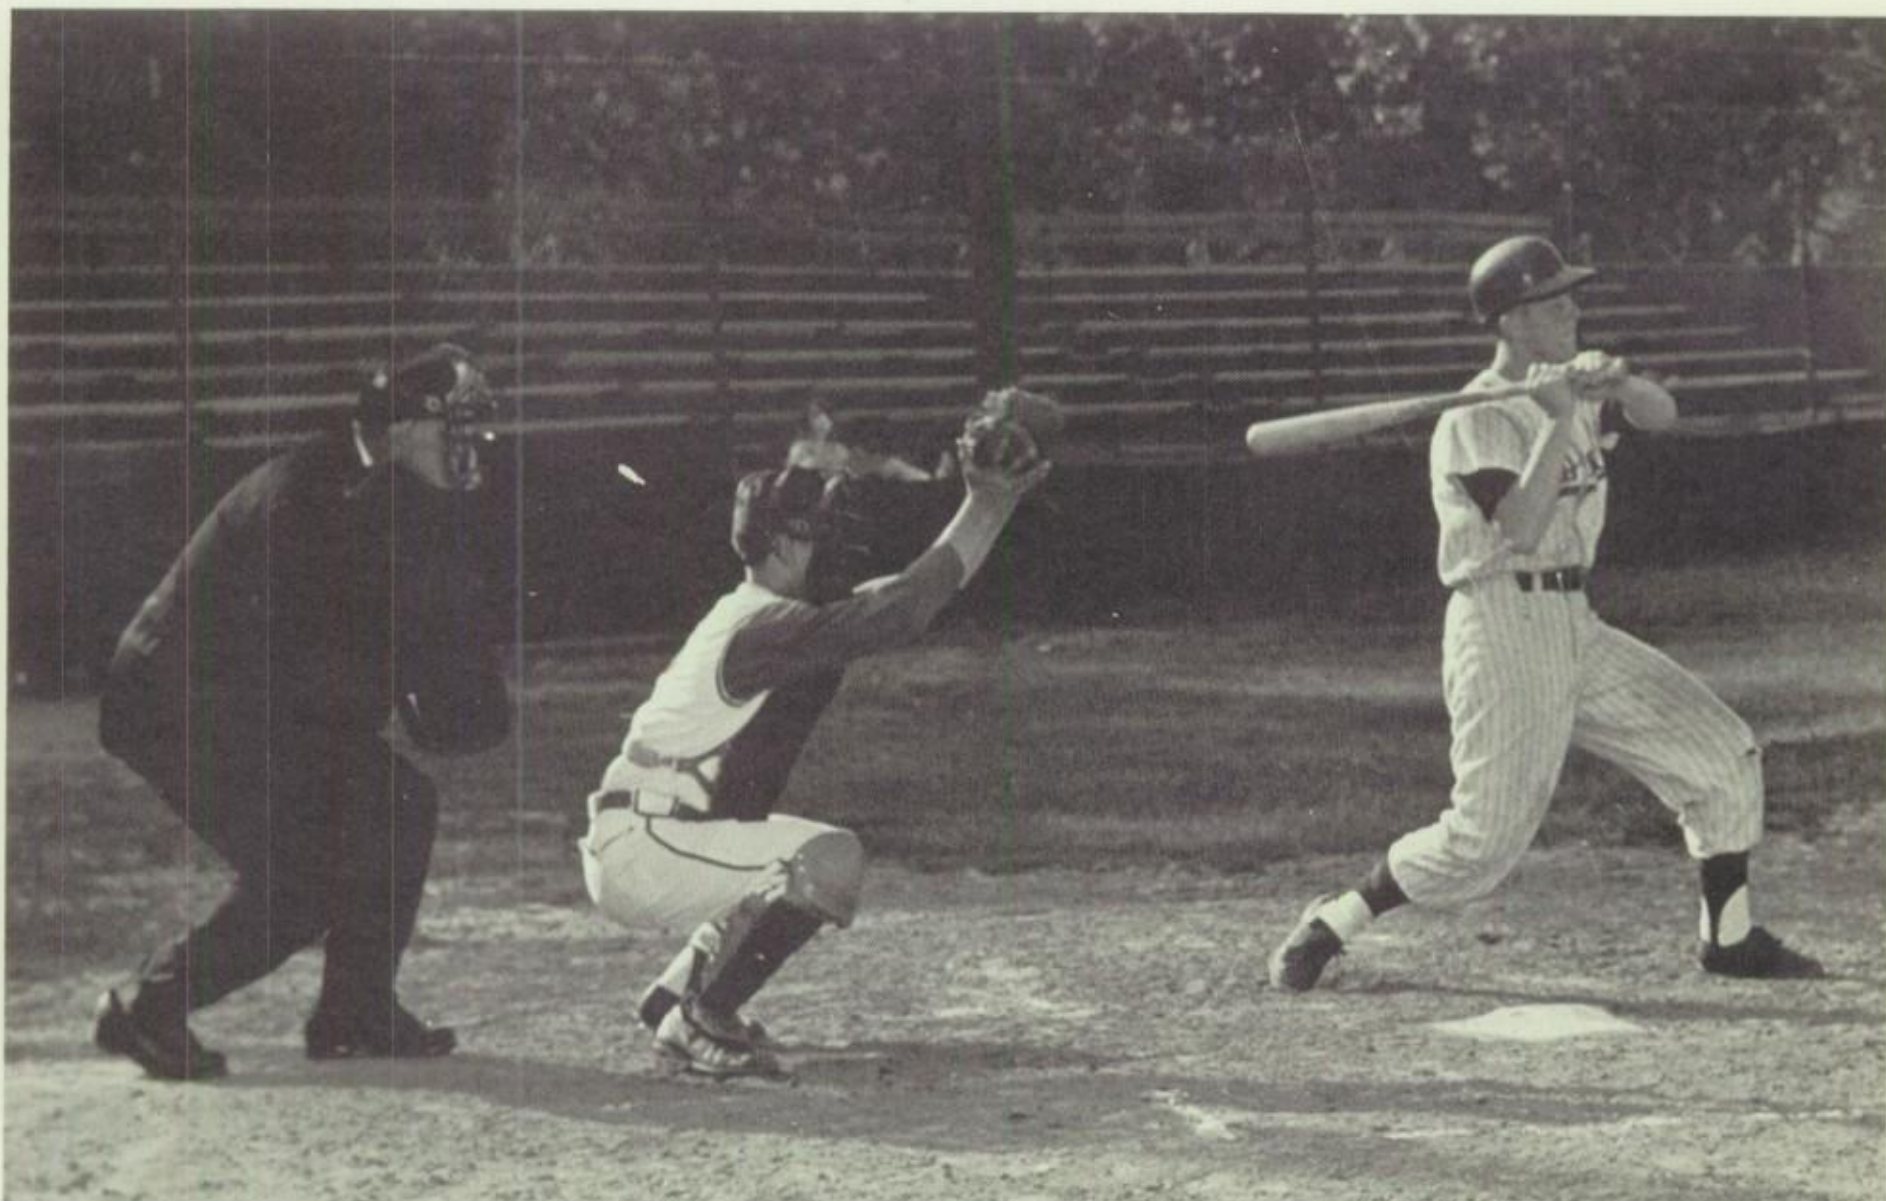

Mike Smith races to beat the throw to first.

"Snap" went the tape as the 1964 Wildcat thinlies roared down the stretch. Hampered by bad luck early in the season, the Kats compiled a 4-3 dual meet record.

The season began with a 57-52 setback to Marion and the loss of a cliff-hanger to Ft. Wayne South. The Kats rallied forces and swamped the Tipton Blue Devils in record-breaking style but then fell to Noblesville.

The Wildcats captured third at the Notre Dame indoor meet and second place at the Muncie Relays. Then the team started a stretch drive to many surprises and upsets.

Our thinlies nudged out Anderson for the Class A title of the 39th annual Kokomo Relays. In the NCC they finished second to Richmond, then tuned up for the Sectional with an 83-26 victory over North Central. The Kats over-powered everyone to defend their sectional title with an impressive victory at Logansport.

The following week the Kats pulled a shocking upset by winning the Ft. Wayne Regional and qualifying seven individuals and the mile relay team for the state meet. The mile relay team of Mike Kilmer, Ken Frier, Dave Wright, and Jim Fennell set a school and regional record of 3:25.1. The next week the team grabbed sixth place in the state meet with Tom Hilligoss winning and Dan Bates clinching fourth place in shotput, Steve Jones picking up a fourth in the pole vault competition, and Dave Wright finishing second in the half-mile.

Dave Wright, state runner-up half-miler, chugs in for another victory.

Tom Clark finds that being talented in putting is a requisite of the good golfer.

This year for the fifth straight time the Wildcat linksmen won the NCC golf cup. Complementing the conference title, Kat swingers copped third in sectional and state tourneys. The ribbon on this year's golf package reads, "Ten victories, three defeats, two ties, and an average score of 307." The linksmen shot an all-time low gross score of 291.

Inexperience Takes Toll on Kat Net Record

SECOND ROW: Dan Simmons, Dave Seitz, Ron Shelton, Tom Golper. THIRD

Strengthened by two returning lettermen, the 1964 Kokomo netmen under Coach Hamilton compiled a mediocre 3-7 dual meet record, but gained valuable experience.

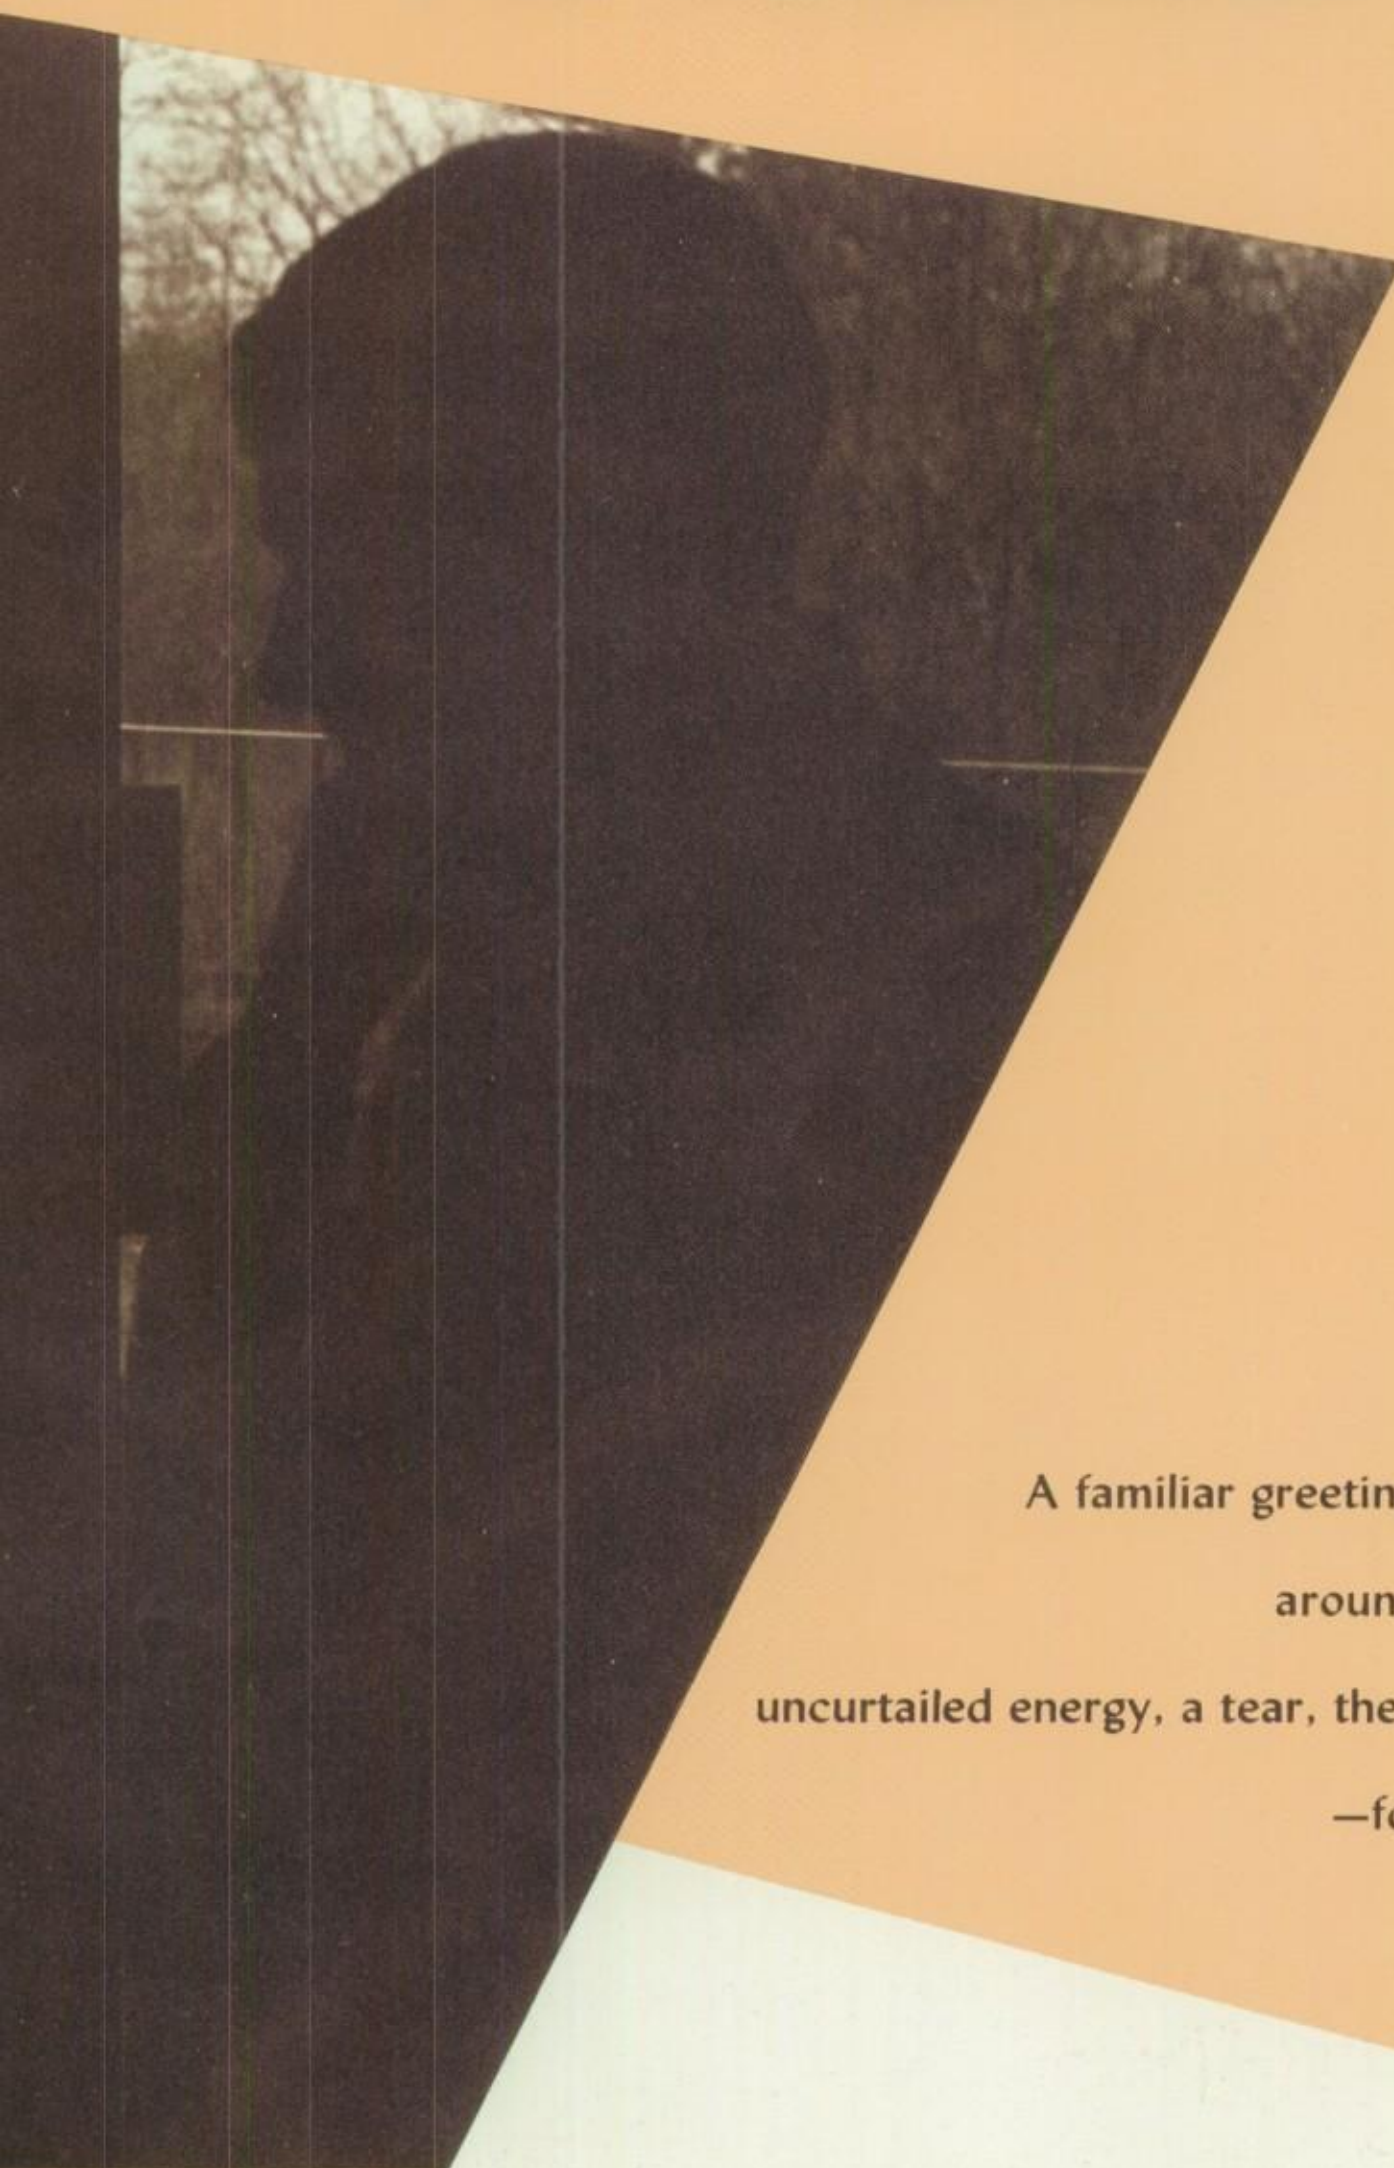

The record showed many close matches as the Kats grabbed a tie for fifth in NCC competition. Their best showing was a tie for second in the Muncie Burriss individual meet.

Tom Golper returns another smashing serve during a hard-fought match.

THE MEMORABLE

A familiar greeting or a special confidence around a crowded lunch table, uncurtailed energy, a tear, the rise and fall of laughter,
—food for young friendship.

The formality of an evening ball is broken by the casual conversation of a congenial pair.

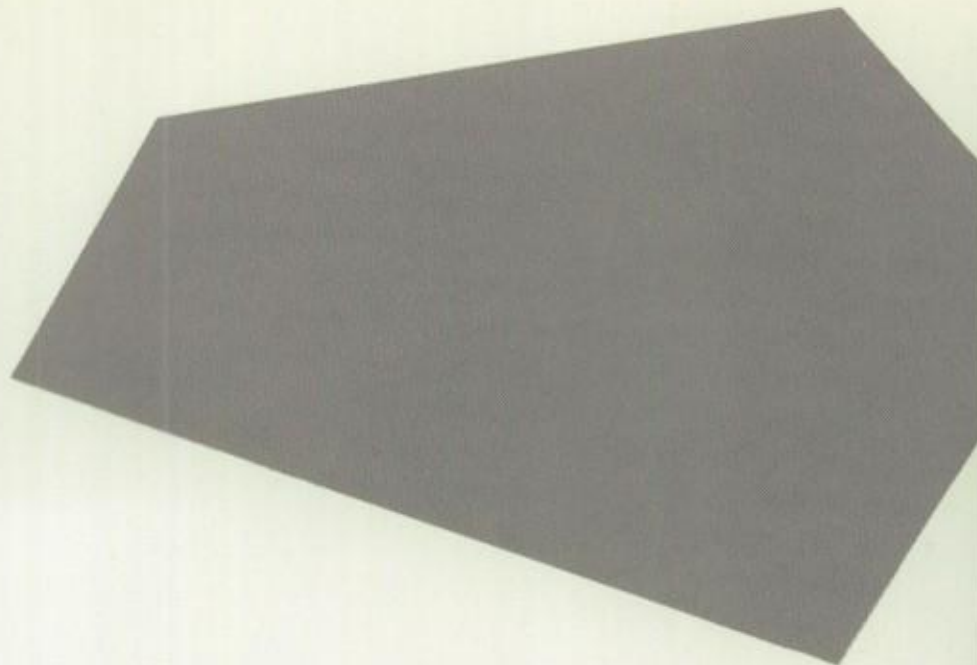

A riotous party, a quiet conversation
—American companionship;
An outstretched hand toward the needy, the dependent, the hopeless—expressions of purest friendship;
Each act of fellowship creating a precious memory.

Conducive to concentration, a soothing atmosphere surrounds a scholar.

The old goose seems to remember his mother's warning never to take food from a stranger.

Few can enjoy a hearty laugh more fully than party goers.

Winter walks occasionally prove soggier than planned.

Lively competition is an integral part of student recreation.

Animals are the source of much adventure and love.

During a summer institute, irreplaceable knowledge and memories are acquired.

Sizzling and glowing, a fire sets the perfect mood for companionship.

Calamity results as unlocked lockers are opened by Mr. Moore.

A small catch cannot impair the laughter of a sporting pair.

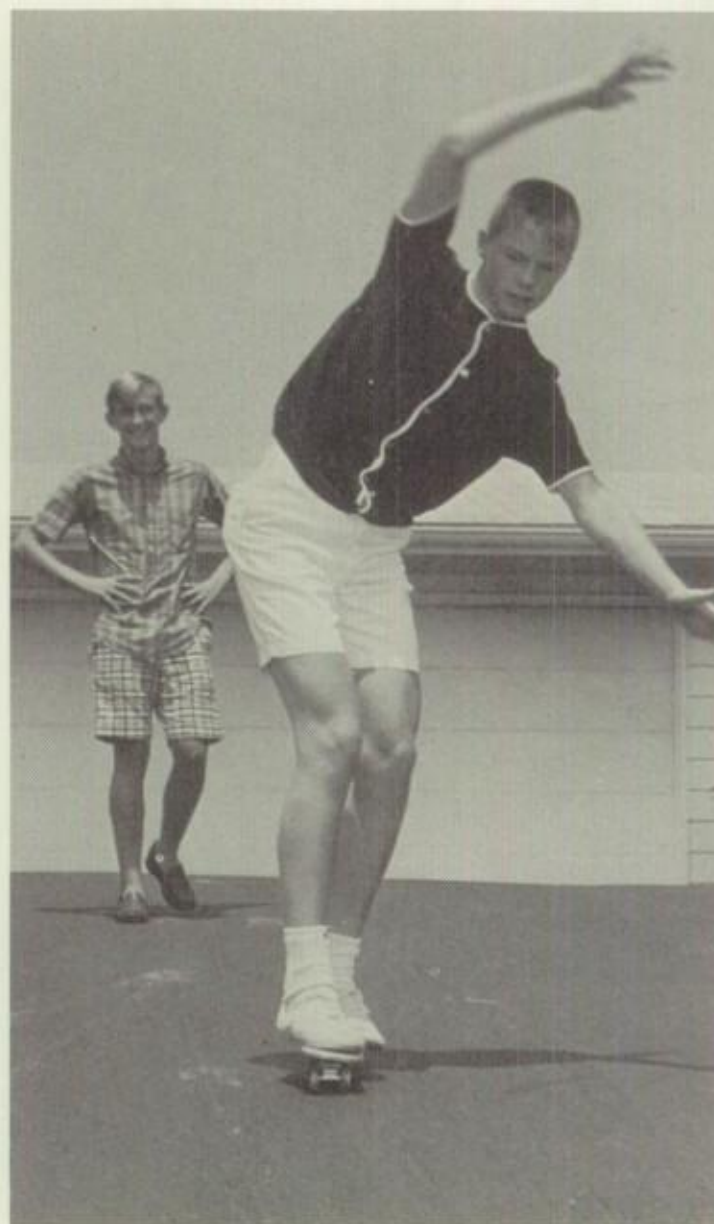

Sophomores Assume Problems of the Youngest

These Sophomore girls illustrate the practical as well as popular side of fashion.

"Steeling themselves for the battle, they pushed open the massive doors and tiptoed into the cavernous halls. They saw only a flash of yellow before they were stretched senseless on the cold marble, and the hated song rang out, 'Seniors, seniors . . .'" Such "fairy tales" of the six-minute break at KHS were now aimed at the class of 1967, for as Russia's "ex-great leader," Khrushchev, faded into history, so did the freshman class at KHS, leaving its thankless role to the sophomores. These wary but enthusiastic newcomers met the challenge admirably in their madras, alligator boots, stacked heels or loafers, knee socks or no socks, and parkas, even daring those Seniors of '65 to "Come a Little Bit Closer."

Greg Mills supervises Les Helms as he begins his battle to conquer the skate board.

After an invigorating walk, there awaits a warm, glowing fireplace to welcome these chilled travelers.

Juniors Become at Home in KHS Halls and Glen Brunk's pony Silver, determined to go his own way, doesn't seem to realize that he is defying the authority of the Junior Class President.

When a member of the class of '66 asked, "Have I the Right" to pick a "Leader of the Pack" and a "Ringo?" he finally received a positive answer. Having now reached the junior year, this class chose class rings and class officers for the first time. Its members were now eligible to serve as representatives to Girls' State, Boys' State, and the Summers Abroad program of AFS.

As their courses became more specialized, the juniors began to take a serious look at the future. The world looked promising with the Peace Corps to aid foreign lands, the War on Poverty to aid America's poor, and the proposed repeal of the luxury tax to aid consumers. Yes, they looked forward to a bright future in our great land, but they also looked forward to the day they would take their honored places as the seniors of KHS. They were ready to use the experience and knowledge they had gained in their junior year.

Carrying out the duties of Junior Class officers, Penny Pitman, Secretary, and Dave Seitz, Treasurer, make plans for this year's Junior-Senior Reception.

Highlights of Memorable Events Are Recalled as Anxious to use her ice skates, Jacque Morgan, Senior Class treasurer, wishes that the ice would form.

"Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country," were the inspiring words of the man who began his administration as the members of the class of 1965 began their high school careers. Keeping his words in mind, these students entered the bustling new world of education and responsibility.

As freshmen they could not imagine what role they would play. Exploration of the possibilities of their high school world filled their time, while tests helped them understand their abilities and preferences for future careers. Activities, a vital part of their sophomore year, helped them to gain confidence in themselves and discover hidden talents. Advancement in all their endeavors provided stimulus for this lively set's last two years at KHS. As seniors, now seriously preparing themselves for college or jobs, they were the academic and social leaders of the school. Upon receiving their diplomas the class of '65 remembered John F. Kennedy's words. They felt they were now prepared to answer his plea.
